President's Message

“It is hard to believe that we are already in December. It has been a bit of a strange year in many ways, but true to form it has gone quickly. I hope the Christmas and holiday period brings all our members some special times.

The start of 2021 brought a degree of uncertainty for Dogs Queensland about how we would travel financially and with events. It has been great to see a more normal line up of shows and events in contrast to the southern States. We have been very fortunate in that regard.

On the financial front this year we did not have the 2020 benefit of Jobkeeper, but the office and the Board have run a tight ship and the results have been pleasing. A virtual bouquet to Rob and his team for this good work.

I like to keep members up to date with our financial position and our end of October financial position was presented to the Board at their meeting last week and Finance Committee meeting this week together with the proposed budget for 2022 that will be presented to the Board at our January 10 meeting.

At this stage we are tracking on to show a net profit for 2021 slightly over $500k. This is subject to certification by our auditors who commenced this audit process this last week. The financial statements for 2021 certified by the auditors and the Board will be formally presented at our Annual General Meeting next year.

Resignation of Mrs Sharron Taylor as a Director

Mrs Sharron Taylor resigned with immediate effect after our Board meeting on 24 November 2021. Sharron has made a significant contribution to the Board of Dogs Queensland for nearly 3 years and has been the director sourced from Zone 3. On behalf of all members and the other directors I thank her for the time and effort that she has dedicated to this voluntary role. Sharron has a wealth of knowledge about our dog world and this with her practical and common-sense approach has been of great benefit in these Covid times. We hope to see her continue to make a special contribution to our dog world in other ways.

I expect that the Board will look to fill this around 15-month casual vacancy and will undertake an Expressions of Interest process. Members with 5-year membership standing, living in Zone 3 will qualify for consideration. If you qualify do consider lodging an expression of interest in due course. It is an opportunity to give something back to the dog world.

In less than a year the nomination process for 6 director positions will happen so let's encourage members with good skills to consider nominating for the Board.

Three Zones or Just One Zone?

For many decades our organisation has divided the State into 3 Zones. The former council routinely made annual trips to Central (Zone 2) and Northern (Zone 3) to meet with members and discuss their particular needs. I don't think there was a history of having councillors from these two zones before the final Council in 2012 predating incorporation.

When I drafted the constitution, it was a given that the 3 Zone approach would be maintained. And in fact, we embedded a right for there to be at least one director from each of the three zones. Where we differ from Dogs NSW is that the wider membership votes in relation to all director nominations and not just for those directors in your zone. There can be more than one director from each of Zones 2 and 3 but at least one from each zone is guaranteed.

The argument has been put forward at Board level that we should be "One State, One Entity" with just one zone. Arguments in favour of this approach have included improved technology e.g., more instant communications and zoom meetings. It has been suggested that Northern tours have been of limited value and that having just the one zone would mean Dogs Queensland could speak more with one voice.

We have about 75% of our membership in Zone 1, about 15% in Zone 2 and 10% of members in Zone 3.

The Board is keen to gauge the view of members about any such change. This was an agenda item at recent Zoom meetings with club representatives firstly in Zone 2 and the following night in Zone 3. Interestingly, the Zone 2 participants were in favour of collapsing the Zones into just one for the State whereas the Zone 3 representatives were keen to maintain the status quo and have the 3 zones.

We are interested in hearing your views so look out for a survey that will be in Paw Prints shortly. The Board will consider member feedback in due course and will decide whether this matter should be progressed further. Any change to the zone system would require constitutional amendments with a 2-stage process with the first stage being a vote at the Annual General Meeting.

Breeder Terms Contracts

Thanks to those who participated in this survey that closed just recently. These contracts will be discussed further at our next Board meeting, suitably informed by survey feedback. If you missed giving input have a look at the earlier President's Message and email your thoughts to rob@dogsqueensland.org.au

Woodrow v. Canine Control Council (Queensland) Ltd

As I stated in my message to members on 2 November 2021, the Supreme Court judge reserved his judgement after the hearing on 28 October. This means that he heard the legal argument from our Queen's Counsel and Junior Counsel that the 4-year suspension of Mr Woodrow under an independent breaches process, caused a cessation of his role as a director of the Canine Control Council (Queensland) Ltd and the argument from Mr Woodrow's barrister that there would need to be a vote of members at a Special General Meeting to remove him as a director.

