President's message for August 2015

Well the 2015 EKKA will soon be upon us. It is a very exciting year for the EKKA, with a new canine area being developed within the RNA grounds. Whilst there has been some concerns regarding the parking and drop off areas, it is good to hear that members have strongly supported the event again this year, with an overall entry exceeding that of last year.

For those members that still have any potential problems with the drop off area, a Facebook group 'EKKA 2015 Canine Exhibitors – Dropping off and Parking' has been setup by one of our members, Khyllie Wood. If you have concerns or need assistance with the dropping off of your dogs in the designated area, I recommend you join this group and see what help can be provided. The link to the group is:

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/678785112255680/>

Also many thanks to all those Members who helped recently to pack the revamped '2015 EKKA Showbag', these will be on sale at the EKKA for $20, great value indeed.

I would again like to thank those club officials who attended the recent Presidents, Secretaries and Treasurers meeting held at Durack. Whilst the meeting was well supported by some Clubs, it was disappointing to not see more Clubs represented. This meeting presents an excellent forum for Affiliated Clubs to submit discussion items and raise their concerns directly with the Board.

One of the clear issues raised at the recent meeting was the camping provisions at Durack. The Board understands that this is a major issue that has a very real impact on our Affiliated Clubs. I can assure members that the Board is working very hard on this matter, to try and achieve a more suitable result. Members will be updated on the camping provisions as information comes to hand.

Recently a number of National and State events for Obedience (State and National), Rally-O (State and National), Dancing with Dogs (State and National), Agility (State) were run at Durack. The events were a huge success and were well supported by members across the country. A large vote of thanks must go to all those volunteers who gave up their time to support these events. In particular, I would like to express thanks to the following hard working volunteers:

Notice to advertisers

The Trade Practices Act came into force on 1st October 1974. Certain provisions of the act relating to consumer protection place a heavy burden upon advertisers, advertising agents and the publishers of advertisements. In view of the obvious impossibility of our ensuring that advertisements submitted for publication comply with the act, advertisers themselves need to ensure that the provisions of the act are strictly complied with. In cases of doubt, advertisers are advised to seek legal advice before submitting advertising material.

Matching Gundogs with People

By Joe Law

Successful training of dogs requires matching the right dog with its handler and vice versa. That is why before choosing a dog with which you will spend the next ten years or more of your life, it is important that you carefully consider your own objectives and expectations.

Special rates for CCC members!

Gundogs come in a variety of breeds, all with their own special breed characteristics. Furthermore, even within each of these breeds, there will be further varieties of temperament, athletic ability, biddability and ease of training. That is why any choice should be matched to the objectives of the owners as well as to significant others who will be involved in the dog's future life.

If a dog's future is to live in a home and be a companion to a family with differing ages with differing desires and expectations, then the choice will need to be different from one where only one person's expectations need to be considered.

If the dog is to spend a large percentage of its time in a small urban dwelling with only occasional visits to rural environments, then there are breeds with specific characteristics that would make them eminently more suitable to that environment, when compared to dogs bred and raised in kennelled rural environments and trained for only a specific type of work.

Therefore, before choosing a puppy, carefully look at your own personality and list exactly what your objectives will be in your relationship with your new dog. Then, and only then, carefully proceed with research of the breeds that best match your objectives.

Then finally search for a reputable breeder who has a history of breeding the type of dog that will increase your chances of being happily matched to your new canine partner.

In the interests of the breed, please read the survey carefully and reply by completing the "return slip" below and return to the ANKC Ltd Administrator, PO Box 309, Carina, QLD. 4152, or by email to:

To view the FCI standard login to: <http://www.fci.be/Nomenclature/Standards/045g02-en.pdf>

Proposal

ANKC Ltd adopts the Country of Origin FCI Breed Standard for the BERNESE MOUNTAIN DOG replacing the Kennel Club (UK) Breed Standard.

Rationale

ANKC Ltd policy is to always select the Breed Standard from the Country of Origin for all new breeds introduced into Australia. When the standard for the Bernese Mountain Dog was selected ANKC Ltd was not adopting FCI standards and the Kennel Club (UK) was adopted.

ANKC Ltd has received a submission requesting that ANKC Ltd adopt the Country of Origin FCI Breed Standard. To assist ANKC Ltd to reach a decision we are seeking the opinion of all owners of a registered BERNESE MOUNTAIN DOG for at least twelve [12] months.

'A Bundle of Rags in a Cyclone The Irish Water Spaniel'

