Congratulations!

Welcome to the October issue of the new Queensland Dog World.

The radio package, put together by the Marketing PR and Media Committee, which encompassed the National Agility Trial, the EKKA and the All Dogs Sports Spectacular, definitely contributed to the success of all three events for Dogs Queensland. A detailed report appears in this issue.

The public attendance, despite the heavy rain the day before the All Dog Sports Spectacular, was of great value not only to Dogs Queensland but for the Ronald McDonald House Charities (Herston) through the gold coin gate monies, collected on their behalf totalling $1541.85.

Congratulations goes to the two young winners of the colouring in completion, judged by Ronald McDonald, Dakota from Inala aged four and Harrison from Hemmant aged nine, we all hope you have hours of fun with your new bikes.

As Dogs Queensland is a volunteer based organisation, I cannot stress enough how important the continued support of volunteers, be they non-members, members or office staff, who give willing of their time and effort to ensure the success of Dogs Queensland's events. Thank you for your tireless devotion to our organisation.

A reminder to all clubs and Dogs Queensland committees, 20% of entry monies received at shows are to be exclusively used on trophies, this does not include sponsorship or donations. We have received numerous reports that this procedure has not been followed lately. All Show Managers please pay attention to this matter and report non-compliance of this rule.

Lately Directors are receiving more e-mails and phone calls regarding the findings of Breaches Hearings, so again let me state the following. The Breaches Panel is entirely independent of the Board of Directors and consists of a legal person, the Chair and two Dogs Queensland members, who can only make decisions on the information gathered and presented to them.

There is an appeals process then available for members to follow if they so wish. There will of course be times when not all members will be happy with the outcome; that unfortunately is a fact of life. But continued harassment of Directors because of this is not acceptable.

Lastly, I would like to end on a positive note, congratulations to the following six new All Breeds Judges, truly a great achievement:

Notice to advertisers

The Trade Practices Act came into force on 1st October 1974. Certain provisions of the Act relating to consumer protection place a heavy burden upon advertisers, advertising agents and the publishers of advertisements.

In view of the obvious impossibility of our ensuring that advertisements submitted for publication comply with the Act, advertisers themselves need to ensure that the provisions of the Act are strictly complied with.

In cases of doubt, advertisers are advised to seek legal advice before submitting advertising material.

Catering at Durack

Council requests expressions of interest from all clubs for catering/canteen applications for the Specialty Breed days at Durack for 2015.

Judges training 2014/15

Due to an insufficient number of applications, no metropolitan breed lectures in Groups 1, 3 and 4 will be presented in the 2014/15 Durack program. There was a mistake in the Group 7 lecture dates: the Great Dane and Canaan Dog lecture will actually take place on the 25th of March 2015.

Notes from Durack

The number of cigarette butts left in and around the rings is not acceptable. Please place them in the ash trays provided at all times. Also, holes are being made by dogs and their owners especially around rings 1, 2 and the judges training room. Please have respect for your grounds at all times.

Members from all clubs that utilise kitchen facilities at any venue and not just Durack, would require someone with a Food Handling Certificate to be in attendance.

Draft strategy plan out soon!

All eleven regional workshops have now been held in the second round of consultations on the five year strategic plan for Dogs Queensland. The conversations have been vigorous, positive and optimistic with some very interesting proposals coming forward.

To get an even better feel for the Dogs Queensland vision and issues our strategic planning consultant, Howard Nielsen, spent a morning at the RNA doing the rounds of the dog events, observing the judging and immersing himself in the general 'dog show' experience.

He has also been consulting with other stakeholders in the dog world prior to working with the board and others on a draft strategic plan. This draft plan will be circulated to all members for their feedback prior to finalisation.

This draft plan should be circulated sometime in October so members should check their emails and also the website at that time.

For further information please contact:

October's picks include both the Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen and Hairless Dog breeds.

The breeds featured this month are very interesting, unfortunately, the Library does not have any books or articles on the Tenterfield Terrier but we would welcome any possible book donations.

We do however have one book on the Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen which is a small but comprehensive book by Jeffrey Pepper. A TFH publication, the book outlines the history of the breed and also includes tips on both care and grooming.

The Library has also recently purchased new books on hairless dogs that are now making an impact on the show arena. These breeds include the Xoloitzcuintle, 'Hairless Dogs – The Naked Truth' and 'Hairless Dogs – A Complete Anthology of the Breeds'. Both these books are available for borrowing.

Instead of a normal 'book review' this month, we have an article written by trainee judge Mrs L. Roebig on how the Library has helped her with researching and preparing for judges training.

In the August issue of the 'Dog World' magazine, there was an advertisement published regarding a book titled 'A Dog Called Blue'. We currently hold two copies of the book in our Library should anyone be interested in following up on this notice. One copy we have was donated to the Library by the author herself, Noreen R. Clark.

Visiting the Library

The Library is located at the rear of the club house next to the meeting rooms and board room. Recent visitors have remarked on the quality and quantity of the books we have. But it is not only books, we have catalogues for royal shows, magazines galore, DVDs and videos.

Please come and visit, you would be most welcome!

'The Well Dog Book'

Written by Terri McGinnis
D.V.M.

Reviewed by Mrs L. Roebig
Trainee judge

As a trainee judge, I very much appreciate the fact that Dogs Queensland has a Library at Durack, which is available for use to all members. It's a wonderful resource and has certainly furthered my knowledge.