The judge is considering these arguments and will be delivering his judgement in due course.

As stated on 2 November 2021, as soon as anything further is known I will let members know.

Change of dates for shows and events

We are already well into our storm season with floods happening in many areas of South East Queensland as I write. The question of refunds of entry fees are a matter for affiliated clubs but where an event or show is postponed, I encourage clubs to consider refunding the entry fees on request. The change of date is a substantial variation to the transaction or contract and in some instances will mean the member cannot compete on the new date or dates.

Christmas Barbeque

It has been another challenging year and the directors thought that it would be nice to have a function for members at Durack. So, it will be a barbeque from 5pm on Saturday 18 December at the ADSS Show. Even if you have not entered the show, you can register and come along for the Christmas barbeque with a complimentary burger or sausage on bread and soft drink. Even if you are entered into the Show you must register with 'Show Manager' so we can make sure we have enough food for everyone.

Rohan Ally

Members would be aware of the recent tragic passing of Rohan Ally at the Redlands Agility Trial in early November 2021. Rohan was a friend to many and a greatly loved agility competitor.

Rohan leaves a young family and wife Meegan. Meegan has Ushers Syndrome and is unable to work, Rohan was her sole carer. The Board has agreed that the ADSS Show on Sunday 19th December 2021 will be a Memorial Show for Rohan and the proceeds of the Show will be given to Meegan and her family.

Vaccinations

All Members are asked to note that in line with Queensland's Public Health and Social Measures, from 17th December 2021 only fully COVID-19 vaccinated staff and patrons will be permitted to enter or attend any Dogs Queensland event. For the purposes of Queensland's Public Health Measures linked to vaccination status – a plan for 80% and beyond, a person is considered fully vaccinated when they have had two doses of a COVID-19 vaccine recognised by the Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA). Any Members who have an exemption from vaccination on genuine medical grounds should contact the Dogs Queensland Office directly.

Seasonal regards to you and your family and hounds and dogs. ”

UPDATES

Dogs Queensland will update members on the timetables when finalised through our digital newsletter Paw Prints.

DACHSHUND

Victoria Tilley

The Dachshund is faithful, versatile and good tempered. They are friendly by nature, neither fearful nor aggressive, with an even temperament. The breed is passionate, persistent and a fast hunting dog with an excellent nose.

THREE COAT TYPES:

Smooth Haired, Long Haired and Wire Haired

HISTORY

Originating in Germany, the Dachshund, (Teckel) was bred to hunt small game, predominantly badger, that goes to ground. The dog was required to scent, track and pursue game into burrows. The dog was required to move over all types of terrain, including dense undergrowth and water. The Dachshund was required to have intelligence, strength, endurance and versatility, a long body with relatively short legs and three different coat types all of which combine to enable it to fulfil its purpose. Miniature Dachshunds were bred to have the same attributes as Standards, but were used to hunt smaller game.

GENERAL APPEARANCE

Moderately long and low, with no exaggeration, compact, well muscled body, with enough ground clearance to allow free movement. Height at the withers should be half the length of the body, measured from breastbone to the rear of thigh. Bold, defiant carriage of head and intelligent expression.

Exaggeration of any form is to be avoided. The Dachshund is not a breed where “more” is “better”. Exaggeration of length, lowness to the ground, or too level a back can all lead to health problems (IVDD – slipped disc) and create a dog that is not fit for its original purpose. Height to length ratio is intended to avoid having dogs that are either excessively long or that are too low to ground. Dogs that are shorter than 2:1 are to be preferred over dogs longer than this ratio. Low (to ground) means lowness from the withers, compared with other breeds, not a lack of ground clearance. There must be sufficient ground clearance to enable the dog to track over rough ground.

While a long and low dog is good, the longest or lowest dog is not necessarily the best. The overall conformation of the dog must fit within the requirements of the entire standard and all exaggerations should be avoided.

