President's Message

“ Happily, this message marks the relaunch of our monthly Dog World magazine. The board has listened to the strong view of members that this magazine is important for our sporting organisation on a number of fronts. It will be leaner, and yes, there will be a $20 additional annual fee to help defray just some of the cost of publishing and posting the magazine. On the upside, I am delighted to welcome our new publications coordinator, Ms Barbara Cumming, who brings a wealth of publishing experience including her time more recently with the RACQ with their successful “ Road Ahead” magazine and other commercial publications.

Thanks to those members with building backgrounds who contacted me about providing voluntary professional assistance initially in the assessment of the caretaker's house. It is early days as yet but some options are emerging.

The house is in a prime position and with the removal of the fence and front shrubbery could be a showpiece in our lovely grounds. One option is for a domestic renovation and front building extension to take place to accommodate a library and/ or museum and well needed additional meeting rooms. This could well attract revenue from other organisations for booked functions and meetings. Alternatively the house could have necessary maintenance undertaken and be rented.

Another option would be an extension to the judges' training building or the use of a demountable in that location near the toy ring to accommodate the library.

To enable informed consultation with members, the Board has requested an architect, Mr Bud Brannigan, to prepare a concept or schematic proposal (costing $550) comprising a schematic floor plan and section, with nominal dimensions.

In due course I would like to see an information paper with options released to members for discussion and feedback on options and fundraising and grant opportunities.

It was great being a part of our gala weekend of June Specialty Shows, Ipswich Kennel Club International Shows and lure coursing. A bouquet to all the volunteers who made these events so successful. The grounds looked a picture. Sadly one downside was the wanton vandalism that occurred with a number of our toilets. Please be aware and report any incidents or suspicious behaviour to our grounds staff or show managers.

And in brief summary-

1. The new category of “community member” of DQ is progressing with a projected start date of 1 July.
2. The Board has agreed to an upcoming 3 month trial for the sale of alcohol by Boheme Events and Catering in a mobile facility on the Durack Grounds at our events. Boheme certifies complete compliance with all licensing and other requirements. DQ will receive 5% of net sales and it will be a useful trial option for DQ to decide whether or not to apply for a full liquor license.

Stay safe and remember to be kind to each other and to encourage our new members.

Ulla Greenwood.

BOARD NOTES JUNE 2019

DOGS QUEENSLAND LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Life Membership may be granted to any member of the Dogs Queensland who has rendered outstanding or special services to the Dogs Queensland. That person shall retain membership of the Dogs Queensland for their life unless otherwise determined by virtue of any exercise of disciplinary proceedings under the CCC(Q) Ltd Rules.

Any Affiliated Kennel Club or Financial Member may nominate any member for Life Membership. That person will have a minimum of fifteen (15) years continuous full membership of the Dogs Queensland and must have been a member of a Club or Clubs during that time. Such nominations are to include a citation, which provides the justification for the nomination. Citations for those Life Memberships awarded will be published in the Dog World magazine, and, where possible, presentations will be made at an appropriate function or event. The CCC(Q) Ltd Board of Directors will consider all nominations on their merit and with strict confidentiality.

The Board sees the grant of Life Membership as honouring a member who has been truly outstanding in his or her support of Canine Affairs, particularly beyond that of a single Club.

All nominations for 2019 Dogs Queensland Life Memberships should be received in the Dogs Queensland Office no later than Wednesday 17th July 2019.

MANDATORY WRITERS AT SHOWS

At the latest Board Meeting it was agreed that the provision of Writers at Shows become optional. It was agreed that a demonstration of the way it could work would be given at the 2019 PST Meeting on Monday 1st July. The Rules would be rewritten shortly in accordance with this decision by the Rules and Constitution Committee.