I am currently reading 'The Popular Pekingese' written by John A. Vlasto, published in 1958 and donated to the Library by P and F. Jerney of 'Peteda Kennels.'

'The Popular Pekingese' is a very informative book and covers the origin and the history of the breed as well as the standards of both points, and show points. Both are explained in great detail with the explanation of show points being of particular benefit.

There are also thirty one pages in chapter three complete with detailed diagrams and relevant explanations of the Pekingese standard.

As a resource this informative book can help give trainee judges the confidence to compare the standard of the Pekingese when judging.

The other book that I have found invaluable is 'The Well Dog Book' written by Terri McGinnis. I have this book in my personal Library and was pleased to see it in the Dogs Queensland Library on one of my visits.

I have found this book most useful as the information is written in simple terms and is explanatory without being technical. It's also practical and full of information about everyday approaches to animal ownership and dog care.

'The Well Dog Book' demonstrates how to understand any potential signs of illness or injury that may occur to a dog, and how to evaluate those signs in order to administer proper treatment. In some cases, the reader is advised to seek a veterinarian's help and in other cases, directions are outlined as to how home treatment can be pursued.

'The Well Dog Book' is written as a paramedics manual for dogs, standing halfway between a healthy dog and the need for a veterinarian's skill. It helps elevate an understanding of a dogs body, what is normal and what is not!

The Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Feature breed by Amanda Cooney
Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen breeder, exhibitor and judge

In French, the correct pronunciation is 'Puh-TEE, Bah-SAY, Gree-FOHN, VON-day-uhn'. The Frenchmen who named the breed quite aptly describes the dog's appearance when you understand the French translation.

'Petit' meaning small, 'Basset' meaning low to the ground, 'Griffon' meaning wiry-haired and 'Vendeen' referencing the region in France where the breed developed.

Not so bad now that you know what it means! To make it easier, the name is shortened by people who have trouble with the long pronunciation each time the breed is discussed. Some examples include PBGVs, PBs or Petits and in some countries roughies, griffons or griffs.

The Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen is a small, rough-coated rustic and hardy, game scenting hound bred to hunt rabbit and hare. The breed is friendly, outgoing, willing to please, busy, intelligent, curious and full of confidence.

The words 'innocent devilment' are often associated with the breed, and they are also attributed nicknames like 'the happy breed' based on their consistent ability to amuse their owners with their never ending play and the joy they find in just being alive.

A little history

From their larger ancestors, French hounds were gradually bred into their present day form not only for prey but also to cope with the needs of their particular geographic area. For the hounds of the Vendee, the dense, thorny, vegetation of this rocky region made hunting difficult.

Leading into the 19th century, a hardy dog was needed - one with physical and mental stamina and whose coat could resist brambles and thorns. Several rough-coated hounds including the Basset Griffon Vendeen were developed specifically for hunting in the difficult terrain.

Coupled with this, deer hunting had also long been the sport of kings and noblemen who could afford to ride on horseback using large, swift, powerful hounds. Those, not as wealthy followed smaller game and even boar on foot, and for this they needed a slower hound.

The most practical way to restrict speed was to shorten the length of leg and thus, evolution and breeding strategy produced a practical 'low-to-the-ground' scent hound, ideal for both local terrain and pace.

An attempt to standardise the Basset Griffon Vendeen breed was not undertaken seriously until the latter half of the 19th century when the breed began to appear at dog shows. Before 1898 when the first official standards of the Basset Griffon Français became adopted, judges at the great French 'expositions' made their decisions without the benefit of this guidance on breed type. Moving on in time, the development of Griffon Vendeen hounds in France were linked in every way to the Dézamy family from La Chaize-le-Vicomte. With the formation, in 1907, of the Club du Griffon Vendeen, Paul Dézamy was its first President.

In 1909, the standard for the Basset Griffon Vendeen recognised two types of the breed, the variation in height and the significant difference in the crook of the front leg. The Grand type had straight front legs while the Petit sometimes had a semi-crook.

In the 1950s new standards were published, and the Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen were given an official standard of its own and considered a separate breed. However, with the earlier practice of interbreeding both the Petit and the Grand types, it was common at that time for offspring from the same litter to be of both Petit and Grand (Paul Dézamy became noted for his distinct 42cm Grands, referred to as '42 Dézamys').

In 1977, his grandson Hubert Désamy finally banned interbreeding, but for many subsequent generations the results of this practice manifested themselves until the Petit Basset was said to be finally free of Grand Basset traits such as an overall more substantial appearance, longer back and heavier ears.

History in Australia

Petit Basset Griffon Vendeens were introduced to Australia back in 1973, around the similar time they were introduced to the UK and even before they arrived in the USA by Mrs Edie Hurling of NSW and Mrs Troy. One of the first to step onto Australian soil was the dog brought out by Mrs Hurling, 'Jomil Ajax' who was bred in France by Mrs Seiffert and Mrs Wells and registered by them in England.

He was an orange and white dog and was shortly followed by a bitch 'Claudette' from the same people. Although there were three litters born in 1977, 1978 and 1979, due to breeding difficulties and mostly male puppies being born, along with the high cost of importing dogs and the long quarantine associated with this at the time, the breed slowly died out completely in Australia. It is interesting to note that one of the puppies bred by Mrs Hurling 'Ch. Majesty Zelbeck' gained his CD and is regarded to be the first Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen in the world to hold an obedience title (quite an achievement for Australia in the history of the breed!).

