Welcome to the January issue of the Queensland Dog World.

Volunteers

A large vote of thanks goes out to all the volunteers who attended the Durack Working Bee on Saturday 6th December. The amount of work that was achieved was truly remarkable. The Grounds Manager, Bob Dorr, made the statement that if it were not for all the Volunteer's efforts, it would have taken him weeks to achieve all that was accomplished in one day.

So as the saying goes 'many hands make light work' did seem to be proven as very accurate in this instance. There were some photographs taken of the Volunteer workforce on the day, unfortunately not all were present at that time, some were still travelling to and from the Council waste facility. A special thank you to Carolyn Pearen and the group of ladies for all your time and effort in preparing a BBQ lunch for all Volunteers which was very much appreciated by all who participated.

To the Volunteers who gave of their time, during the week leading up to the working bee, thank you, for your contribution which did not go unnoticed.

As Dogs Queensland is a volunteer based organisation, to see the amount of Members who willingly worked on this day again reaffirmed that Members will gladly help when help is needed.

Member in Zones 2 and 3

I do realise, that at times, it seems that because our Dog Queensland Sports Grounds is in the South East Region of Queensland, that we do use a considerable amount of finances in this area. Yes we do, as we own the grounds and the best way for me to explain is the following;

The Dog Queensland Sports Grounds is our Common Grounds to over 40 Specialty Clubs, 6 Group Clubs and over sixteen All Breeds Clubs, this is not including the Obedience, Agility, Rally-O Trials and Nationals Events that are also held there as well as Retrieving, Lure Coursing, Show Training, Judges Training and various Seminars. We have brought in a Common Grounds policy for both your Zones, which some Clubs are indeed taking part in.

It is not a matter of Dogs Queensland not wanting to help our Country Clubs and Members, but if Clubs are willing to co-operate in this program then Clubs and members from Zones 2 and 3 will have access to financial help in obtaining equipment etc for use with their Common Grounds.

I would also ask you to please bear in mind that the Committees such as the Grounds Committee etc do a lot of fund raising to off-set some of the costs at Durack and I am sure that your Clubs would also contribute to something along the same format.

Director's Applications

As the cut off date for all Director Applications is after the publication of the January Dog World Magazine, i.e. 6th January 2015, all resumes will be presented on the Dogs Queensland Website from 10th January 2015 as well as being printed in the February Edition of the Dog World Magazine. Please note that the Ballot itself concludes on Monday 16th March.

Members please ensure that you take the time to view all information, as this will help you make informed decisions when you fill out your Ballot Paper.

I wish all applicants the best of luck in their endeavour.

Notice to advertisers

The Trade Practices Act came into force on 1st October 1974. Certain provisions of the act relating to consumer protection place a heavy burden upon advertisers, advertising agents and the publishers of advertisements. In view of the obvious impossibility of our ensuring that advertisements submitted for publication comply with the act, advertisers themselves need to ensure that the provisions of the act are strictly complied with. In cases of doubt, advertisers are advised to seek legal advice before submitting advertising material.

Rules for the Conduct of Retrieving Trials for Gundogs - Correction

Please note we have been alerted by the National Retrieving and Field Trial Committee Chairperson of drafting errors which occurred in Rule 48 in the Rules for the Conduct of Retrieving Trials for Gundog as highlighted below.

- 48. No event at any Retrieving Trial up to and including a Restricted Stake shall be conducted unless there are at least four (4) bona fide exhibits and at least two (2) different owners. For an All Age Stake at least four (4) bona fide exhibits and at least four (4) different owners are required.

The word 'exhibits' was omitted after the words 'bona fide'.

Also in Rule 48 the number of required owners up to Restricted Stake was lowered however no mention was included that the status quo should remain for an All Age Stake.

The following words have been included at the end of Rule 48 to cover this omission:

'For an All Age Stake at least four bona fide exhibits and at least four different owners are required.'

We apologise for any inconvenience these errors may have caused and confirm the updated version of the rules are now available from the ANKC website at: <http://www.ankc.org.au/Rules.aspx>

Judging Neuter Classes.

All judges are reminded that when judging neuter classes, you are awarding points toward a Championship Title. The quality of the exhibits is to be assessed in the same way as when you are judging non neuter classes.

'Member Education' Classes.

This year our Committee will be conducting a series of 'Member Education' Classes. Exhibitors and prospective judges are encouraged to attend. Some of the subjects may include 'How to enter and prepare your dog'; 'What judges are looking for'; 'Basic Anatomy, Glossary of Terms'; 'Structure'; 'Gait and movement' and 'Interpreting Breed Standards'. Attendance at these 'classes' is likely to form part of entrance requirements for new trainees. More information on times etc will be published shortly.

Rule 217b – Effective - 1st January 2015.

The primary reason this rule was amended, was to allow for 'Extreme Weather' conditions. In addition, it creates uniformity within Australian States. However, the Conformation Judges Committee would expect that Open show judges do not 'shortlist' except in extreme weather conditions.

General Specials at All Breed Open Shows

General Specials at All Breed Open Shows effective the 1st of January 2015 (This applies to Night Shows only, held in conjunction with an All Breeds Championship Show). After the 1st of January 2015, no General Specials will be conducted at any All Breeds Open Show that is held at Night, in conjunction with an All Breeds Championship Show, a Night Show is any Open Show commencing after 3.00pm.

Group Coordinators.