Written by Nick Waters

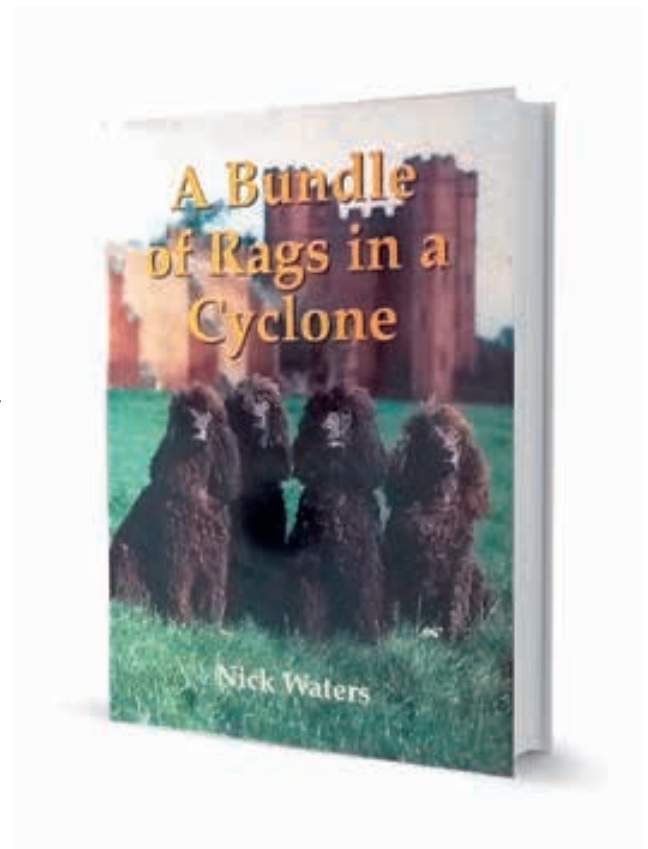

Reviewed by Helen Acworth
Librarian

I was drawn to write a Book Review this month on this book, simply based on the rather unusual title. But like all books I review this as such a great read.

'A Bundle of Rags in a Cyclone' is written as a celebration to the unique and versatility of this dog. This breed is now recognised at the top level of competition in the show ring and as a working gundog.

This book unravels some of the obscure history of the breed and traces their development throughout the world. It also contains hints on training for the shooting field as well as trimming and grooming for the show ring.

Also included are historical photographs and painting reproductions all in colour. This book was first published in 1982 – the copy held in the Library is a revised edition published in 1998 by the author, Nick Waters.

The Queensland Dog World

The Welsh Springer Spaniel

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Supplied by Bruce and Bev Cornish

The Welsh Springer Spaniel is distinguished from other spaniels by its medium size, unique head, vine shaped ears, and a rich red and white, lightly feathered coat.

They are active, inquisitive, loyal, playful and affectionate with all members of their family, an amiable dog who will work or play with other dogs and accept other household pets.

Their ever wagging tail expresses their joy for life. As they can be reserved with strangers, socialisation from a young age is recommended.

Bred to flush game in thick cover Welsh Springers are a sturdy dog with a keen nose giving them excellent tracking abilities. They give voice when they hunt and also when greeting your return, which ranges from a yodel to a bark.

They have a love of water and being wet; the ocean, river, dam or muddy puddle, even the water bowl, this however doesn't always extend to their bath; generally able swimmers and excellent retrievers.

Exercise

Although they enjoy home comforts they have a love of the outdoors and require regular daily exercise, preferably twice daily, and appreciate a run off leash in a safe area. They are happy chasing a Frisbee, ball or stick as well as snuffing and exploring in parks, around rivers and lakes. Without exercise to utilise their natural instincts, dogs become bored and create their own, often destructive means of keeping busy. Welsh Springers perform extremely well at dog sports such as agility and fly-ball as well as tracking and obedience.

The Welsh Springer is an extremely loyal and affectionate dog and sometimes referred to as a 'Velcro dog' due to their 'attachment' to their human companion. Hence some special 'time alone' sessions are essential in the upbringing of the young puppy to avoid future separation anxiety episodes. Once trained properly the Welshie becomes an adorable and ever-faithful companion.

Training

Being an intelligent breed, they are quick to learn and great problem solvers, sometimes known to have selective hearing, especially if there is something far more interesting to take their attention.

This needs to be kept in mind when training. Having a soft nature, they respond best to praise and reward, so clicker training and food reward will certainly speed up your efforts. Positive training that is stimulating and enjoyable will help produce an obedient and manageable dog on or off lead, starting at puppy stage with what you want as an adult. A naturally clean dog, they respond quickly to routine and house training, (allowing for the occasional accident for the excited puppy).

Basic Grooming

Welsh Springer Spaniels have a soft, silky coat which sits flat to the body and is only lightly feathered, making it easier than most coated breeds to maintain.

A regular brush and comb through of the feathering is required, and if they get wet and dirty, the dirt simply drops out as they dry. Bath or dry shampoo as necessary, and then use a coat conditioner, as this prevents problems with knots. For the family pet scissoring the hair of the feet level with the pads, trim hair between the toes and regularly clip the nails. Trim the feathering on the ears level with the shape of the ear, as they will reach the food bowl if left.

Due to the Welsh Springers' silkier coat there is definitely no need to use clippers on the coat. That will, in fact, destroy the self-cleaning property and attractive nature of the coat. Regular brushing is all that is needed to prevent knots and mats from forming in the undercoat. A more detailed trim is required for the show ring.

The Sussex Spaniel

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Supplied by Mrs M. Durrington

This Breed first originated in Sussex U.K. and was once near extinction following Mr Fuller's death. Thanks to ROSEHILL line being famous, the gamekeeper bred on with a dog and bitch from that line last century.

Easily recognised by their flat silken golden liver coat and Seal fur across their muzzle on maturity they are a breed that exudes great character.