In the late nineties, the breed has had another resurgence in Australia. With the importation of PBGVs from the USA by Bonhaven Kennels in NSW and also from the UK by Ebttide Kennels in Queensland (which moved to Victoria for a time but has since relocated back in Queensland) along with the Danish, French, USA and UK lines imported by Rokeena Kennels.

This time around, with the amount and variation of bloodlines brought to this country, and the careful breeding and selection that has been done so far, the PBGVs future looks to be secure and flourishing in Australia. This is reflected by some of the strong, healthy and world class dogs that have been bred here to date. The success of the breed 'downunder' has also been enhanced by the arrival of the first PBGVs to Australia's close neighbour, New Zealand.

Characteristics, health and grooming

The Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen is friendly, outgoing, alert and willing to please, but not servile. The breed is small in size, busy by nature and a fantastic hunter. They are also stubborn and easily excitable. As a pack animal by nature, PBGVs are not particularly dog aggressive and usually get on well with other dogs. They can however be little scrappers and fights can and do occasionally break out. Petit Basset Griffon Vendeens seem to have definite opinions about which dogs they like and which they don't, and it can be hard to change their mind once it's made up.

Regarding health, PBGVs are a hearty, long-lived dog, but the breed does have some health problems to watch out for. None are particularly common, although that is no consolation if your puppy is the one affected.

While PBGVs do not shed in the manner of a Labrador or other short coated breed, they do continually loose hair, much like a human does and they require regular brushing to avoid finding hair all over your furniture and clothes. They also need combing to avoid matting of the undercoat. If they are regularly combed and brushed, they shouldn't need to be bathed very often. They have big strong nails that also need to be kept clipped back.

The Tenterfield Terrier

Dogs Queensland Exclusive

Feature breed by Mary Holt

It is commonly believed that small terriers including other similar types found their way to Australia on early settlement ships, but more conclusive historical evidence is undocumented. Being small and agile, dogs of this type have been an integral part of Australian life, with very few early farms or households without a dog of this type thanks to its amazing ratting ability.

It is also believed based on early photographs that small terriers were often used for hunting purposes, being carried in saddle bags and released once prey went to ground. Their agility allowed terriers to leap up to be caught and placed in saddle bags whilst the handler sat in the saddle.

Tenterfield Terriers of today retain this ability and hence thrive in agility, flyball and other sporting tasks. Many are also very adept to climbing and are considered to be very catlike in their ability to negotiate obstacles.

Once commonly known as the 'Mini Foxie' this name was abandoned on the long road to recognition in 2002. One of the fundamental reasons for this name is that the Tenterfield Terrier is not a miniaturisation of the Fox Terrier, and there is little evidence that the Fox Terrier featured heavily if at all in the breed's development.

The name 'Tenterfield Terrier' was chosen after an Australian wide survey was undertaken to determine an appropriate name for this wonderful and truly Australian breed.

The reference to Tenterfield is to acknowledge the influence that the 'Tenterfield Saddler,' George Woolnough, had on the early development of Terriers of similar type to the Tenterfield's of today. George was often seen and photographed with a multitude of 'his' little terriers.

Average size, weight and lifespan

Dogs: 25cm - 30cm (10 - 12 inches approx) in height
Bitches: 25cm - 30cm (10 - 12 inches approx) in height
Weight: 5kg (approx)
Lifespan: 15 years (approx)

Temperament

The Tenterfield Terrier is a happy, outgoing and highly intelligent dog. With appropriate socialising they are equally at home with large and small dogs, although a true terrier can live harmoniously with cats and other small pets.

The breed bonds solidly with their human pack and will offer each family member what they need from a dog. That is; they are equally at home sitting on the lounge next to dad watching the footy or spending hours running with kids in the backyard. Amazingly sensitive they often also recognise when someone isn't well and needs to be watched over.

Appearance

Standing at 25.5 – 30.5cms (10 – 12 inches) tall a Tenterfield Terriers size belies its strength, which shouldn't be confused with stockiness. They should give an overall picture of agility and balance. They are a single coated breed that should be short and with the coat laying close to the body.

The breed predominantly exhibits white with black, tan or liver markings in any combination however, brindle markings are undesirable. Nose colour and pigmentation on the dog should be reflective of the coat colour. That is; black dogs will have a black nose, and true liver dogs will have a liver coloured nose and pigment. Tenterfield Terriers are also unique in that they are the only terrier breed in Australia that has a natural bob tail.

Because of this trait, tails of any length are equally acceptable in the show ring however, balance should always be the overriding criteria in its assessment.

Health

Tenterfield Terriers are considered to be a relatively healthy breed; however, in recent years Primary Lens Luxation and Congenital Hypothyroidism with Goitre has been identified on a few occasions. The dedicated breeders of Tenterfield Terriers have been extremely proactive in testing and breeding to eliminate these hereditary diseases.

As with other small dogs Patella Subluxation also appears within the breed but today it's almost non-existent due to extensive voluntary screening that breeders undertake. Many Tenterfield Terriers are known to live beyond fifteen years of age and dedicated Tenterfield Terrier breeders continue to take part in appropriate research trials that will enable the tackling of any health concerns that may appear in the future.

Maintenance

A Tenterfield Terrier is one of the simplest breeds of dog to care for as they only require a regular nail clipping and a quick wash to keep them looking good.

They are often referred to as a 'wash and wear dog' as they take great joy in running around the yard like a spin dry cycle in a washing machine. Between baths a simple wipe over with a damp cloth will keep a Tenterfield Terrier looking good and remove any loose hair from their coat.