Finally, a huge thank you to all of the group and regional coordinators. Last year we introduced a new critique requirement. Every one of you put in extra time to facilitate this. Thank you.

Des Strong LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Des became a member of Dogs Queensland in 1990, soon after becoming a member of Murrumba Dog Obedience Club {now Caboolture Sports Dog Obedience Club}. Des was introduced to the sport of Obedience Trialling at the Club and soon became hooked. This began an involvement at all levels which continue to this day.

Des also became heavily involved with the running of the Club becoming an Instructor and Committee Member. Des has also held the position of OIC of training, grounds co-ordinator and President. Des is the current President of the Caboolture Sports Dog Obedience Club

In 1992 there was interest by some Murrumba Members to form an Obedience Club in the Pine Rivers area. Des had a very large involvement in assisting these Members in forming the Pine Rivers Dog Obedience Club. This assistance included finding and setting up suitable training grounds by negotiating with the Pine Rivers Shire Council and also OIC of Training for the Club's inaugural training sessions. In 1997 the Murrumba Dog Obedience Club joined with five other Caboolture based sporting clubs to form the Caboolture Sports Club. The aim of this exercise was to provide a secure financial and stable future for all six clubs.

Des was one of two Murrumba members who represented the club in the huge amount of work involved in getting the Caboolture Sports Club up and running. In 1999 Des became the second Murrumba representative on the Sports Club Board and continues on the Board to this day. Des has been President/Chairman since 2005. As a result the now Caboolture Sports Dog Obedience Club is in a very sound financial position and has been able to provide regular sponsorships and donations to Dogs Queensland activities such as State and National Obedience Trials.

In 2001 the Caboolture Sports Dog Obedience Club moved to its own grounds at Devine Court Morayfield, this was only achieved by Des' persistence in negotiations with the then Caboolture Shire Council and hard work in getting the club house built, field lights installed and the grounds ready for use.

Des has long held a vision of the Caboolture Sports Dog Obedience Club being the best Obedience Club in Australia. Des is currently leading the Club through the next step in this vision with the recent signing of a lease for the use of the grounds next door to the existing grounds. The long term plan is to build a covered arena on these grounds to provide an all-weather training and trialling facility.

While Des has spent much of his time in getting the Caboolture Sports Dog Obedience Club to where it is today he has also been very successful with his Border Collies in the trial ring. Des and his wife Sandra have achieved success at all levels of Obedience, Tracking and Rally Obedience including several Obedience and Tracking Champions.

Des has used the knowledge and experience gained with this success in helping others with the training of their dogs. This assistance has not been limited to Club members but to numerous other Dogs Queensland members as well. This philosophy of helping others and giving back has also extended to the administrative side of our sport. Des is a member of the Queensland Dogs Sports Committee of Dogs Queensland. Des joined the Obedience Subcommittee in 2009. He is also on the Tracking Subcommittee and in 2010 became the chairman of the Rally Obedience Subcommittee.

Des has played a huge role in the successful introduction of Rally Obedience to Queensland with seminars, judges training and rules reviews/clarifications. Des is also a Tracking judge and a Rally Obedience judge. Until recently Des was also on the State Trials Working Party which among other activities conducts State and National Obedience Trials.

The Cairn Terrier

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Feature Breed supplied by George Ness

Origin

This Highland Terrier dates back into the misty past. Johannes Caines in his work 'English Dogges' published in 1576 makes reference to these vermin killing dogs.

The Cairn Terrier is a native of Scotland's storm swept Isle of Skye and the rugged west coast and hills of Argyllshire. No game keeper or crofter would be without his pack of working terriers. They were used to keep control of vermin such as stoats, rabbits, rats and one would even tackle the larger predators like badgers and foxes. The Cairn Terrier has indomitable courage and versatility. It is said that he helped the game keeper and crofter by day hunting the hill sides and in the evening sit by the fireside with the family. It can be seen that the Cairn Terrier has great affinity with people. Mrs Alastair Campbell who lived in Argyllshire pioneered the breed in the show ring.

They were first known as The Short Haired Skye. In 1910, when the breed was recognised by The English Kennel Club, who was the ruling body, decreed that they were to be known as The Cairn Terrier. There have been substantial modifications to the standard in 1916. Apart from a number of minor amendments it remained unchanged until 1982. At the insistence of the Kennel Club it was rewritten in a standard form as it remains today and has been accepted by the ANKC as the Standard of the Country of Origin.

Points of interest of the Cairn Terrier

The general appearance says it all:- agile, alert, of workman like natural appearance, standing well forward on forepaws, strong quarters, deep in rib, with a weather resistant coat, very free in movement. One of the most important word to remember when appraising a Cairn Terrier is Medium. The Cairn Terrier is free from any exaggerations. He is not an easy dog to show. Nervousness should not be confused with boredom. Exhibitors in Europe and the UK continually move their dog to keep their interest.

They should never present as a cardboard cut-out image but should display a readiness to move and keep a close eye on their surroundings. I have noticed some exhibitors are stripping head furnishings. This is a 'no-no' as the furnishings are important to the dog's well fare. If he starts to dig, and dig he will, the head furnishings keep the dirt out of the dog's eyes.

The Cairn Terrier has very long eyelashes which also help protect the eyes. The front feet do turn slightly out. This helps the dog to dig a hole wider than himself. He should not be too wide in front. A distance of four fingers width between the front legs is about right as a guide. The back is medium in length. The tail is about six inches in length, well furnished with hair and carried about sixty to ninety degrees.