What is required is a dog appearing long in proportion to his height off the ground, with ample bone and giving an appearance of strength and agility without any suggestion of coarseness or at the other extreme – fragility.

CHARACTERISTICS

Intelligent, lively, courageous to the point of rashness, obedient. Especially suited to going to ground because of low build, very strong forequarters and forelegs. Long, strong jaw, and immense power of bite and hold. Excellent nose, persevering hunter and tracker. Essential that functional build is retained to ensure working ability.

The Dachshund is a sporting or hunting dog. He was bred for the purpose of hunting small game that goes to ground. The Dachshund must have the build to track, go to ground and work all day. To be a successful hunter the Dachshund must be alert, courageous and tenacious, with good scenting powers and fairly keen eyesight. He also requires a bark penetrating enough to be heard from below ground, and the lung power to both breathe and bark for long periods in the confined space of the burrow or den. The long-haired is also suitable for water retrieving. The wire-haired, on account of his harsh strong coat, is very fitted for hunting in dense cover. The Dachshund makes an intelligent house pet.

The miniature varieties were evolved, not as lap dogs, but to hunt smaller game in as brave a manner as their larger relatives.

TEMPERAMENT

Faithful, versatile and good tempered.

The following two extracts from “The Show Dachshund” by Robert Cole and Dr Sylvia Kershaw pp 7-9 summarise the temperament of the Dachshund.

“The Dachshund has been described as the most likeable of dogs. They are particularly faithful and friendly and at the same time intelligent and teachable. In the house they are clean and well behaved and outside faithful, alert and reliable watch dogs. For the hunter the Dachshund is the indispensable companion, to some extent the universal dog.”

“The Dachshund is “most fitted for hunting ... and when trained, their courage and pluck are superior to any breed, will not tire easily and will follow the chase for many hours without a break”.

Dachshunds can be obstinate but once trained, excellent guard and house dogs, peaceable with their own variety and can be kept in groups.

COAT

Being a hunting dog the coat must be fairly thick and strong. A soft or velvety coat in smooths is faulty. Suppleness of the whole skin is called for, but overmuch wrinkle on the front legs is undesirable, although a little does not matter very much.

Smooth Haired: Dense, short and smooth. Hair on underside of tail coarse in texture. Skin loose and supple, but fitting closely all over without dewlap and little or no wrinkle.

Long Haired: Soft and straight or slightly waved, of shining colour. Longer under the neck, the underparts of the body and particularly, on the ears, behind the legs, where it should develop into abundant feathering, and reach the greatest length on the tail, where it should form a flag. The feathering should extend to the outsides of the ears, where short hair is not desirable. Too heavy a coat gives an appearance of undue plumpness and hides the outline. The coat should be flat, not obscuring the outline, thus giving the dog an appearance of elegance. Too much hair on the feet is ugly and useless. The correct coat of this variety is very beautiful. It's soft oily texture gives the dog quite a good waterproofing. This coat must never be curly, fluffy or so thick as to mask the body of the dog and make him appear clumsy or coarse.

In the wire-haired and long-haired varieties of Dachshunds, the coat is the one thing that distinguishes them from smooth-haired. The coat, whether it be long or wire should be given great consideration by the judge, but true Dachshund conformation must not be sacrificed to coat.

Wire Haired: With the exception of the jaw, eyebrows and ears, the whole body is covered with a completely even, short, harsh coat and an undercoat. There should be a beard on the chin. The eyebrows are bushy. The hair on the ears is almost smooth. The main fault seen in the Wire Haired varieties is an over-abundance of coat which is generally of an incorrect soft, fluffy nature. At a distance the Wire-haired should look like a Smooth-haired except for the longer hair as stipulated in the coat description.

Being a hunting dog the coat must be fairly thick and strong. A soft or velvety coat in smooths is faulty. Suppleness of the whole skin is called for, but overmuch wrinkle on the front legs is undesirable, although a little does not matter very much.