Suitability

Tenterfield Terriers are equally at home on the farm, in a small suburban backyard or even in an apartment given enough stimulation to hold their inquisitive nature. An environment void of toys and things to do will find your Tentie discovering their own ways to occupy themselves, and this is how they can get up to all sorts of harmless mischief.

Equally at home with either the elderly, the recently retired or young kids, the Tenterfield Terrier will adapt to the needs of the family they live with. Being highly intelligent they thrive when given a job to do and insist on being an integral part of the family. They will not do well if left to their own devices.

The breed make ideal travelling companions and are wonderful alarm dogs, letting you know if something isn't quite right around the home.

Many thrive in agility and obedience and at many other tasks. Their ability to learn and adapt is equal to most working dogs, if appropriate training techniques are used. Trick training is also a fun way for kids and Tenties to bond.

Conclusion

Now you know a little about the breed, if you decide this dog is for you, or you want more information please don't hesitate to contact the relevant breeders club or Dogs Queensland.

Both will be able to give you information about available puppies and also suggest dog shows where you can see the breed and speak to breeders.

From the Marketing Desk

What an eventful few months. Three major events, National Agility Trials, The RNA EKKA and the All Dogs Sports Spectacular. Each of these events was brought to the market with precision thanks to the diligence of the tireless working parties behind the scenes. The amount of organising, scheduling and finalising the finer details leave you gasping and wondering how it can all happen. Happen it did, with amazing seamlessness (or so it appeared).

The subcommittee for National Agility Trials was well into the organising phase when the marketing team offered to assist in the promotional activity. A radio program had been booked commencing in June and designed to promote the first event. Posters and flyers were prepared in house and distributed to local schools, shopping centres, businesses and houses.

Media releases were prepared and sent to press, radio and television stations. This appeared to work as we had ABC television attend the event and put to air a two-minute coverage on the Sunday evening news. Whilst we had not specifically targeted public attendance, it was apparent that the public were interested in the sporting activities being presented.

The subcommittee nominated their charity for the event as Delta Dogs and all donations went to that cause.

Some three weeks later, the RNA EKKA commenced. A call for volunteers to help with the packing of show bags was met with an overwhelming response. The team of volunteers managed to get over 1000 bags packed and finished at lunchtime.

What a great achievement, but this was only the beginning. All product, merchandise and equipment was then transported to the RNA, unloaded and displayed.

The EKKA saw the launch of the association with Ronald McDonald House and our endeavours to raise funds to ensure that therapy dogs could continue to visit seriously ill children and their families. Delta Therapy Dogs were elected by Ronald McDonald House to conduct the visits to their houses and Dogs Queensland agreed to raise sufficient funds to guarantee the visits to children.

Ronald McDonald himself was secured to visit the EKKA along with two of the Delta Therapy Dogs, Luca (an Alaskan Malamute) and Zeon (a beautiful Bernese Mountain Dog).

The stroll with Ronald through the crowd drew a lot of attention to the Dogs Queensland stand, with children and their parents stopping along the way to have their photos taken.

Ronald even stopped to say hello to the Morecombe's as they made their way to the EKKA.

The next visit was to the Ronald McDonald House facilities where the reality of what these beautiful dogs could do for sick children was demonstrated first hand.

Peter Mitropolous, Director of Shopping Lane, Ronald himself and John Hansen Dogs Queensland volunteer and tireless worker on the Marketing and PR Committee.

Ronald with Delta Dogs Luca and Zeon

The All Dogs Sports Spectacular commenced just one week after the EKKA was over. What an event, the public really got behind this event and attended in great numbers. Congratulations to all the dedicated volunteers who looked after the Dogs Queensland stand and assisted in collecting donations at the gate to raise those needed funds for Ronald McDonald House Charities.

Again, the Delta Dogs and their owners turned out in force to help raise those needed funds. The target was achieved, and sufficient funds were raised to have the therapy dogs in place at one Ronald McDonald house for over three years. Delta Dogs were over the moon with the results and included this article in their recent newsletter:

'Dogs Queensland supporting Delta.'

A beautiful relationship was formed this year with Dogs Queensland and for anyone who follows Delta on Facebook and Twitter you would have seen the hive of events we have been involved with together.

This very special bond has now given us the opportunity to start visits to Ronald McDonald House in Brisbane with their support. For Delta, this is a fantastic achievement, and we are hopeful that this might open the doors for us to visit the Ronald McDonald Houses in other states. Thank you Dogs Queensland for your support both monetarily and in-kind for our Program. We think it is a great synergy!

Through our fund raising efforts and promotional activity, Dogs Queensland has been announced as a 'member of the Red Bandanna Club' and were sponsoring three Delta Dogs.

- Michelle and John French with Zeon who visit The Prince Charles Hospital - Medium Secure Unit, Chermside, Qld
- Monica Brigden and Holly who visit Connolly Court Hostel, Edens Landing, Qld.
- Chris Brandt and Luca who visit Karinya Village, Laidley, Qld

These beautiful dogs will now proudly wear their red bandannas with the Dogs Queensland logo to these facilities.

Ronald McDonald House Charities provided two children's push bikes to be offered as prizes for a colouring in competition. Ronald chose the winners;

Dakota from Inala – a four-year-old girl who was excited and just could not wait to ride her new bike.

Harrison from Hemmant – a ten-year-old young lad, who couldn't wait to get his new bike as his other one had simply worn out.