The coat is very important. It should be weather resistant and double coated. That is a soft woolly undercoat and a profuse harsh outer coat but not coarse. It has been noticed that some exhibitors are stripping the body coat down short on the back and this is not to be tolerated. Remember, this coat has to protect him in his environment.

Colour

Cream, wheaten, red, grey or nearly black. Brindling in all these colours is acceptable. Not acceptable are solid black, white, or black and tan. Dark points such as ears and muzzle are very typical.

Movement

It should be free flowing with forelegs reaching well forward, the hind legs giving strong propulsion. Some exhibitors have a tendency to run when asked to move their dogs. This is not acceptable as the faster you move your dogs the centre of gravity changes and the dogs legs move closer together. The dog should only be moved at a fast walk. This will allow the Judge to assess movement of your Cairn Terrier correctly.

The Cairn Terrier is a fun loving dog and is a joy to own. He is free from most serious medical problems and his trips to the Vet are few.

With a wag of our tail

Written by Natalie Stewart

It is said we've evolved from the wild grey wolves
Well-travelled, quite social, not alone in the woods.
Whilst rivals with man for ungulate prey.
Tamed over time, with man we did stay.

Bred for tameness, physique and talented traits
Hunting, protecting, and tracking
With man we dogs found our place.

Our ancestors each had their role in life
For the Herders patrolled and cajoled else the stock be in strife.
Trackers for hours would follow a scent.
Earth dogs determined, worked the quarry hell-bent.

Field dogs cunningly sourced their game
Skill and good vision endorsing their claim.
Waterdogs hauled fish from ships to the shore.
The pride of all canines... they soldiered in War.

Detection Dogs, Security dogs with sharp ear, sight and smell
Heroic, courageous, keep us all safe and well.
Service dogs appointed to protect those in need
So attentive to people, always give heed.

Therapy dogs, yes, grant those defining sweet moments...
With social intelligence, can sense one's displeasure
Their love for 'all' people - they connect! They're our treasure.

Lap dogs they're small, thrive in good company
Keen to show off unique personalities.
Family dogs - so loyal, give all reason to smile
Their eye to eye contact - with love - is yours all the while.

Thanks to all who've raised us, your pet.
To the scientists, researchers and all of our vets.
The farmers and servicemen - we partnered in trust.
To volunteers in Rescues, Shelters, and all the Dog Clubs
With wagging tails, we eternally mirror your Love.

Leave us unbound, lets adventure together
With healthy alliance we retain our innate heritage forever.

The Portuguese Water Dog

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Feature Breed supplied by Audrey and John Best

Portuguese Water Dogs are unique in the working dog world because they were bred to work on small fishing boats in Portugal. With their human crew, they pulled and retrieved nets in the water, herded fish, dove down to eight feet to retrieve objects off the bottom, swam to other boats or to the shore to carry messages, guarded the boat and provided companionship to the crew. They were so prized for these tasks that they often earned their own shares of the proceeds of the catch.

Another trait that is found in today's Portuguese Water Dog that comes from their days on fishing boats is their ability to get along with humans and other dogs. A dog didn't last long on a small fishing boat if it had a tendency to fight or not follow commands. It was a long swim back to shore. The dog also had to be intelligent and high-spirited to survive on fishing boats. On board, the dogs had to act and think independently as the chaos of fishing in the open sea challenged both human and canine. Portuguese Water Dogs are great companion dogs if you want a dog that will pay attention and follow commands, thinks independently, is vocal and communicative and thrives on human contact and demands attention.

We often tell people that their Portuguese Water Dog is a 'Velcro dog'. By that, we mean that the dog will want to be with you every moment of the day that you allow it. They will be by your side watching carefully what you're doing, particularly as you work in the kitchen. A common trait of a Portuguese Water Dog with a family is to figure out where in the house they can sit and observe the maximum number of humans. They figure out your schedule very quickly and if you deviate from that schedule, for feeding for example, they will let you know that something is amiss.

Portuguese Water Dogs are not dogs who can be ignored or simply put out in the yard all day without human contact. They thrive and demand human attention and want to know what it is you want them to do. If you don't give a Portuguese Water Dog a task, they will find one to do on their own; not necessarily what you may want. We tell people that their Portuguese Water Dog will be ordering out for pizza if you don't give them enough to do.

Portuguese Water Dogs are very much like people and in most families are treated as such. Holiday cards often have the dogs featured equally along with grandchildren and other members of the family. Because Portuguese Water Dogs live relatively long; twelve to fifteen years, they grow up with the family and become an integral part of everything the family does. They want to be included.

One of the traits of a Portuguese Water Dog is to want to stand up with their paws on your chest when they greet you. This is not just excitement to see you again; they want to look into your eyes and see how you are doing. Stories of Portuguese Water Dogs showing empathy and adjusting their moods to your condition are legendary. They are one breed used extensively as therapy dogs because they understand what their job is and react to their humans accordingly.

Many of our owners take their dogs to work with them. The dogs love this. In some cases, physicians have their dogs stay in the waiting room of their clinic. The dog greets every new patient and makes the rounds to ensure that everyone is OK. The physicians have reported that the anxiety level of their patients goes down dramatically when their Portuguese Water Dog is on the job.