EXHIBITOR MULTI SHOW CATALOGUE

The provisions of Rule 43.1(1) were noted;

43.1 Conformation Exhibitions – the following shall apply:

(1) Unless the special permission of the CCCQ Ltd Board of Directors is obtained beforehand, for every Exhibition there shall be prepared a Catalogue of all exhibits and in the case of Conformation Exhibitions, shall list the breeds of exhibits in alphabetical order within each Group (which shall be the order of judging within each Group), provided that a Catalogue for an Exhibition to last more than one (1) day need not list the breeds of exhibits in alphabetical order. Each exhibit shall be allotted a number.

The Board agreed that Club's would be given a standing approval to produce Multi Show Catalogues. This would be discussed at the upcoming PST Meeting on Monday 1st July and referred to the Rules and Constitution Committee for drafting.

BREEDERS BREEDING MORE THAN 6 LITTERS PER ANNUM

It was resolved by the Board that for a 12 month trial period for litters received post 1 July, no surcharge would be placed on 7th litter onwards.

Amendment – Tenterfield Terrier Breed Standard

The National Breed Standards Coordination Group Chairperson, Marie Merchant that the Group has reviewed a request from the National Tenterfield Terrier Council (Australia) regarding an omission which occurred in their submission to amend their breed standard to include the colour blue which was approved at the October 2015 ANKC Board meeting. The Group agrees with the NTTCA that the Head & Skull section of the standard should also have been amended to include the colour blue for consistency purposes and as a result the breed standard on our website will be amended as follows:

Head & Skull currently reads:

Medium sized head in proportion to body. The head is only slightly rounded from ear to ear. Domed or apple heads are highly undesirable. When viewed from the front and side, head is to be wedge shaped and well filled in under the eyes. The stop to be moderate and when measured from that point to occiput it equals the distance from the stop to the tip of the nose with parallel planes. The colour of the nose is preferably black, with the exception of liver which will have a liver nose. There should be strength in the muzzle.

If litter registration limitations are approved for the Minimum Breeding Age for Labrador Retriever bitches, breeders of litters whelped on or after 1st June, 2020, will be required to comply with the requirements as a prerequisite to registration of any litter on the ANKC Ltd Main Register. Litters which do not meet the above requirements will only be able to be placed on the Limited Register and will be flagged not to be upgraded.

WestVETS offers a house call service for your family pet

It is clear that mobile services are in increasing demand in many industries, not just the veterinary industry. Everyone is busy and getting your pet to the vet can be difficult. At WestVETS we have expanded our services to include house visits for family pets to complement our two fully equipped small animal veterinary hospitals at Anstead and Marburg. We have always done house calls as our equine services have meant that our vets are always on the road, but we have increased the range of services we can provide with a dedicated small animal vehicle and ensured our pricing remains competitive.

We expect that the main interest in this service will be the likes of people with large dogs, multiple pets or fearful patients where the exercise of getting them too us can be stressful for everyone. We also understand that parents with young children often struggle to juggle pets and the kids all at once.

Whilst there are many things we can do in the home environments, there are obviously conditions which are best managed in the hospital environment. We have fitted our van with a purpose built, crash tested Variocage to transport our patients in air-conditioned comfort. This means we can offer full hospital services including diagnostic radiographs, and ultrasound, comprehensive laboratory services and surgery from routine desexings and dentistry to orthopaedic surgery for those who otherwise couldn't bring their pets to us.

If you have any questions about our Door to Paw Family Pet House Call Service, please call us on 3202 7300 or 5464 4422

SHOW TIME!

Over the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th of June, Durack was a spectacle to behold with the grounds utilized to capacity hosting the Ipswich Kennel Club shows, fifteen Specialty Shows and lure coursing. Even the camping sites were at capacity. The weekend saw many shows receiving growing numbers of entries, which is a very positive sign.

A huge thank you to all of the show managers, judges, stewards, writers, canteen workers and volunteers who made the weekend such a great success.

Congratulations to all of the winners and place getters across all of the shows.

Our pictorial spread is in celebration of the event which we hope you enjoy.

DOG PORTRAITS

By Ilya

An artist from Russia

My name is Ilya Zheltov and I was born in the small port town of Korsakov, located on Sakhalin Island in Far East Russia. After completing my secondary education, I graduated from art school. At that time in my life I didn't think of becoming a professional artist. I went on to complete an Engineering and Technical Drawing degree from university and was later employed in various jobs that were not related to my profession but gave me money for living.