Children were catered for at the All Dogs Sports Spectacular, with passports being issued, and stamps could be collected at the breed stalls, with completed passports being presented at the Dogs Queensland stand for a lucky dip prize.

There were so many people who gave their time and energy willingly to make sure these events were successful and it showed. Many comments were received that the events were well attended by members, exhibitors and the public.

Additionally, through the attendance of members of parliament and the media we were able to tell the story of Dogs Queensland and the important role the organisation plays in the community.

This is what makes it all worthwhile.

Junior Handler State Final Heats up

The day before the Junior Handler State Final, the weather was so terrible that Facebook was flooded by constant updates of optimistic and rather hopeful claims that the rain would clear! Preparations were made to gather as many gazebos as possible to help at least make a dry assembly area for the handlers.

Luckily though, the dog show gods must have been looking down on us and the weather after a brief shower on the morning, turned out to be no less than perfect (despite the wind that insisted on blowing over the lovely fence that was around the perfectly square ring!). There was no mud, no rain, and in fact not a cloud in the sky! The weather was the one thing the small JH committee could not control, and we all wanted the day to be perfect as it was the first time the event had been moved to Durack and away from the EKKA.

The move was one that was not taken lightly, with pros and cons all weighed up before the move was made public. The move has turned out to be successful, with positive feedback from the judge, the handlers themselves and parents and spectators. The move to Durack meant that the judge was not rushed, that the ring was even on both sides and that the chaos of getting entry into the EKKA was no longer a factor. Of course, the other benefit is that there was no cost for additional spectators to enter the grounds, which, of course, has been a long suffering negative of the EKKA showgrounds. We were concerned that there wouldn't be the public to watch the final, but we should not have doubted the dog show fraternity who ensured there was a huge crowd watching the event unfold!

The judge for this year's state final was Miss Aimee Petersen from Victoria who is well known for her Cavalier King Charles Spaniels, her involvement in the Junior Kennel Club of Victoria and of course for handling the Puli who became the Australian Representative at the Eukanuba World Challenge in his heyday. Miss Peterson was well-equipped to judge the final, especially as she had previously judged another State final, and plays a huge part in running the Victorian Final each year. Miss Petersen was patient and supportive of the handlers, and worked her way through the large classes to find her eventual winners.

The first class (the under 10s) was the smallest class on the day, but the talent in that class is certainly obvious! The four to make the cut were Kayne Roberts handling a Basenji, Braithan Kuhn handling a Boston, Ella Campbell handling a Mini Schnauzer and Chloe Keast with a Papillion.

The under 13 division was an impressive class, and the judge split the class up in order to better manage the large entry.

Making the cut was Connie Young and her poodle, Eryn Finlay with a Sheltie, Georgia Leslie with an American Cocker and Erin Henzell with a Pug.

The under 18s then entered the ring, and the sheer size of the entire class would have made the most experienced judge nervous, but Miss Petersen split the class again into small and large dogs and then calmly moved the handlers in a triangle, asking them to stack their dog upon their return and then move to the end of the line.

There is some huge depth to this class, and so many handlers could have easily made the cut. The judge cut the handlers down to nine, and then once again made her cut to four. The four who would move to the next round were Olivia Mangin handling a Foxie, Dominic Finlay handling a Boxer, Bianca Hickey handling a Siberian Husky, and Sammy Smith with a Mini Smooth Dachshund.

Lunch then arrived for the handlers, in the form of a Dominos delivery car, and the handlers who had not made the cut then relaxed and happily ate pizza while watching the rest of the final unfold. The final four for the youngest age group entered the ring first after a brief break with their swap dogs and were worked through their paces once more. The eventual winner was announced after some buildup and the applause was massive! Places were:

- Ella Campbell (1st)
- Kayne Roberts (2nd)
- Braithan Kuhn (3rd)
- Chloe Keast (4th)

The middle age group then entered the ring with their swap dogs, and the tension was raised as each handler was put through their paces. Eryn Henzell had been assigned a Brittany; Connie Young was given the Beagle, Georgia Leslie a GSP, and Eryn Finlay a Pointer. Miss Petersen then settled on her placings and handed her results over to the steward to be announced. The eventual placings were:

- Eryn Henzell (1st)
- Connie Young (2nd)
- Georgia Leslie (3rd)
- Eryn Finlay (4th)

Then of course, the class that had drawn the biggest entry, and it seems the biggest crowd, entered the ring. Olivia Mangin was assigned a Britany, Dominic Finlay a Corgi, Bianca a Beagle and Sammy Smith was given the ACD. Miss Petersen seemed to have the most difficulty with this age group, and took her time moving the handlers through their paces. She eventually made her choice, wrote her results down and then stepped back to watch the winners be announced in this order:

- Olivia Mangin (1st)
- Dominic Finlay (2nd)
- Sammy Smith (3rd)
- Bianca Hickey (4th)

The three age group winners, Ella, Olivia and Eryn then entered to ring to declare an overall winner for the state final and choose a representative to go Perth for the National Final. Olivia Mangin was announced the winner, allowing Dominic Finlay to re-enter the ring and then be awarded Runner-up at the 2014 State Final. Just like that, it was over. The build-up to the 2014 State Final was immense, and I was proud to watch the depth of talent of the handlers in each age group.

A huge thanks to Royal Canin for their sponsorship, Dogs Queensland for their assistance and sponsorship and Kylie Leslie and Paws4Effect for donating and running the raffle which funded the pizza lunch, the fence and pot plants around the ring as well as lollies, water and sunscreen for the handlers.