Children and other pets

Portuguese Water Dogs are regarded as one of the best dogs with children. They love kids, even infants, and will endure the usual hair pulling and eye gouging. One of our favorite examples is one on our web site as Lennox, a big young Portuguese Water Dog, teaches David to walk. As David neared his first year and began to stand, Lennox would slowly stand up so the boy could use him for balance. Once David was comfortable in standing, he wanted to walk and Lennox would slowly move as David tottered along. It was amazing even to us to see the innate intelligence and patience exhibited by Lennox to take care of his little boy.

Feature Breed

To a Portuguese Water Dog, a cat is simply an odd-looking dog. Many of our homes have cats, other dogs, birds and other animals and Portuguese Water Dogs adjust to all of them. When a puppy goes home to a cat home, the cat always becomes the alpha animal because Portuguese Water Dogs are not generally prey driven or territorial. They are happy to let someone else be in charge.

So, if you want a dog that will be a member of your household, a loyal friend, smarter than you can imagine as a dog, is always enthusiastic and optimistic, talks to you and has an opinion about things, demands your attention and moderate exercise and will remind and challenge you when you don't follow the schedule; a Portuguese Water Dog is the dog you want. Did I mention, that they don't shed and are considered to be hypoallergenic because they have hair, not fur?!

To complement this month's featured breeds, we have amazing books on both the Portuguese Water Dog and the Cairn Terrier.

We start the new year with featured breeds, the Portuguese Water Dog and the Cairn Terrier.

I have to say I was surprised when I sought out the books on these breeds that we had only the one book on the Portuguese Water Dog. This book 'The Complete Portuguese Water Dog' was written by Kathryn Braund and Deyanne Farrell Miller and published in 1986. No biography on these authors is contained in the book which has a huge amount of information on the breed. I quote a passage from the book which I found most interesting:

"When brave Portuguese sailors in tall ships faced the dangers of the deep, their stalwart Water Dogs were with them. Today the descendants of those dogs bring new life to an ancient breed, assuring the Portuguese Water Dog's survival for posterity." A book recently donated to the Library 'Portuguese Dog Breeds Standards' also contains facts on this breed.

We have books on the Cairn Terrier, one notably simply titled 'The Cairn Terrier' By J.W.H. Beynon and Alex Fisher. First published in 1961 it contains an opening statement by H. F. Whitehead in 'Dog World' – "if you want to pass many an enjoyable winter evening at the fireside, then get this book and study it". Another book on the shelf 'Cairn Terriers' by Erliss McCormack is also well worth reading for info on the breed.

Look forward to seeing lots of people making a visit to the Library in 2015.

'Dogs that make a Difference'

Edited by Saskia Adams

Reviewed by Helen Acworth
Library and Archives Committee

This book contains many inspiring stories of dogs bringing hope, help and happiness to people's lives. DELTA ambassador, Kitty Flanagan quotes – 'They are ordinary dogs. It's the effect they have on us that is extraordinary.'

The Delta Society Australia is a not-for-profit organisation which began an Australian pet therapy program in August 1997 thanks to a grant from the Animal Welfare League. Therapy dogs are trained and do wonderful work in visiting people in hospitals and nursing homes and are instrumental in having a calming effect on patients as only a dog can.

Some stories in this book are amazing, there is Lucy the Labrador who helps autistic children, Kacee the Golden Retriever whose owner takes him on school visits with children who have few social skills due to medical conditions, Elmo the poodle with whom prisoners let down their guard and Maggie whose easy-going nature allows people to reach out to her and so the list goes on.

Definitely worth reading and the book is available in the Library at Durack.

The definition of Glamour

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Supplied by Margaret and Tony Norton

The Irish Setter must rank amongst the most glamorous of all the dog breeds. Immensely popular with all manner of people, he is ideal as a centre of attraction for any glossy advertisement, with his rich chestnut coat gleaming as only that of a healthy athlete can.

His air of the devil-may-care is totally genuine and his friendly, affectionate nature make him a good household dog ready for all the fun and frolic a family will hand him.

Despite his racy outlines, he needs to be powerful and well boned throughout. Given the chance he will demonstrate that underneath the glamour there is a willing worker bursting to give his best.

As the breed standard states, he is demonstratively affectionate.

Malinois are taking over at the Cairns City Kennel Club

The number of handlers teaming up with Malinois has risen sharply in the last few years. These dogs are wonderful sporting dogs and their willingness to work paired with good drive make them equally brilliant obedience and tracking dogs. With their lighter build and athleticism they also excel in the agility ring.

Mel and Indy (Nordenstamm Udo) have only competed for two years and have achieved a number of titles in obedience and tracking. They have already achieved their tracking championship and, most notably, they are current holders of the Vikings Muzzle Trophy for Best Open Dog in Queensland. After gaining their UD title this year they are now already competing at the highest level in UDX.

Andrea and Shelby (Belgenbeau Dragon Heart) have only started competing in April and have already gained their CCD and CD titles, most notably with an outstanding result of a perfect score of 200 in CD under judge Kesley Court. Shelby has also commenced a successful career in agility/jumping in July, with a number of 1st places to her credit. Shelby and Andrea have gained six titles in our short trialling season this year.

Caroline and Freya (Belgenbeau Rubon Valkyre) have started competing in obedience and have gained their Rally Novice title. Meade and Caesar (Belgenbeau Lone Centurion) have only just teamed up. Meade initially fostered this lovely young dog, who has now found a permanent home with her and her other pets. Caesar is already showing the signs of an awesome obedience dog in the making. What all these dogs have in common is a good prey drive paired with a willingness to work and please their owner and a strong sense of loyalty. No wonder this breed has become one of the most successful sporting dogs all over the world and I am sure they will rapidly gain in popularity here, and we will see many more Malinois shine in competition in Queensland and Australia.