The Sussex is unusual in Spaniels, in that it gives tongue while on the game which can be an asset if the dog has gone into thick cover. As beater dogs they do excellent work as they can face heavy thick cover and carry heavy game due to their strong necks.

They are strongly built with wide skull and pronounced stop which give protection to their eyes in thick cover. The neck is tough and strong allowing them to carry heavy game although retrieving is not the breed's strongest point.

The shoulders are long and are well laid back to enable short fore legs to reach forward to cover ground.

The rib cage is well developed to give the lung capacity, but the dog has no waist, just a wide muscular loin. The hindquarters are strongly boned to support their heavy weight of approx 25kg and they must be muscular. Sussex have a distinctive tolling gait rather like a drunken sailor when moving, giving the impression the legs are not attached to the body.

Basally the three L rule applies to this breed of long, low and level. Full of character, they are known as the downs of the Gundog in their nature and definitely NOT a breed who will allow others to dominate.

They are known to be very territorial. It is wise to be very firm with young Sussex to prevent them from becoming too full of themselves.

They demonstrate a wonderful temperament and with most people and their appealing movement, beautiful faces and character make them very fulfilling and amusing pets.

The Irish Water Spaniel

The Irish Water Spaniel is acknowledged to be a very old breed, but as is the case with so many Irish dogs and horses, it is impossible to separate fact from folklore, and the exact date of origin cannot be established.

It is believed to be a descendant of the old Portuguese Water Dogs and Spaniel root stock that came to Ireland from the Iberian Peninsula. The lineage can be traced back to the period, centuries ago, when the large and important Spaniel group was divided into the Land Spaniels and the Water Spaniels. The Water Spaniels included both the Irish and English varieties of water dogs.

The Irish Water Spaniel was developed in Ireland from two different strains that were in existence prior to the 1850s - the Southern County Water Spaniel and the Northern County Water Spaniel. Both were distinct types in size and colour, however today's Irish Water Spaniel more closely follows the Southern type.

By 1889 dog shows were providing a special class for Irish Water Spaniels. They were quickly adopted by both Irish and English sportsmen and their boldness and daring retrieves, extreme hardiness in the cold North Sea waters and superior disposition.

The earliest record of Irish Water Spaniels in Australia is 1891, although their breeding and where they came from is unknown. In the early sixties two dogs and two bitches were imported from New Zealand, and by the early 70s, registrations stood at 25.

Average size and lifespan:

Dogs: 53 - 58cms (21 - 23 ins)

Bitches: 51 - 56cms (20 - 22 ins)

Lifespan: Irish Water Spaniels live between 10 to 12 years of age

Care requirements:

The coat with its crisp curls does not present the problem that might be expected, however it should be thoroughly combed with a wide toothed comb at least once a week. Eyes, ears and toenails should be checked regularly. A good swim or spray down will bring back those lovely curls.

Irish Water Spaniels do not shed loose hair and can therefore be recommended for people who may suffer from allergies associated with dog hair.

Irish Water Spaniels are very amenable to obedience training and have acquitted themselves extremely well in Obedience, Agility and Retrieving Trials throughout Australia.

Personality, characteristics and temperament:

Beneath its livery of brown curly ringlets, with topknot of twisted curls hanging down over its eyes, you will find a true Irishman - full of life, with a comical nature and great intelligence. The Irish Water Spaniel enjoys human companionship and will want to become one of the family. It is deeply affectionate to those it knows but can be reserved with strangers.

In conclusion:

Now you know a little about the Irish Water Spaniel. If you have decided this is the dog for you, or if you would like more information, please contact either the relevant registered breeders Club or Dogs Queensland.

Either will be able to give you information about available puppies and also suggest dog shows where you can see the breed and speak to a breeder.

THE IRISH WATER SPANIEL GALLERY INSIGHT

Feature Breed

The Queensland Dog World

Grand Ch Eloucher A Touch Opride 'Oliver' - Australia's youngest Clumber Spaniel to gain his Grand Championship Title. Dearly loved, sadly missed, the end of an era. 24/6/02 - 9/1/15

Exquisite form The Clumber Spaniel

The Clumber Spaniel was developed by the Dukes of Newcastle and their gamekeepers, primarily the Mansell family. The breed takes its modern name from the Duke of Newcastle's Nottingham country estate of Clumber Park, which is now a National Trust property and lies in the north of the famous Sherwood Forest.

The Clumber was developed to support the Dukes and game keepers in hunting this and nearby estates which were usually covered in heavy timber and very heavy undergrowth littered with fallen branches and limbs. The white coat ensured he could be seen in most scrub, his build ensured he could penetrate into the depths of that scrub and flush game hiding there or even retrieve shot game.

Average size, weight and lifespan:

Dogs: 50cm (20 inches) in height at shoulder

Bitches: 45cm (18 inches) in height at shoulder

Weight: 25 - 36 kg

Lifespan: 10 to 16 years of age (approx)

Ideal owners:

The Clumber is ideal for those with a little empathy with dogs, alert to a dog's body language and general health requirements, and essentially compassionate. The ideal owner will make sure the Clumber is exercised twice daily, groomed weekly, trimmed every eight weeks - whether the owner is tired or ill or in the peak of health themselves.