COLOUR

All colours permitted but no white permissible, save for a small patch on chest which is permitted but not desirable. The dapple pattern is expressed as lighter coloured areas contrasting with the darker base. Neither the light nor the dark colours should predominate. Double Dapple (where varying amounts of white occurs all over the body in addition to the dapple pattern) is unacceptable. Nose and nails black in all colours except chocolate/tan and chocolate/dapple, where they are brown.

There are potentially “lethal health risks with mating two dapples together. So called “double dapples” are at risk of being born blind and/or deaf. Dogs with large patches of white are no longer acceptable. Note that the nose and tails of chocolate/tan and chocolate/dapple should be brown not pink. It’s important that a personal colour preference must not be allowed to mar the judgement. From a glamour point of view there is no doubt that a bright clear red is eye-catching but all shades of red, right through to a pale fawn, are permissible with the proviso that the points are dark. In black and tans it is preferable that the tan be rich and bright but not spreading over too great an area. There should not be so little tan on the black and tan dog that he appears sombre.

SIZE

Ideal weight: 9-12 kgs (20-26 lbs). Miniature ideal weight; 4.5kgs (10lbs). Desired maximum weight 5kgs (11 lbs). Exhibits which appear thin and undernourished should be severely penalised.

THREE COAT TYPES:

HISTORY

The Dachshund, also called Dackel or Teckel, has been known since the Middle Ages. From the Bracken, dogs especially suitable for hunting below ground were consistently bred. From these short-legged dogs, the Dachshund evolved and is recognised as one of the most versatile hunting breeds. He also shows excellent performance above ground, hunting while giving tongue, flushing and tracking wounded game. The oldest Club devoted to the breeding of Dachshunds is the "Deutsche Teckelklub" e.V., founded in 1888.

For decades the Dachshund has been bred in three different sizes (Teckel, Miniature Teckel and Rabbit Teckel) and in three different coat varieties (Smooth Haired, Wire Haired and Long Haired), resulting in nine varieties.

GENERAL APPEARANCE

Low, short legged, elongated but compact build, very muscular with cheeky, challenging head carriage and alert facial expression. His build allows agile, quick work above and below ground. Sexual dimorphism is noticeable.

IMPORTANT PROPORTIONS: With a ground clearance of about one third of the height at withers, the body length (from the point of manubrium of sternum to the point of the buttock) should be in harmonious relation to height at withers, about 1.7 – 1.8 : 1.

CHARACTERISTICS

Dachshund Club of Queensland Fun Day: 26 September 2021

– Lisa Marsh-Furness

It's been a long time since our Club hosted a Fun Day for members and all owners of Dachshunds and we're pleased to say that our Fun Day on 26 September 2021 was a resounding success.

We were joined in hosting the day by the lovely group of people from Devoted 2 Dachshunds Rescue (D2DR) who are the group that we partner with and promote when it comes to rehoming older dogs in Queensland.

Almost 200 dachshund owners and their dogs arrived at the Dogs Queensland showgrounds on a beautiful spring morning to enjoy a social day of games and activities with their best friends. It was an opportunity to meet other dachshund owners, chat about all things dachshund related and have fun playing games with our dogs.

The day started off with a group walk around the beautiful grounds at Durack, led by committee member Bryan Shaw. A large number of visitors, children and dogs enjoyed a stroll around the grounds. The weather played along as the temperature was mild enough for the walkers to be able to enjoy their stroll. Some of the older and more infirm dachshunds enjoying the view from their prams.

The off-leash area was extremely popular as the dogs were able to run around safely, meeting and greeting the other dachshunds who were there for the fun. There was not a single incident as dachshunds certainly know their own breed and enjoy socialising with each other. Some arrived as old friends with others making new friends on the morning – everyone enjoying the interaction. Many owners brought their picnic rugs and camped out in the off-leash area which was an ideal opportunity to relax and allow the dogs to enjoy the freedom of being able to run around and play.

Stalls were on hand selling all sorts of merchandise – these were well supported and we were pleased to sell a number of our Ekka show bags and 2022 calendars. The Ekka show bags at $30 each are a bargain, as they include free membership of our club for 12 months. With the going rate of membership at $20 per year for singles and $25 for couples, this means that the cost of the show bag is only $10 for singles and $5 for a couple. This is a great deal as it's full of handy items and accessories for you and your dog. So, if you haven't grabbed your show bag yet, please reach out and order yours today.