Zone 2 update for January 2015

Happy New Year to all! I hope you all enjoyed your Christmas and New Year celebrations and are relaxed, refreshed and recharged for another year in the dog world.

One could be forgiven for thinking that there's not really been much of a break and we've hardly had a chance to catch our breath before there is a new year of shows and activities to embark upon.

Well, you'd be pretty much spot on with that thought. We have a very busy annual schedule which almost runs for twelve months with a reduction in December, and the great thing about that is that our members have a great deal of choice to be able to participate in a large or small way in activities and enjoy a number of choices.

Rules in the Spotlight

Members are often bemused and confused by the application of rules at our shows. One of the best ways to know what you can and can't do is to review these rules, ok, so there are many, many pages which may seem a little daunting. One way that members can receive a great grounding in the rules is by attending show workers training for writers, stewards and show managers.

Even if you don't wish to work (but you never know, this may just draw you in), the training provides a brilliant grounding in the key rules that you need to be aware of as an exhibitor. In the legal system there is a statement that 'ignorance of the law is no excuse' and our rules are exactly the same, it is up to us as members to educate ourselves, ask questions and learn how the rules work in action.

The rule I am going to focus on in this edition is the rule relating to exhibits entering the ring at an exhibition (in other words, how to avoid being called absent).

The rule (216) states:

Procedure for exhibits to enter the judging ring:

- a. Judging will not commence until the Ring Steward has handed the class over to the Judge. After the Ring Steward has handed a class to the Judge to proceed with the judging, no other exhibit in that class shall be allowed to enter the judging ring.
- b. An exhibit is not officially absent until the ring steward hands a class to the judge to proceed with judging.
- c. The Ring Steward only is to declare an exhibit absent not the Assembly Steward.

It is really important that members understand this rule particularly (b) above about when an exhibit is officially absent.

Ring Stewards will call the numbers required for classes in preparation for them to be brought into the ring (Rule 217), but as exhibitors what is our responsibility to ensure we don't experience the unfortunate circumstance of being called absent, here are some tips:

- Allow plenty of time to travel to the show and arrive in sufficient time to collect your numbers and prepare your dog for the ring;
- Watch what is happening in your ring, be aware of what breed the ring is up to and the speed at which the Judge is judging the exhibits
- Ensure you are ready and near the ring entrance when it is your turn to enter the ring and make sure you listen to the Ring Steward so that when your number is called, you can advise it is present
- Move into the ring when your class is directed to by the Ring Steward

Please help your steward out, it can be a very stressful job. For hours at a time often exposed to the heat and elements, they have to watch what is happening in the ring and the assembly area, call classes up and complete multiple sets of paperwork to record results. It is not unreasonable to expect exhibitors to be attentive, present, responsive and ready to assist the show run as smoothly as possible.

As someone who stewards quite regularly, it is a most enjoyable day when the exhibitors are prepared and ready. This makes it an positive experience for the workers, judges and exhibitors, so let's work together to make it a nice day for everyone.

If you feel that a mistake has been made by the steward (and this is why it is important members understand the rules), draw it to their attention discreetly and if there are any further problems, call for the show manager.

Zone 2 Showcase

The Queensland Dog World

A full international panel of judges for the championship shows has been secured including judges from Russia, China, New Zealand, United Kingdom, Indonesia and the Philippines.

The club has worked very hard to lay the foundation for this event with seven rings operating at the Bundaberg Recreational Precinct. There is lots of room including cheap camping with power and water available at these grounds so it is the perfect opportunity to plan your holiday to Bundaberg at Easter and enjoy some great dog shows.

The club runs a mean canteen and I'm sure has some raffles and fun activities planned for exhibitors so there could not be a better opportunity for you to enjoy your hobby at Easter 2015.

An incredible amount of work has been invested in these shows to present a great event for exhibitors, and the club has provided all the things that exhibitors say they want in shows so please, please, please support it.

The club will be advertising these shows as the countdown to the event runs down so please keep your eye on the communication channels and Facebook pages devoted to dog showing for more details.

Getting Involved

Without being negative about it, many members have a lot to say about the way things are managed and how things could be done better.

This is great – Dogs Queensland wants feedback to try and provide members with what they are looking for. In saying this though, feedback should be constructive and if possible offer some solutions to how issues can be resolved.

Some of the opportunities members have had to provide feedback have included:

- Feedback requested on the draft strategic plan;
- Member survey on rule definitions (show workers);
- Member survey on website; and
- Member ballot on Board and constitutional changes, among many others.

How many of us have responded to these requests for our feedback and input? Measurements of participation generally indicate that response rates are quite low. Maybe members aren't interested or don't care about these things, but out of those who don't respond, how many encounter and have issues and see things that they want changed?

Please get involved in your organisation. With an engaged nucleus of members, we can become stronger.

Many members have some brilliant talents that we aren't aware of and could add some real value to the dog world.

Ways that you can get involved include (among many others):

- Joining a local club;
- Participating in show workers training;
- Responding to surveys and feedback requests;
- Participating in ballots; and
- Communicate with the office if you have issues.