The ideal home will have a reasonably sized grassed backyard, with a smaller day yard set within the boundary. Parks or good walks will virtually be on the home's doorsteps; and be inviting and interesting to the dog and to the owner.

The Clumber has no problems adapting to being a house dog, but his health is best served if he can spend the days in a small outdoors yard (with appropriate bedding and shelter) and have a good romp through the whole garden under supervision.

Care requirements:

The Clumber Spaniel is one of the most low maintenance of the spaniel family. From about ten months of age they will need their feet trimmed every two months. From about twelve months of age the feathering under the ear hole and from the wrist to the foot on the front legs and from the hock to foot on the hind legs will also need to be trimmed every two months.

Feature Breed

The Queensland Dog World

Grand Ch Appintiki Hesadozer 'Dozer' - Appintiki's first male Grand Champion, we are blessed to have six progeny of Dozer and Harriets. 7/10/09 - 29/6/15

Personality, characteristics and temperament:

They have a deep seated desire to please their owner and the owner's family but cannot take the rigours of being forced trained or regimentally drilled; they need the opportunity and time to observe and assimilate how other dogs perform for their owners and will mimic this behaviour.

This heritage of working in the field is translated into a little independence, particularly when tracking, but they soon check their owner's whereabouts and will look to them for advice if the trail is clouded or lost.

In conclusion:

Now you know a little about the Clumber Spaniel. If you have decided this is the dog for you, or if you would like more information, please contact either the relevant registered breeders Club or Dogs Queensland.

Either will be able to give you information about available puppies and also suggest dog shows where you can see the breed and speak to a breeder.

The Cocker Spaniel

The Cocker Spaniel is a breed that was first mentioned 3000 years ago as existing in the Mediterranean countries. These 'long eared rabbit dogs' were observed in the Roman province of Spain and it is believed they were brought to England after the Roman conquest of Britain in approximately 56 BC.

They featured prominently both as working dogs and pets through the reigns of Henry VIII and the Stuart kings, being referred to as 'wood-cocking spaniels' - small dogs that could go through hedges and undergrowth to flush out the wood-cock.

The beginning of this century saw the formation of the Cocker Spaniel Club of England which drew up the early standard of the breed for shooters who needed a small, active, strong dog, sturdy enough to work cheerfully and tirelessly all day flushing or driving out the game.

Average size, weight and lifespan:

Dogs: 39 - 41 cms (15.5 - 16 ins) approx at shoulder

Bitches: 38 - 39cms (15 -15.5 ins) approx at shoulder

Lifespan: Cocker Spaniels live between 12 to 16 years of age

Weight: 14 - 15kgs (28 - 32 lbs)

Personality, characteristics and temperament:

This fun loving, merry little dog makes a wonderful family friend and a devoted companion. It thrives on and needs the companionship of human beings.

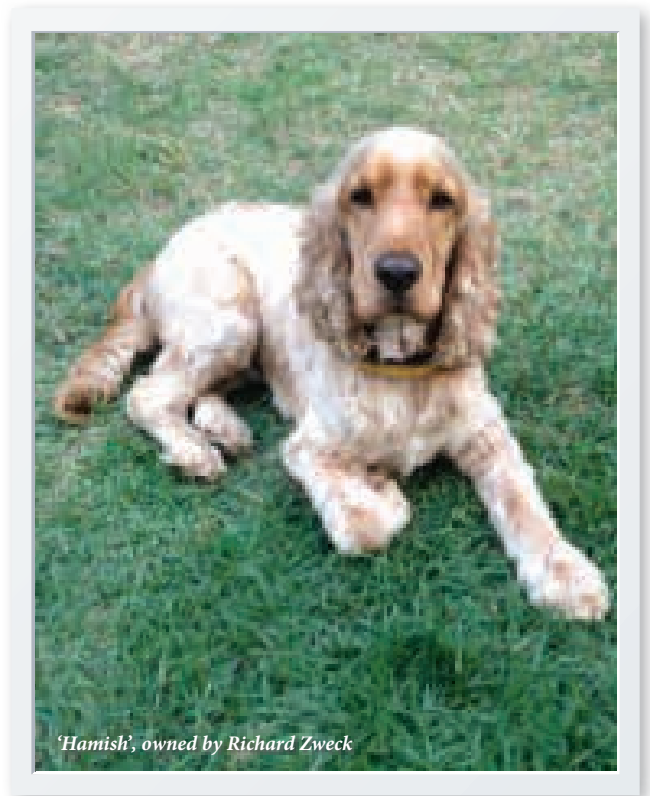

Care requirements:

Requires regular grooming and particular attention should be paid to keeping the hair trimmed away from under and around the ears, the undercarriage and the feet.

The sturdy little Cocker can be housed indoors or out of doors and, providing the dog receives the love and attention it requires, it will happily settle for either situation.

If kept outdoors, the dog will require a suitable shed or kennel which is warm and draught-free in winter, cool in summer and weatherproof at all times.

If kept indoors, be aware that it will shed a little every day. The Cocker Spaniel is not a fussy eater and will eat almost anything. A narrow food bowl is recommended so that the long ears fall either side of the bowl and not in the food.

Ideal owners:

For those who understand the need for exercise and grooming.

In conclusion:

Now you know a little about the Cocker Spaniel. If you have decided this is the dog for you, or if you would like more information, please contact either the relevant registered breeders Club or Dogs Queensland.