Michael Watt must also be thanked for stepping in and stewarding the event, Kim Travers-Jones for being amazing in organising the swap dogs going to the correct handler on the day, and Karen Ward for helping to assemble the handlers and move them to the ring.

Lastly, a huge congrats must go to the rather small but amazing Junior Handler Committee, led by Ian Rasmussen, who worked tirelessly in the lead up, for an exceptional event. Until next year!

Queensland Dog World

The Dog World update for October 2014

A busy year is again drawing to a close as I put fingers to keyboard for this month's update.

Attention is now turning towards the Queensland Dog of the Year and Puppy of the Year finals being held later this month and in Zone 2 final preparations are underway for the Callide Classic for zone exhibitors.

Strategic planning

Following workshops conducted for the second round of strategic planning, members have started placing some priorities against the key focus areas that are considered a desired future state for the organisation.

Whilst I realise that planning is not everyone's area of passion, the future of our organisation is probably something we can all agree we are interested in. There lies the benefit of becoming engaged and involved in the strategic planning process.

There are some excellent discussions prompted by the ideas coming out of this process that will provide long-term value to Dogs Queensland. If you can be involved in the process more actively, please do so.

Congratulations

Tibetan Top Toy in CQ – congratulations to Tibetan Spaniel 'Leonard' – Sup. Ch. Boldstar Ampo Namba owned by Robyn Herdman who took out Best Exhibit In Show at the CQ Toy Dog Club, Lily Taylor Memorial Show conducted in Rockhampton on Saturday the 5th of July 2014.

With over 100 exhibits in the show the judge Mr Phred Wong (Singapore/Thailand) was excited with his winner – the first Tibetan Spaniel he has ever awarded Best In Show.

All exhibitors had a great time at this well-run event and thanks must go to the club for their efforts to organise the championship and open shows.

Keeping up to date

There are many ways that members can keep up to date with what is happening in the organisation and Dogs Queensland is diversifying the way this is done by not only using the traditional methods of publishing documents on the internet and emailing members, but also by increasing the Facebook activity in terms of publishing information for members benefit.

From a management perspective, members can view the minutes of the board meetings to see the discussions and decisions that the board is undertaking on a monthly basis.

These are published approximately six weeks after the meeting, although at the time of writing there had been no updates since March 2014.

Hopefully, the office will be able to catch this up soon as these are an excellent way for members and particularly regional members to understand the challenges facing the organisation holistically.

What do members enjoy about dog shows?

Like most activities, we are pretty quick to seize on the aspects that maybe we don't like or aren't meeting our expectations in our hobby. Most of us however, will still continue to participate and sometimes wonder why.

To look at our hobby from a positive perspective, there was a recent discussion on Facebook in relation to members naming something positive and the experiences that make them happy.

Just to remind us of why we do this, I have published a few (at the time of writing there were 160 replies to the thread) of the responses.

Some of the positive responses include:

"Spending time with people who share the same passion as me and the understanding and learning received from that."

"Fresh air, sunshine [mostly], animals, healthy competition, nice people who do their best for their dogs..."

"The atmosphere, social gathering and wonderful friendships. Beautiful dogs."

"The people. Yes. The people. Because when push comes to shove they will rally around to help each other, whether it be a broken down car or a missing dog from a trailer."

"I like the fact that the dog world will accept pretty much anyone from all walks of life no matter the financial or social status and all are then treated equally."

"Being told 'nah you can't do that' and showing people you can do that, encouraging others to follow a dream no matter how big or small, no failures in trying, only failure would be those that don't try."

"The vibe! Lol."

"It's where I go to look normal... you can sit over lunch and discuss semen, blood, guts, reproduction... and no one bats an eye... try doing that at a table full of non-animal folk."

"Beautiful dogs and smart, principled people sometimes even with a good sense of humour. They're out there! The joy of following an intelligent judge's decision making. That is good."

Submissions please!

It's always wonderful to receive information and input into the column from members in the zone. Unfortunately, this doesn't happen all too often, so I'm often left to try and hunt down information about the newsworthy happenings or fill the column with what I can come up with.

I'd much rather receive contributions from our members for the conformation shows and the other disciplines to provide an overall picture of the happenings in the Zone 2 Dog World.

If you have any pictures, ideas, topics or events that you would like to have reported, please contact me as the purpose of the column is to disseminate information about our zone. Information can be emailed to me at craig.pettett1@bigpond.com

Until next time, Craig.

DEFYING THE ODDS

Little Broken Dogs Can't Jump

Member Exclusive

Written by Cindy Ireland

After nearly twenty years of owning, breeding, showing and competing with Staffordshire Bull Terriers, I was ready for a change. I chose another terrier breed, the Border Terrier and after a years' wait, Jordi (Edenside Action Packed) arrived in our home.

She fit in really well, was fun to train and was just the most delightful pup. I consistently had people asking about her as we went out and about or as she came to work with me. She created real interest in an unusual breed, and I was so proud of my little dog!

Our bedroom is the rough house zone of our home. Kids, dogs and cats all play rough and tumble games on our bed, and Jordi was no different.

One fateful day, during a moment of silliness, Jordi leapt off our bed and onto the hardwood floors. At first nothing happened. She was a little lame for a day or two, but nothing really seemed to jump out at us. One day as she was sitting at the door, I asked my husband if her leg looked a little crooked. He looked and agreed.

My heart sunk.