By being more engaged we can provide some valuable information and data to our organisation which can be used strategically to bring about improvements.

Submissions

As always, submissions for the Zone 2 column are most welcome from members.

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

At the last Tenterfield Terrier National Show in Adelaide September 2011 we committed to attend the next National Show to be held in Perth October 2014. At the beginning of the year we decided to drive to Perth to attend the National. Our friends, Julie and Gordon Spears from Bulahdelah in NSW decided to attend as well. As the time to leave drew near we had booked into four shows, the Perth Royal, the WA Terrier Championship Show, the WA Tenterfield Terrier Speciality Show and the Tenterfield Terrier National Show. We booked a cottage at the Golden Ponds Conference Centre at Baldvis which is about 30km from the Dogs WA complex and a bit further to the Perth Showground.

We left home at 3.30am on the Wednesday morning heading for Gilgandra for our first night stop and meeting up with the Spears. Fuel up was to be Goondiwindi. By Pittsworth the truckies were reporting a B Double roll over and fire some forty kilometres north of Moree. The Newell Highway was blocked in both directions. At Goondiwindi a man at the garage reported that a detour was available west towards Mungindi thence Moree and was suitable for B Doubles and road trains! How wrong they were. One section was only single width bitumen with a 150mm drop off shoulder. We watched a road train with only one trailer, thank goodness that had only just overtaken us, drop the trailer into the gutter to almost 90 degrees to the prime mover. How it did not roll was a miracle. We were shaken so we could only imagine what the truckie was sitting on.

Eventually we reached Moree and on to Gilgandra where we had arranged to meet the Spears. Julie had decided on a camp site some 20km west of the town towards Nevertire. Julie had her computer tablet with her and used the site Wickiecamp.com to ascertain the best campsites, with up to date reports about them. They had already set up camp with their nineteen dogs plus three more to deliver along the way. Thus began our trip to Perth with twenty-six dogs. Apart from fuel stops about every 500kms, our comfort stops we had to stop to rest the dogs approximately every 3hours. This regime worked wonderfully well as even the younger ones did not mess their crates. We had worked out we had to travel 650km per day to arrive at Perth in seven days. The weather was kind to us by not being too hot. Our own spoilt dogs, two adults and three under twelve months travelled well in crates in the air conditioned luxury of our wagon and the way Gordon had divided their dog trailer space up meant all theirs travelled extremely well. We fuelled up more regularly as Gordon wanted to run his BL Falcon wagon on gas as much as economically possible. We were also driving a BL Falcon towing our Aline camper trailer while the Spears had their dog trailer and slept in a remarkable tent that sprung into shape from a circle pack.

How unkind Huie has been this season to our farmers, particularly our wheat farmers. All the way from Queensland, Northern NSW, SA and Eyre Peninsula and on the WA wheat belt we didn't see any good wheat crops at all. Opened ground that had not been sown, poorly germinated with no ears at all and allowing for the new short stalk varieties available the ones that were showing ears upon closer examination had no grain formed at all. I hope I am wrong but I believe this year's wheat crop is a disaster. I actually sampled at about six areas where I thought the wheat and oats crop looked OK. Although most crops had hayed off we saw no harvesters working and on the way back we observed some round bailers working. We also observed crops about half a metre high just stalks with no leaves that I assume were failed canola. How precious is water. We closely observed the pipelines throughout SA and WA and marvelled at the guts of the engineers who designed these schemes, particularly the scheme to Kalgoorlie from the Mundaring weir just out of Perth. I have Googled this scheme and how sad it was to find that the engineer of this scheme never lived to see it work. The story makes interesting reading for everyone. I worked out how at the top of every rise of the pipeline there is a bleed off valve to remove any air from it so airlocks cannot stop the water flow.

From Cobar, (no time to check out the copper mine), and onto Wilcannia. Along the way herds of 'wild' goats were grazing the roadside and all the spindly trees were eaten off to exactly the same height. The fences are in need of replacement as many were beyond repair. But repair to contain what! Only stunted trees and bushes with barely a blade of grass to be seen. Closest to the bitumen was the slightest tinge of green indicating some runoff from a recent shower of rain and little puddles from the last shower. Very marginal country in the Western Crown Lease Area. One wonders where the water to sustain life is. I know that the area is in the Great Artesian Basin and all the bores that used to run openly have been capped and tanks and troughs have replaced the open bore drains. This action is to reduce the drop in pressure of the water table as many of the once free flowing bores have stopped flowing and require pumping. Some drainage lines of vegetation are in evidence but no tanks, troughs or windmills were seen here.

No pigs or pig damage was seen only the goats. No sheep or cattle were seen either. Lots of road kill, kangaroos being the most common, with the odd red male big enough to demolish a car, but more often a smaller lovely blue (red female) leaving us wondering what happened to her joey. Many shingle backed lizards and the occasional snake were squashed flat and we had to swerve to avoid slowly moving lizards. Many birds had been hit, crows, galahs, corellas, the occasional small bird of prey, one emu and a cow but not one goat. We presumed the goats are too smart to be hit. We passed through Wilcannia with its boarded shopfronts. Mary bought some bread at the local IGA with only a standard closed door to the street. Talking to a local we were told that the goats were owned by the properties on each side of the road and were regularly rounded up and sold to the abattoirs. This income was all that kept some of the graziers afloat. We saw one small mob of sheep, their wool stained by the red dust.