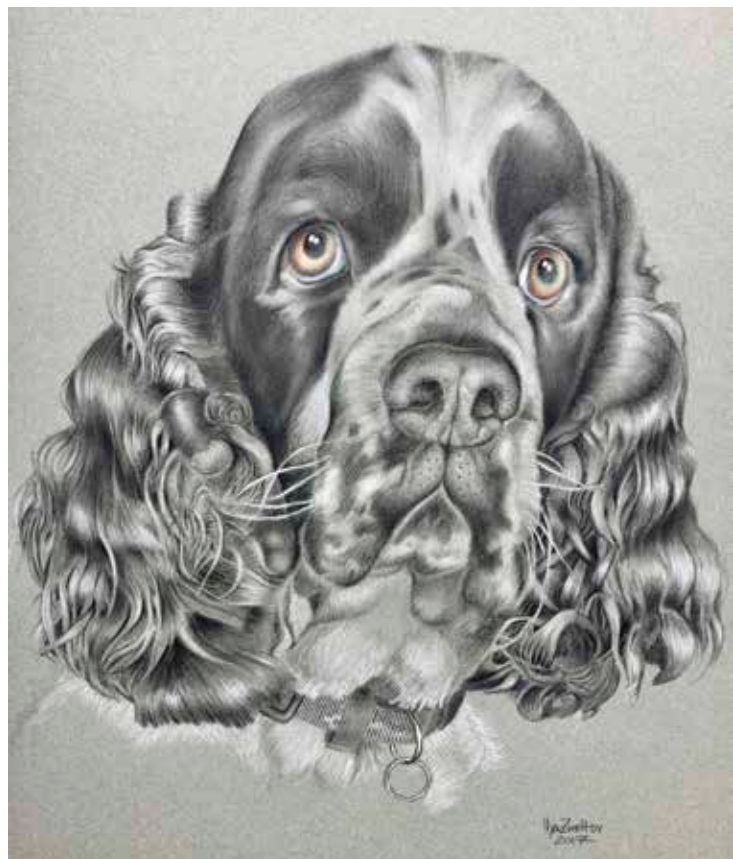

I then realised it was time for change and I really wanted to find something that would bring me personal and professional satisfaction. My interest in interior design included a fascination with spacial formation using simple techniques and smart space planning. In 2007 I also graduated from the Moscow International Design School and came home to pursue a new career path.

While my art skills gave me the ability to easily picture what can be done with space and play with different colour schemes, it was my abstract thinking and technical drawing skills that aided my sketching and drawing. I felt like everything was coming to a perfect balance and I was finally doing what I really enjoyed.

I then moved to Australia and was unable to find employment as an interior designer.

One day I was going through the family photo album and recalling the memories of my childhood. It was then that I felt the urge to paint and draw again. I started doing lots of sketches, watching online tutorials and attending art classes. Art consumed me and I drew for 12 hours a day to master the skill.

Drawing portraits became my passion and a couple of years ago I added dog portraits to my collection. For many of us, dogs are family members and I am constantly surprised by how much wisdom and love can be seen in their eyes.

New laser fiberoptic technology for correcting Brachycephalic Airways Syndrome.

We have heard too often how Brachycephalic dog breeds die during periods of high temperatures, in transit at airports and while heavily pregnant. This article is about educating dog owners that when the animals show clinical signs the trachea (wind pipe) is starting to collapse and death is inevitable. Prior awareness and treatment can prevent this happening. These breeds include French Bull terriers, Pugs and Australian and English bulldogs. So, what is Brachycephalic Airways Syndrome (BAS) vgy7?

Brachycephalic Airways Syndrome (BAS) refers to a group of primary and secondary abnormalities that result in upper airway obstruction. Primary abnormalities cause an increase in negative pressure within the upper airways that can eventually lead to secondary abnormalities.