Either will be able to give you information about available puppies and also suggest dog shows where you can see the breed and speak to a breeder.

The Field Spaniel

The Field Spaniel breed evolved about 150 years ago, developed in the English countryside. The Field is a true countryman. They are a very old breed, first known as the 'Black Spaniel' or 'Land Spaniel', but are now predominantly liver (brown) in colour, arising from crossing the Sussex Spaniel and after the Second World War with the English Springer Spaniel.

Whilst there is no proof in writing it is generally accepted that in the late 1800's there was Basset blood 'introduced' in to the breed (scenting ability). A NSW breeder reintroduced the Field Spaniel to Australia in 1989. The number of Field Spaniels are progressively increasing.

Average size, weight and lifespan:

Dogs: 46cms approx (18 ins approx)

Bitches: 46cms approx (18 ins approx)

Lifespan: Field Spaniels live up to 12 to 15 years of age

Weight: 15.5 - 22.5kgs (35 - 50 lbs)

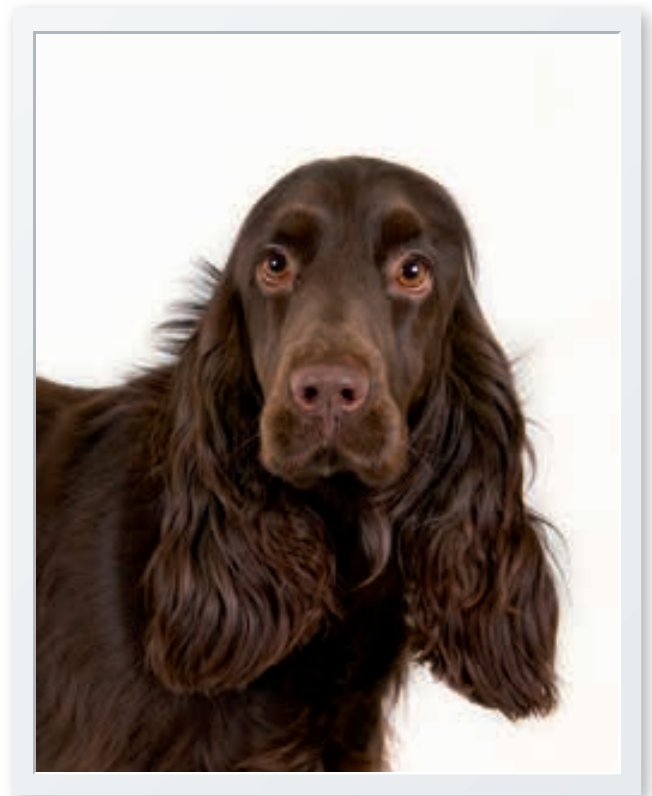

Personality, characteristics and temperament:

This is a breed for the energetic! They are active, tireless and inquisitive and can be noisy; of course if not fully occupied can be destructive. The Field Spaniel is a loving and sensitive breed that adores being with people and involved in all the household activity. The Field Spaniel requires firm and consistent training but never harsh training. They enjoy travelling and car rides.

Like most young gundogs they are very active (although quite sensitive), they need a great deal of time spent with them. They are not a breed that will take kindly to being put in a crate or kennel and ignored. Field Spaniels have a great deal of working instinct and are very enthusiastic when out with the gun. They are much faster than the Sussex, with great scenting powers and a natural ability to retrieve.

Field Spaniels coats should be silky but weatherproof, with feathering on legs, ears and tummy, they are easy to maintain with far less feathering than most Spaniels. Many bitches (and a few dogs) carry very little feathering, much to the frustration of their owners! It is quite uncommon to see a Field Spaniel as well furnished as a Springer or Cocker. The Field Spaniel can be solid black or liver (brown).

For the show ring the good ones are late starters, being immature at the puppy and junior stage but eventually turning to swans as their gawky frame fills out, they come up off their pasterns, the fronts tighten and the head matures into the noble edifice that is the hallmark of the breed. Let us hope it attracts patient and dedicated owners/breeders who are prepared to wait for the 'swan' to arrive.

Care requirements:

One of the largest of the Spaniels, the Field Spaniel needs quality feeding at regular hours. The Field Spaniel is easy to maintain, with the removal of excess hair from under the ear, around the feet and from the hocks is all that is required to keep the dog smart and neat, the coat requires just a daily brush/comb to keep it shining and healthy.

Ideal owners:

The Field Spaniel is an active dog and tireless worker. Their docile, affectionate and friendly nature makes it an excellent companion and family dog. However, it is very much a working spaniel and, as such does require daily exercise and patience.

In conclusion:

Now you know a little about the Field Spaniel. If you have decided this is the dog for you, or if you would like more information, please contact either the relevant registered breeders Club or Dogs Queensland.

Either will be able to give you information about available puppies and also suggest dog shows where you can see the breed and speak to a breeder.

Date Claimers

We have two major events in Zone 2 coming in September with the Amenities Triple Header Championship Shows and the Dogs Queensland RAFT Committee National Retrieving Championships.

The Amenities shows raise much needed funds for Zone 2 so it would be great if as many members as possible supported these.