On leaving Wilcannia we crossed the Darling River on a newer bridge with the old steel lift span bridge rusting alongside. One could only imagine the old paddle wheel steamers towing their barge of wool bales, whistling to have the bridge opened. What was Wilcannia like then, a thriving river port town? Onward through Mt Gibbs, just out of Broken Hill where the only building standing is the old pub. The railway station is long gone and leaves one wondering why a pub was ever built there so close to the Hill.

This building is of interest to us as twenty years ago it was owned by one of the original Tenterfield Terrier breeders, who ran it as a pottery shop and cafe. It is very dilapidated today but it is still standing as it has for over a century. Fuel stop at Broken Hill with no time to explore. (a bucket list objective still to be fulfilled) Campsite right alongside highway as there was little room left and it was getting late. This was a noisy night but being so tired we all got some sleep. Watching the dogs was paramount due to the closeness of the traffic. The highway follows the old narrow gauge railway line with the new standard gauge railway running alongside at many points. For some reason all the old railway overhead water tanks have been saved with the one at Mannahill, complete with its station building and old hand crane being a good example.

On through to Yunta where from then on we were breaking new ground. Many years ago we went bush at Yunta and through the Flinders Ranges to Coober Pedy. (Another story in itself) On to Peterborough where the Information complex is an old railway carriage beside the actual station. Waiting there to pick up a Tenterfield Terrier pup was a woman from Adelaide. We all had a good chat and it turned out we had met her mother in Adelaide and Mary had often spoken to the mother on the phone.

During our stay the Indian Pacific passed through heading for Adelaide and a Pacific National empty ore train for Broken Hill. After replenishing our drinking water from a roof tank we headed for Port Augusta.

The view from the Pass looking down on to Saint Vincents Gulf was breathtaking but there was some haze from the huge power station. Wickieamps.com led us to a great free camping area at Iron Barron. A community run facility with very clean toilets, community kitchen but a cold shower. Fresh drinking water was available from roof tanks. There was a donation box available. The camp was at the base of the mountain looking at one of the mining areas and all night we could hear machinery running in the distance, this didn't disturb us at all. Google Earthing the mountain shows that it has been mined from almost all around its perimeter and one is left trying to imagine how much iron ore has been carted to Whyalla to the steel works or for export.

In the morning our adult bitch gave us a scare. This spoilt girl took off through a fence and down the centre of the road. She ignored our calls and only stopped when the school bus pulled up in front of her tooting its horn. We had run down the road after her and she decided to heed our calls this time and returned to Mary. We were so glad of this outcome we forgot about it. However on our return journey we spent another night at Iron Knob. Her ladyship we must admit sleeps on (I should say in) our bed and in the morning after being put out to do her business returned back to bed whilst Mary attended to the other dogs. After having a cup of tea in bed I got up and asked

Mary where her ladyship was. In bed with you was the reply. No she wasn't! The little sneak had snuck out to investigate what was up the road. We had no idea how long she had been gone but after about ten anxious minutes of furious searching and calling, she wandered slowly down the footpath with what I can only describe as a doggy grin from ear to ear. Who said dogs don't remember.

We left Iron Barron for Ceduna through Kimba in the wheat growing area of the Eyre Peninsula. Along the way we witnessed hayed off crops, empty grain storages, harvesters and trains. Just out of Ceduna we witnessed the driver's side tyre on Gordon's dog trailer blow. Gordon pulled up safely off the road beside a wheat field, one of my sampling sites. He panel beat the mud flap area, damaged by the flapping tyre, changed to the spare and we were on our way again. We arrived in Ceduna after lunch on the Saturday of the AFL Grand Final. Fortunately while fuelling up another customer knew of a young employee at the local tyre service that may help us. We arranged to meet him and one hour later the dog trailer had two new tyres. We decided to stay and booked in to Big 4 Caravan Park.

We set camp in a back corner of the park, the only problem it was on gravel. We all had a nice hot shower and apart from two drunks disturbing the dogs about midnight all went well. After a reasonably early start we headed for the Nullarbor Plain (Treeless) How true is this! There are signs warning, Watch out for Kangaroos Emus and Camels. As the stunted trees gave way to low scrub the wild life became invisible, even the road kill disappeared. The altitude given on the GPS hovered around 27 to 33 metres. We took the time to drive to the limestone cliffs and fulfilled one of our bucket list wishes. How spectacular is this coastline.

The Queensland Dog World

Eventually the SA/WA border was reached at Border Village and the WA check point for fruit and vegetables stop. I had to pop the Aframe and open the fridge and ice box. We had forgotten some Queensland bananas bought in Ceduna. The Inspector went to confiscate them and I said we would eat them so I distributed them around and just placed the skins in the bin. The Spears had confiscated an unopened jar of honey. On into W.A., Eucla, Cocklebidy and Balladonia where unleaded fuel was $1.99 per litre, the most expensive on our trip. The 150km straight never seemed to end with the road appearing to meet the sky. The trees had returned and we commenced climbing a decent hill, fencing returned to both sides of the road. This plateau was in itself almost level; we eventually arrived at Norseman and turned north towards Kalgoorlie following the standard gauge railway line from Albany to Kalgoorlie. A water pipe line follows this easement as well.