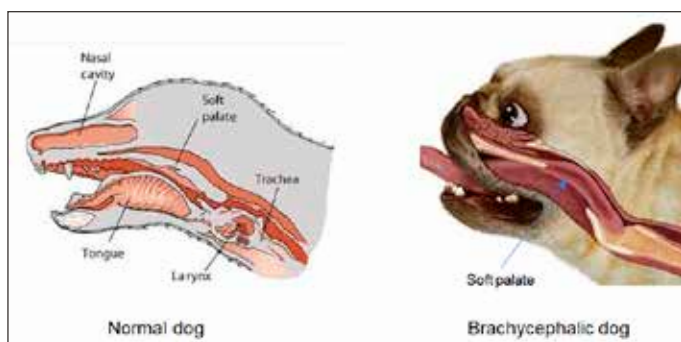

Any tissue that obstructs the airway lumen is a source of resistance. According to the laws of physics, resistance in a single tube is inversely related to the radius raised to the fourth power. For example, if an airway is 50% obstructed it is 16x harder to breath.

Primary abnormalities in Brachycephalic breed are:

- Stenotic nares (Left) (R nares has been operated on)

- Elongated soft palate

- Hypoplastic trachea (narrow trachea)

Secondary abnormalities that result from these primary abnormalities are:

1. Everted laryngeal sacculles
2. Everted tonsils
3. Pharyngeal and soft palate edema.
4. Laryngeal, tracheal collapse and death.

Clinical signs of Brachycephalic Airway Disease

- Stertor and /or stridor
- Inspiratory dyspnea
- Increased respiratory effort
- Exercise intolerance
- Vomiting/regurgitation
- Salivation
- Syncope (severe cases).

Dogs unlike humans do not sweat and can only reduce core body temperature by panting.

Excessive turbulent airflow due to panting leads to the clinical signs of BAS.

What can we do?

Puppies with stenotic nares can benefit big time from rhinoplasty (nares surgery) at 3-4 months of age and can help avoid progression to secondary changes such as everted laryngeal sacculles or laryngeal collapse.

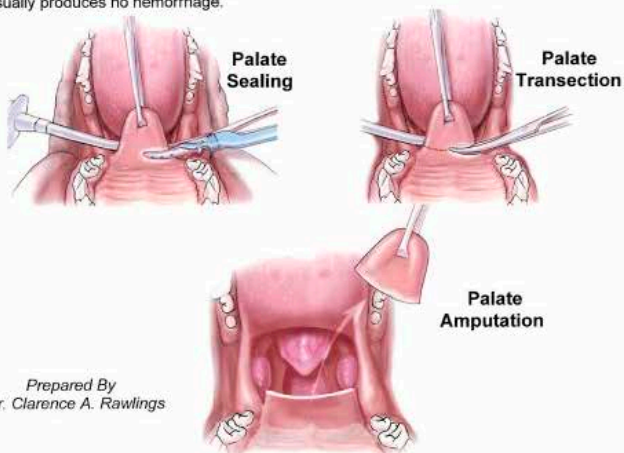

Soft palate surgery is normally done when these dogs are 9-12 months of life or earlier if clinical signs warrant it. While the soft palate surgery is performed the everted laryngeal sacculae's and tonsils are surgically corrected if required.

New Surgical Amputation Technique for Elongated Soft Palate Bulldogs and Other Brachiocephalic Dogs

These dogs frequently have such severe problems of inhaling air that they develop dyspnea (difficult breathing in air). In addition to noisy breathing and snoring, dyspnea can reduce the dog's ability to breathe and exercise, result in stunted growth, or produce heat strokes. Some dogs develop nasal discharge or repeatedly regurgitate food. If any of these signs develop, these dogs must be examined by a veterinarian. Complete examination usually requires anesthesia for a thorough laryngeal exam.

The most common obstruction is a long soft palate. The excessive length interferes with air going into the larynx (glottis). Correction of the long soft palate is by amputation. The newest technique is using a Ligasure or Force Triad sealer. This requires only a minute to perform, produces minimal injury to tissues near the amputation, leaves no suture, and usually produces no hemorrhage.