This year, on the decision of the previous Amenities Committee headed up by Robyn Nicholson, these shows are being held in Sarina on 19th and 20th September with an international panel of judges from New Zealand.

Please keep your eye out for the schedule for these shows and support them. The proceeds of the zone amenities funds is to provide much needed assistance to clubs in the zone, so it is in everyone's interest to support them.

Zone 2 Showcase

The Queensland Dog World

The Dogs Queensland RAFT Committee National Retrieving Championships are being held in Bundaberg on the 4th, 5th and 6th of September.

The retrieving discipline is one of the wide varieties of dog activities conducted by Dogs Queensland and hosting the national championship is a great honour for Dogs Queensland and our Zone.

Junior Handler Raffle

The Junior Handler Committee are conducting a fundraiser to support junior handler events / activities.

Whilst this is a Queensland-wide fundraiser, tickets will be available and on sale to members in Zone 2 at our shows. I have a supply of tickets and am happy to issue books to those who may like to take some to their home club for sale.

With a fantastic prize of a $750 C Crates Voucher generously donated by our President, Mr Shane Thomas, the $2 tickets (or three for $5.00) are well worth it.

This will also assist the Junior Handler Committee in supporting their activities financially.

This very active Committee is composed of some very hard workers who undertake endless fundraising activities to support the young people in our hobby.

Did you know?

If there is an issue or incident at a show or event, it is very important to let the Event Manager know about it so that something can be done.

Many times we see online or hear of accusations of members breaking the rules at shows. If we have knowledge of this, has it been reported to the Event Manager?

The Event Manager has a duty to ensure that the rules are being followed and that all members can enjoy their hobby in a fair and equitable manner, so it is very important in the event of an issue to inform the Event Manager.

We have a reciprocal duty as members to ensure that the Event Manager has the information to do their job.

Many members do not like to get involved in disputes or complaints, however a failure to report any issues will result in no action and actually reinforces rule breaches and bad behaviour because it is not addressed.

The Event Manager cannot do anything about an issue that they are not aware of. Members certainly don't have to get themselves involved in an incident but by reporting it can ensure that appropriate action can be taken.

Submissions

Submissions are always welcome for the column. If you have a news item, an idea for a story, photos, or want to report a special or significant achievement, please not hesitate to contact me. Any information can be emailed to me at craig.pettett1@bigpond.com

Until next time.

10 THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT JUDGING ENGLISH SPRINGER SPANIELS

Submitted by the ESSFTA Judge's Education Committee Laurin Howard, Chair
Primary author, Kathy Lorentzen

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

1 Size DOES matter. Got your attention? Good.

The breed standard uses words and phrases such as 'sturdy', 'muscular', 'strong', 'power' and 'every inch a sporting dog'. The standard sets specific height to weight parameters (i.e. a 20 inch tall dog, in good condition, will weigh approximately 50 pounds) and these parameters should be carefully considered when judging the breed.

A 20 inch tall dog that weighs 50 pounds will 'pick up heavy' (think of picking up a 50 pound bag of dog food). In many instances today, the breed is losing its sturdiness. Strong, but not excessively heavy, bone, properly shaped, oval ribs that carry well down to the elbow, broad, deep, muscular loins and wide, strong, well muscled upper and lower thighs have given way to over refinement, lack of rib, and excessively narrow loins and thighs, creating dogs that completely lack the correct weight requirement for their height.

While the breed should of course NEVER be coarse or cumbersome, it certainly is critical that it retain the characteristics that make it a strong, athletic, active and vigorous hunting dog that is able to 'go, and keep going, under difficult hunting conditions'.

Feature Breed

The Queensland Dog World

2 Thanks to my buddy Elliott Weiss, for coining the phrase, 'they DO walk on their heads'. Just what does that phrase mean?

It means that while our breed may not be a 'head breed' such as the Collie or the Bulldog, every requirement in the head section of the standard is there for a REASON, and that reason is to help the dog fulfill its original purpose, that of finding, flushing and retrieving game.

They do walk on their heads when they hunt because they use their eyes, ears, nose, jaws, etc. to do their job, and the more correct the head construction, the better the dog will sight, scent and retrieve. Please read the extensive head section of our breed standard and make every effort to reward correct heads.

Look for things such as deep set, forward placed eyes, well developed eyebrows that are the highest point of the skull (the standard says FLAT on top, remember?), long, deep broad forefaces with strong under jaws, and parallel planes of the skull and foreface, with a nasal bone that is straight.

3 A correct front assembly is everything (well ok, almost everything!). The ESS standard calls for a WELL ANGULATED front assembly. Long sloping shoulder blades that come fairly close together at the tips, coupled with a long upper arm that sets the elbows well back under the dog. Ideally, the elbow should be under the tip of the shoulder blades and the neck and head should be out in front of that point.

Far too many dogs of this breed today stand with their elbows under their ears, totally lacking the length and angle of the bones of the front assembly that, when correct, give this breed its easy, free 'swing from the shoulder blade' gait. Think the word 'long' when judging this breed. No, not long cast, but LONG head, LONG neck, LONG sloping shoulder blades and upper arms.