We then began months of trying to find answers and having x-rays taken. The first round of x-ray films showed nothing untoward. Time passed, and her leg grew more crooked. A second lot of x-rays were ordered, and my deepest fears were confirmed. Jordi had damaged the growth plates in her front right leg causing the leg to grow crooked. My vet told me it would be very unlikely for her to ever compete in agility and my friends rallied around as my world fell apart. This was the dog I was waiting for, and this was to be my new agility dog and everything was sitting on the ground in little pieces.

With the help of my amazing vet nurse friend Moira Bruce, I was put in touch with a wonderful surgeon. I was privileged to be able to watch the entire surgery and then began a long and tough rehab.

Six weeks of crate rest was followed by months of gentle exercise, swimming and stretching. February 2013 found us beginning agility training, and there began the first glimmer of the dream returning. In late 2013 Jordi started competing in trials with some success but we had a bigger goal in mind!

2014 was the year that Queensland was hosting the National Agility Trial. Jordi had competed in trials in the past but never a trial of this size and for this long. It was going to be four days of trials for my baby dog, and I was worried that she couldn't do it!

Day one saw us competing in Jumping and Agility with Miss Jordi pulling out a clear jumping round and a third place. We had a chance at a finals berth if we could swing a wild card entry.

Day two was a day off for us as it was the Open Competition, and we just weren't ready. Day three and we hit the ground running with an agility qualify and a finals berth!

Day four was Games Day. Jordi and I, along with our gorgeous partner Rebecca Mune and Harry the Lhasa Apso reminded the crowd that sometimes it's about the fun. We participated in our Novice Strategic Pairs, running in tutus complete with spins, twists and aerial displays of jumping by the handlers, not the dogs!

At the end of day four the finalists had been announced and Jordi and I had been named as finalists in the Novice Jumping final as well as the Novice Agility final, which was about the time when the nerves kicked in! Finals day dawned bright, clear and crisp. It was a long wait for our first run with the Open Finals being run first. Jordi spent the morning resting up in her crate while mum paced and bit her nails!

Finally, it was time for the Novice Jumping final and Jordi was first in the ring. The course was fairly easy except for a tricky finish where the novice dog had to be called off an open tunnel entrance and take the jump right next to it, which Jordi did with style and pizzazz. Clear round!

Four dogs had made the final, and we had to wait for the others to finish. The amazing Astro, Cardiff Barnerys Star and his handler Amin Awad had a blistering clear run to finish on a high as the National Novice 300 Jumping Champion, but the little broken dog came in second as the Runner-up National Novice 300 Jumping Dog!

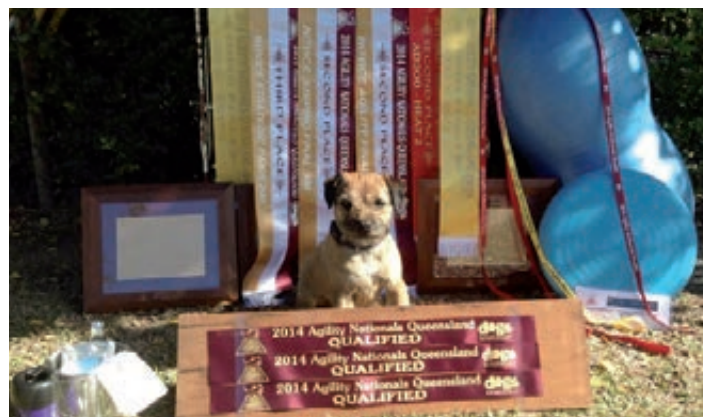

I was over the moon, and we had one more run to go! This time the final was between Jordi and champion Wildenfox Miss Ebony Rose, run by Alison Abbott. Jordi ran first and dropped a bar. There was a long wait which had the competitors and spectators concerned, but it came to light that the timing gear had failed.

After much discussion, it was agreed that Alison would run. If she ran clear, she would win the final. If Miss Ebony dropped a bar, both dogs would run again. If two mistakes were made, Jordi would win. It all came down to one final run. Alison and Miss Ebony ran clear! National Novice 300 Agility Champions! This left Jordi as the National Runner-up Novice Agility Champion.

To say I was on CLOUD 9 is an understatement.

Four days of competition, three clear rounds in the competition, multiple placings and two runner-up titles, all completed by a little dog who had a broken leg eighteen months previously. In one fell swoop, my little broken dog that couldn't jump proved without a shadow of a doubt that she could run and jump with the best of them... and I couldn't be prouder!

If you would like to see more of Jordi's journey and her nationals triumph, feel free to access the links below or follow her on Facebook. After all, even little broken dogs need fan clubs!

Judge David Staines

My wife Marilyn and I started showing Dalmatians in 1976 and then started breeding under the 'LITEFLITE' prefix. We have also shown and bred Bullmastiffs.

Our successes have included Best in Show awards at All Breeds, Specialty, National Specialty and both Toowoomba and Brisbane Royals. I have judged extensively throughout Australia and New Zealand and have been involved in the education of judges in Dalmatians, Bullmastiffs and Group 7.

15 years ago I completed Championship status in five Groups and was ready to complete my hands on exam in the other two, but circumstances prevented this. I am now pleased to have completed these last Groups (1 and 2) and achieved my All Breeds licence.

As an Architect I have always appreciated 'the well built' and 'the well designed' and in judging there is no greater thrill for me than to be able to reward top quality dogs of all breeds - dogs that have been well bred to be well built.