Norseman was the first evidence of gold mining in WA after leaving the plains. From then on we travelled onto Coolgardie, a large town, abandoned by the railway a few years back. After travelling for hundreds of miles and seeing only small bushes and shrubs we noticed the trees were getting taller by this time, the soil remained sandy and powdery, the vegetation was certainly improving but nothing like we are used to in South East Queensland. Green grass was a non-event as there is just not the rainfall to support it. By this time we noticed the main road was bordered by large water mains we presume from the Albany area to Kalgoorlie supplying the small towns on the way.

Water was a premium and I doubt they had much of an annual rainfall looking at the struggling plant life. Our dogs were taking it all in their stride and loved travelling in the car. Apart from the large prickles, ant bites and dust they were having a ball. Luckily we came prepared with shade cloth to put under their pens when we stopped for toilet breaks and to camp. We travelled about 700 kms a day, stopping every three to four hours for a break. Unfortunately there was nowhere to let the dogs go for a run. The road was out of the question because of the road trains and other fast moving vehicles and so the only thing we could do was to put them on the extender leads and lunge them, they were then happy to get in the car and rest while we continued on.

We made Perth in seven days, by this time we both had a young bitch each in season. This did complicate things a bit and we had to start separating them, luckily the girls were happy to be together in a crate and we kept them well away from the other pens. Night sleeping was interesting as we had our little 9 month old girl crated in the van, up on the kitchen table.

The wildflowers in and around Perth country side were absolutely beautiful and the colours were amazing. We did not have the time to explore these areas and will have to do this on our next trip with fewer dogs. On arrival at our destination at Golden Ponds Tourist facility we checked into our two bedroom cottage. We did have a back yard, unfortunately no fences, so we had to erect our temporary dog yards again. The dogs by this time were all colours but definitely not white, once we had settled in we head off to a friend's place to groom , bath and prepare the dogs for the next four shows we had booked into.

This was one of our biggest challenges as we were not sure they would ever be white again, but they all scrubbed up well and we were ready to attend the Perth Royal the next morning. We had a great time at the show meeting exhibitors and the public as well. Everyone was extremely friendly and made us feel very welcome. Over the next four days we attended more dog shows and won numerous awards and prizes. It certainly made the trip worthwhile and we did get the opportunity to showcase our dogs. We met up with many Tenterfield Terrier breeders from all parts of Australia and spent a lot of time exchanging stories and discussing breeding strategies. The National Tenterfield Terrier Show was a credit to members of the TTC of WA as the dedicated committee organised a brilliant event and did an amazing amount of fund raising, making sure every exhibitor received gifts. As we are holding the next Tenterfield Terrier National here in Queensland in 2016 we have a very high standard to keep up with.

Perth is one of Australia's beautiful cities extremely well laid out with absolutely beautiful parks and gardens around the Swan River. We were all very impressed at how clean and tidy everything was including the main dog show grounds which included a gigantic under cover building for dog shows. After saying our farewells we packed up and headed out on Wednesday the 8th of October, our next stop was Lake Douglas, just outside Boulder Kalgoorlie.

We found this to be one of the hottest days on our trip, it cooled down about 2.00am in the morning.

On arrival we all set up our dog runs, tents, caravan and outdoor kitchen area, I then head over to check out the toilets. I run into another grey nomad on the way back and he proceeded to tell me about an experience he had had earlier in the afternoon.

He went into a little abandoned mining town a couple of miles back only to find he was the only one there with the exception of a police car. He got talking to the policeman who told him if they were planning on staying there to keep an eye out for a killer that was on the loose. He was off his medication and dangerous so not to approach him but call the police. He left there as quick as he could but wanted to warn us to be on the lookout for him as he had brutally killed his mother a few years back. We decided to stay the night as we thought, with twenty three little watch dogs, anyone wondering around at night would set off an alarm they would not want to hear.

Next morning we packed up and on to the Super Pit in Kalgoorlie. This was an amazing experience as it was bigger and deeper than we ever imagined; 120 ton dump trucks looked like tonka toys down on the hall roads deep in the mine. We all agreed this was worth the drive out of our way as photos do not do it justice.

At Norseman we turned east heading for home, back across the Nullarbor Plains and only another 3,000 odd kilometres to go. One of the strangest things we saw along the way was a hills clothes line with washing hung out, no houses anywhere, no sign of life for hundreds of miles. We still do not understand why it was there and how it got there. There were lots of emus and their babies as well as thousands of goats, all colours and sizes. We did see camel tracks through a lot of our camp sites but never sighted any, the only road kills we saw were kangaroos.

The quarantine stations were very strict and the rangers spent a lot of time going through caravans, cars and dog trailers, they have security cameras making sure they miss nothing. We did have a lot of fruit and veggies as well as an unopened jar of honey, confiscated on the way over. As we drove through four states it made it very hard, we had to plan our meals and only purchase exactly what we needed. Fruit and vegetables were very expensive but we managed to eat well by just cooking the basics.

Water was a premium; we carried 100 litres and topped up at every opportunity. When purchasing fuel we usually paid $4.00 for a hot shower. We never sighted running water in any rivers or water holes when driving through the arid centre. This place was just too dry to survive, no wonder no one lives there. We travelled with our friends in convoy until we reached Gilgandra and then parted company, they returned to their home in NSW and we travelled another 750 kilometres up through Moree to Goondiwindi then Toowoomba and across to our home in Peachester.

Our dogs were finally able to run free in the back paddock with their doggy family and we could take a well-earned rest and mark one big adventure off our bucket list. We spent a total $1,835.40 on fuel and travelled 10,042.5 kilometres. An experience we will never forget.