Prepared By
Dr. Clarence A. Rawlings

The use of laser fiberoptic surgery has resulted in this procedure being done without the complications of bleeding and post-operative swelling.

The equipment is very expensive but since our purchase we have managed to improve the quality of life for many of these brachycephalic breeds. We strongly recommend any suspect BAS cases to have the surgery done.

COPROPHAGIA

Dog Breeding Guide, Royal Canin SAS

Coprophagia describes a condition where a dog may ingest their own faeces, the faeces of another dog or even another animal. Coprophagia is usually more troublesome for pet owners, than it is harmful to the dog. Coprophagia can be a behavioural issue but may also occur with numerous medical problems. Medical problems must be first ruled out before a purely behavioural diagnosis can be made.

Why is my dog consuming faeces?

Coprophagia can be a normal behaviour especially in nursing bitches to keep the puppies and the den clean. Puppies may also ingest their own faeces, presumably to help establish gut flora. Outside of these two circumstances, coprophagia is not a normal behaviour and may be associated with a poor diet, a medical condition and/or a behavioural issue.

As there can be numerous causes for coprophagia, it is important to consult your veterinarian. At a minimum your veterinarian may perform a physical and faecal examination on your dog. Faecal examinations are important to assess for parasites but may also provide clues of a digestive issue in your dog (e.g. undigested nutrients such as fats, may be discovered on faecal examination). Any circumstance that alters the way food is digested and how nutrients are absorbed can lead to coprophagia. For example, internal parasites that reside in the bowel interfere with digestion and reduce nutrient absorption. Roundworms, hookworms, whipworms and Giardia are parasites frequently found in faecal examinations at kennels where coprophagia is confirmed. If multiple dogs are affected in a kennel environment, mixing faecal samples from several dogs will increase the probability of identifying the parasites involved.

Medical issues relating to the pancreas or gastrointestinal tract can affect the digestion of food and have been associated with coprophagia. Your veterinarian may want to perform further tests to assess their function.

Behavioural problems

Coprophagia has been associated with many behavioural issues including but not limited to attention seeking behaviour, anxiety, lack of enrichment, environmental stress and as a learned behaviour from another dog in the household who is coprophagic.

Feeding habits can play a role too. Heavily restricted food rations in dogs on weight loss programs may result in the consumption of a dog's own faeces driven by hunger. On the other hand, over eating may also drive coprophagia. A good example is where several dogs are fed at the same time in a kennel environment. The competition at feeding time can speed up ingestion and in some dogs could result in the overconsumption of food. Too much food eaten quickly can accelerate the movement of food through the bowel, leading to the poor assimilation of nutrients.

Consequently, undigested nutrients can be found in the faeces and may make the faecal matter more palatable to the dog.

Stress, related to kennel conditions or an external stressful event (e.g. a thunderstorm) can also initiate this behavioural problem.

What should I do if my dog is coprophagic?

It is imperative that you consult your veterinarian. Medical causes should always be identified and treated. If a medical cause is ruled out, your veterinarian will be able to suggest some behavioural strategies to help and may prescribe products that can be applied to the faeces for example, to help with taste aversion.

The behavioural strategies your veterinarian may suggest could be based around avoiding the opportunity for your dog to ingest faeces, redirecting your dog's attention or encourage teaching an alternate behaviour altogether. Your veterinarian will be able to advise what will work best for your dog. Ensure you speak to your veterinarian about ways to enrich your dogs environment to provide more stimulation throughout the day as this can be helpful.

Take home messages

Coprophagia is only considered a normal behaviour in nursing bitches and young puppies.

Coprophagia has been associated with medical causes relating to the pancreas and gastrointestinal system (e.g. intestinal parasites).

Numerous behavioural causes exist for coprophagia that are considered possible once a medical cause is ruled out.

Your veterinarian should always be consulted in the case of coprophagia. They will be able to identify and treat any medical causes and provide appropriate behavioural advice for your dog where necessary.