Judge Robyn Hartmire

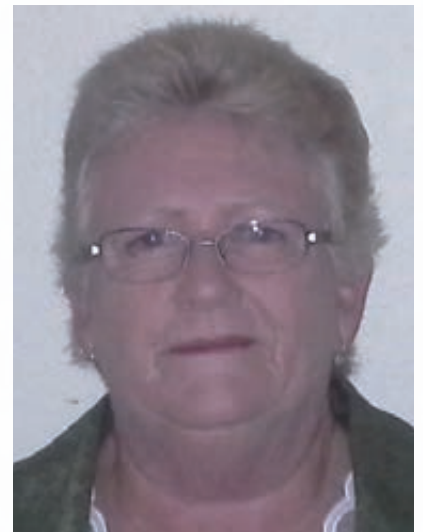

My introduction to dog showing began in 1971 when I purchased a Saluki and began showing. In the mid '70s I began showing and breeding Papillons and Japanese Chins and since 1981 my main breed has been Pekingese.

From the late '80s I became an active member of several clubs in Newcastle and held several offices, often at the same time.

In 1992 after being encouraged by friends I entered the Judges Training Scheme in NSW. In 1994 I passed my Toy Licence and Non-Sporting the next year. After moving to Queensland in 2000 I decided to finish what I started eight years before.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my husband Warren for his continued support and patience during the past twenty one years of judges training. I also wish to thank the wonderful friends I have made in Queensland who have encouraged and supported me and kept me motivated to get on with the job at hand.

I am now looking forward to a new phase in my judging!

Judge Silvana Tassan

Although studying years beforehand, I entered the judging scheme in 1997 and accepted my first open show judging appointment in March 1998. From there it has been a very topsy-turvy road. In the beginning, the words and wisdom of the mentoring of Rosene Sanderson put her mark on the way I judge and the overall judging experience as a whole. A huge thank you to Rosene for that experience and your dedication at that time and to John Chandler (dec'd) in ACD who respected my knowledge of Cattle Dogs to recommend me as an assessor.

Secondly, as a lot of you may know, being of Italian heritage and 'reddish hair' gives me a big 'temperament' and there were many a time that I would have thrown it in, so thanks to my favourite kick up the 'a...' to get me back into perspective - Serge my husband, Peter Mac, Rosemary and Andrew Brown for getting my head out of that atmosphere and back to ground level where I could carry on again.

Although having been involved in Boxers all my life, I have had the additional Beagles, Std Poodles, Whippets, Pugs, Aust Shepherd, Dutch Shepherd, Fox Terriers at some stage in our kennels and some still, I have also been involved with showing Salukis (and still mentoring with Ian Rasmussen). Dachshunds, German Shepherds and Dalmatians.

Sitting your last group is worse than any of the others because there is that big expectation of becoming the elite All Breeds judge so nerve really set in, especially with me, so thanks to the assessors on the day, you know who you are, for acknowledging that and settling me down.

Judge Sue Bruno

I began showing dogs back in the '70s with German Shepherds, handling many excellent graded dogs, I also achieved Best In Show at two Adelaide Royals, I then went on to being awarded my specialist licence in the '90s. I still maintain a huge interest in the breed and am shortly heading over to Germany to attend the German Shepherd Sieger show (the biggest single breed show in the world).

In recent years I have bred and shown English Cocker Spaniels under the 'COBALT' prefix with a much success, I love this breed and am enjoying all aspects of the Cocker Spaniel. I also handle Rhodesian Ridgebacks and Golden Retrievers.

I have been pursuing my judging career for many years now and have enjoyed the process but am very happy that I have achieved my All Breeds status and all the hard work is over. Now begins a new and exciting phase in my life and one that I am really looking forward to, congratulations to all my fellow judges who also obtained the title of All Breeds. Well done to you all.

Judge Pieter Tjerckstra

Achieving my all breed status has seemed like a life time journey, a journey that is finally over, which is a huge relief, however I would relive it all in a heartbeat.

I owe so much to my wife Shae for her support and patience during this time. Of course I also extend this gratitude to all my friends, peers, exhibitors and clubs, for their support and trust over the years during this time.

In the past thirty five years, I have been heavily involved in the dog world, serving on many committees and been president for several clubs across Queensland. I have recently been nominated for the steward, writing coordinator for central Queensland, this role I have enjoyed however it would be good to see more participation in this area.

I take this opportunity to once again thank everybody who helped me to achieve this. For me this is a personal achievement to finally have my all breeds judging status and of course my German Shepherd Dog specialist licence which was a journey all on its own.

Judge Mandy Schelbach

Growing up showing my parents Collie Roughs as a teenager I then progressed onto my own breed of Siberian Huskies in 1984 I imported the first Siberian into Queensland Australia started my own prefix of 'Bluemooska Kennels' with great success. I also have owned and exhibited with great success Large Munsterlanders, Leonbergers, English Setters, English Pointers, English Foxhounds and Rottweilers.

Growing up handling many other breeds along the way also gave me a great knowledge base for my judging career.

I entered the judging system in 1995 and have now qualified as All Breeds. I have judged throughout Australia and New Zealand doing all breeds and speciality shows. I have been involved in multiple breed and All Breed clubs along my many years of service to the dog world, holding different executive positions within these clubs at various times. I am currently the President of Beaudesert Kennel Club and a life member of the Australian Shepherd Club of QLD.

I would like to thank all those whom have supported and helped me along this journey and will keep learning as I continue with my All Breeds judging career.