4 While we are on LONG, always remember that the English Springer Spaniel should be upstanding with a good amount of leg length. LONG legs. The breed should never be short legged or squatty. LONG ribcage and short loin are the correct combination of body properties for this breed, giving it the correct upstanding, short backed profile called for in the standard.

5 Colour matters, markings don't.

The standard is very brief on this subject. Black and white, white and black, liver and white, white and liver, with or without ticking and/or roaning, with or without tan markings. That's it folks. There are NO preferred or required marking patterns in this breed.

Simply paint them all black (or white!) in your head and judge the DOGS, not the external trappings. You can LOVE the way a particular dog is marked, but you cannot AWARD the dog on the basis of its markings.

A few red or lemon dogs in this breed do exist, but I doubt you will ever see one in the ring. However if you do, please do not award it a ribbon.

6 Coat condition matters. Coat quantity really doesn't. Over the years, as in many other Sporting breeds, the ESS has been bred to grow more and more coat. It is not the amount of coat that is important, but the condition of the coat.

Some undercoat should be apparent, regardless of season or climate. Outer coat on the body should be firm and resilient, with a live, healthy glossy appearance.

The outer coat should lie flat to the ribcage, and it may be either straight or wavy. While the ESS should be 'nicely furnished' with feathering, an excessive amount is definitely not required.

The standard is specific on this point. Coat quality and condition are to take precedence over quantity.

- 7 Trimming. Where to begin? Again, as in many other breeds of show dogs, grooming and trimming in this country have advanced to quite an art form. Yet our standard states some specific requirements about trimming that should not be ignored by judges.

It is certainly legitimate to trim the breed in a manner that enhances a 'smart, functional appearance'. Above all, the final appearance should be NATURAL. Which means that the dog should look like its coat GREW that way, not like it was barbered into existence. Topcoats should have length to protect the dog from the elements when working; they should not be scissored off to an inch in length!

Outlines should be trimmed to give the dog an attractive, but natural silhouette, not trimmed with straight scissors like a paper cut out. Quote from the standard- 'Overtrimming, especially the body coat, or any chopped, barbered or artificial effect is to be penalized in the show ring, as is excessive feathering that destroys the clean outline desirable in a sporting dog.'

- 8 Croups, tail sets and tail carriage. Now there's a mouthful! The only flushing spaniel that should carry its tail directly off the back with no slope to the croup is the Cocker Spaniel. Maybe I should say that again.

The only flushing spaniel that should carry its tail directly off the back with no slope to the croup is the Cocker Spaniel. The ESS croup should slope gently to the set on of the tail, and the tail should ideally be carried at 2-3 o'clock. Every other ESS breed standard in the world, except the North American ones, still calls for the tail to be 'set on low'.

Tails in North America have gradually migrated upward in both set and carriage for many years, with the result that the pelvic slope has been drastically reduced, opening the angle of the pelvis and femur and creating structure that places the rear feet of the dog far out behind a line dropped from the point of the buttocks, instead of placing the rear toes just behind that line.

The changes caused by this pelvic slope are not simply aesthetic; instead the results are rear legs that are not placed under the body at the correct point to support the dogs center of gravity and a change in movement from long steps on the ground to short steps on the ground with a lot of 'kick' in the air behind the dog.

- 9 The ESS is an efficient trotting dog, capable of utilising its legs at a trot for long periods of time on often difficult terrain when hunting. An efficient trotting dog is one that keeps its legs on the ground for long periods of each stride. Feet only work when they are on the ground, propelling the body forward with power and ease. There is far too much lift and kick seen in the breed today.

While it might LOOK fancy and long strided that sort of motion is totally incorrect because it expends far more energy than a stride that is long on the ground.

The ESS should swing its front legs forward from the shoulder blade, not pop them forward from the elbow. The only way this can be achieved is for the dog to have the correct length and angle of the bones of the front assembly. The hindquarter provides the forward propulsion, and the longer that the rear foot stays on the ground, accompanied by the forceful opening of the hip, stifle and hock joints, the easier and more efficient the gait will be.

Correctly built and muscled English Springer Spaniels should move freely and easily in a gait that seems effortless. The fast, choppy, short stepping motion, or the high lifting and kicking motion also all too often seen, are both incorrect.

Feature Breed

The Queensland Dog World

10 Numbers 1 through nine above all come together in number 10, which is Silhouette and Proportion. These two things are critical in the English Springer Spaniel. A well proportioned dog, correctly built, properly angulated, free from exaggeration, with the right amount of bone and substance and the correct shape and length of head and neck, will present a clean, smooth, upstanding silhouette, combining the essential elements of both beauty and utility.

The correct silhouette and proportion are what express the proper breed type of the individual dog. Always look for the outline that is represented in Figure 1 (below), and beware of the myriad of failings of the outline in Figure 2 (below), though the dog might at first strike you as eye catching or fancy.

The breed should carry its correct, upstanding outline and proportion when it moves. The head will (and should be allowed to, by the handler) go somewhat forward to assist in balance, but the dog should never sink to the ground or appear low in action.

A Fun Day Raising Funds for Guide Dogs Queensland

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Supplied by Gay Westmore

On the morning of Sunday 12th July when the mercury plummeted across eastern Australia, members of Pine Rivers Dog Training Club set up for their Open Day, a fun day organised to support Guide Dogs Queensland.

As the day progressed the wind abated, and it turned into a beautiful winter's day, and all the humans and dogs attending had a great day.

The Open Day was the brainchild of Rachel Regan, and the Club was highly supportive of the initiative as a fun day for dog lovers in the community and a fund-raiser for Guide Dogs Queensland.

Rachel did a great job of promoting the day, through the media, local vet surgeries and pet stores, and a range of other local businesses, and there was an excellent attendance.

Judging under way in one of the fun competitions

There was a variety of competitions held across the day, from the best coat and best gait through to the best trick, the dog with the waggiest tail and the dog and handler who looked most alike!

Some of the happy community members – handlers and dogs, all of whom had a great day out

Competition classes catered for dogs and handlers of all ages, with a special puppy class and a children's class. In the latter, the children (most accompanied in the ring by their parents) were asked to tell the judge about their dog and to show the judge some behaviour or trick their dog could perform. In many classes all the competitors were winners, with first, second and third place awards, but special gifts all round.

The event was sponsored by some generous local businesses, including Rachel Regan Photography, Best Friends Pet Supercentre, Jordan Dog Training, Strathpine Vets, Winston Manner, The Hound Hutt, City Coast Limousines, Jeanette's Special Keepsakes and of course Pine Rivers Dog Training Club. In addition, there were stalls selling a variety of goods, from Guide Dogs merchandise to dog coats, leads and bling food bowls, and there were even free toenail cutting sessions. Many of the 'judges' were representatives from the various sponsor businesses and from the Club.

Club members also put on several demonstrations. The Flyball relays were a real crowd pleaser, while Judy Hankin demonstrated some advanced obedience exercises with her Labrador Bridie, and Roslyn Smith and Jeddah showed off some trick behaviours, which they have learnt for Dances with Dogs.

The day certainly met its objectives of engaging community members and their dogs, and raising money for the Guide Dogs – with in excess of $500 being raised.

Guide Dogs Queensland was ably represented here by Guide-Dog-in-Training, Barry, and his handler.

Dances with Dogs State and National

26th to 27th June, 2015

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Supplied by Coral Pethers

What do a cat, a fish, a boxer, a mouse, a car washer, a cowboy, a basketballer, a policeman, a pirate, Michael Jackson, and Harry Potter have in common? Well, they were all at our Dances With Dogs State and National weekend!

It was a fantastic two days at the Dogs Queensland grounds in Durack, Brisbane, the grounds were beautifully manicured and everything went smoothly.

The weather was on our side as it was forecasted for showers on both days and this did not happen, apart from a slight drizzle at the National presentations just as we finished. It was quite chilly during the evening but this just enervated the dogs and they were full of pep.

There was a record of one hundred and three entries over the two days, with twenty one different breeds represented, and with an incredible fifty six qualifications.

Congratulations to our National Champion Teresa Pope's Tux (Finnish Lapphund) (Qld) winning out of the HTM Starters Class. Congratulations also to Sue's Kai (Bernese Mt Dog) (Vic) which became a HTM Champion at the State Titles.

Others to gain titles were:

Karen Moore (Qld) and Bobby (Malinois) HTM Starters, Lydia Cowan (Vic) and Ted (Papillon) F/S Starters, Karen Doenitz (Qld) and Rylee (Maltese X Shih Tzu) F/S Novice, Christina Winter (Qld) and Penny (Labrador) F/S Intermediate, Janet Richmond (Qld) and Reuben (Brittany) F/S Intermediate, Deb Harvey (Vic) and Tia (Aust Cattle Dog) F/S Advanced.

There were seven handlers from Victoria and two from New South Wales as well as our Queensland entrants. Thanks to those handlers for travelling all the way to Queensland for the Competitions.

Running at the same time as the Dances with Dogs State and National on the Dogs Queensland grounds were the State and National Obedience, State and National Rally and State Agility.

Our DWD dogs are very multi-talented, many of them competing in the there other disciplines and gaining Passes and Titles. Two handlers from Victoria, Sarah and Deb pulled off the trifecta, three passes in three disciplines at two Nationals!

There are many to be thanked for the great success of the Dances with Dogs State and National including sponsors, trophies and prizes:

Royal Canin Dog Food, Dogs Queensland, Houndbag (Sue Cordwell), Tuff Dog Coats, Activity Dogs (Val Bulte), All Paws Paradise (Angie Burke), Doggone Smart, Love'Em Treats, Dances With Dogs Club Qld Inc, Ann and Switch (Ann Shannon), Janet Richmond, Peter Mason, Christina Winter, Wendy Russell, Vyvyan Mannion, Maree Rablin, Gay Westmore, Col and Barbara Murfet, Dances With Dogs Sub-Committee, Loretta Rabbitt, Trevor Telford and Coral Pethers, Obedience State Trials Sub-Committee, Toowoomba Dog Obedience Club Inc, Bonnie's Dog Obedience and Caboolture Sports Dog Obedience Club.

Also, many thanks to our workers who did a sterling job to ensure everything was on time and ran like clockwork. Unfortunately our Interstate Judge Judy Turley from Sydney was ill and unable to attend, her place was taken by Vyvyan Mannion at the State Titles and Coral Pethers at the National.

All in all a very memorable two days!