The beautiful 2022 calendars are a huge hit with $5 from the sale of each calendar to be donated to Devoted 2 Dachshunds Rescue (D2DR). Please continue to support the sale of these calendars – they make great gifts for friends and family (perhaps a Christmas gift?) and the funds raised go to a very worthy cause.

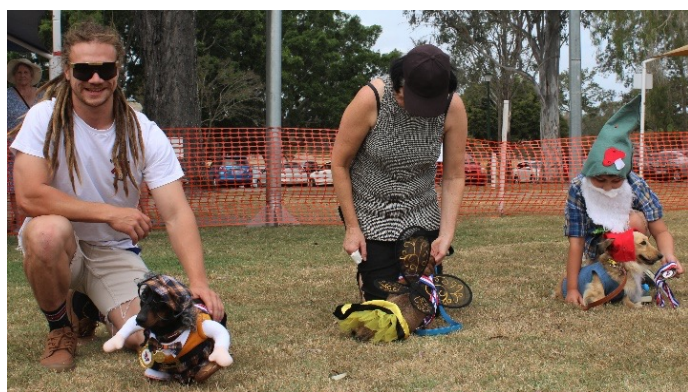

One of the activities at the Fun Day was Musical Mats which is a fun and easy game for adults and children, along with their dachshunds, to enjoy. This game was much loved by one of our members, the late Val Bowden, who initiated it at fun days years ago. It was lovely to see Gyll Hoyle and Carol Sands managing the Musical Mats playing “how much is that doggy in the window” whilst people and dogs ran around the outside of the cones waiting for the music to stop so they could grab a mat. With mats gradually being taken away, the final winner was young Maddie with her little miniature long haired friend Daisy. Well done to Maddie and Daisy!

The next event on the calendar was the Dachie Dash which was a huge amount of fun! We had a large number of entries with 8 heats being run before the winner of each heat competed against each other for the finals. The initial heats were divided into weight categories to try and even out the competition and it all seemed to work fairly well. The races caused much hilarity and noise, as some of the dogs raced across the field at top speed from one owner on the start line to the other waiting at the finish. Others were too busy enjoying the fun and thought perhaps it was play time, charging off across the field to chase their friend on the other side! And some of the dogs just stood on the start line with no clue whatsoever of what they were supposed to do. It was noticed that many of the non-starters were show dogs who have been trained to walk alongside their owners in the show ring and so could simply not understand why they would be expected to bolt off by themselves to the other side of the field! Much fun and hilarity ensued with the top 3 places going to Smoothie, – a Standard Wire Haired, Peony – a Mini Smooth and little Hans – also a Mini Smooth. Hans was in fact exceptionally quick but was distracted by the girls mid race and ran over to say hello along the way!

After the excitement of the races died down and everyone had chance to catch their breath, the day culminated in the fancy dress competition. Some of the owners had gone all out to dress like their dachshunds and there was a huge range of costumes on display. Thank you to everyone for making such a great effort with the costumes. Our judge, Carolyn Pearen, Dogs Queensland Senior Vice President, had a really difficult decision in choosing 3 winners. After much deliberation 1st prize was awarded to Archie, the Mini Smooth, dressed like a little old man, with 2nd prize to the Bumble Bee and 3rd prize to the Elves, who looked very cute complete with matching beards.

It really was an awesome fun day and seemed to be enjoyed by one and all with lots of favourable comments and questions as to when the next one will take place. The sausage sizzle was well supported, the cakes and refreshments enjoyed and everyone went home tired and happy after a fun day out with their dogs.

Dachshund Club of Queensland Date Night

6 November 2021

D2DR Fun Day and Date Night

D2DR (Devoted To Dachshunds Rescue) is so excited, grateful and blessed to be able to collaborate with the Dachshund Club of Queensland Inc and utilise the beautiful grounds at Dogs Queensland's home at Durack.

We have held two events now – one in September 2021 which was the annual 'Fun Day' and then most recently the 'Date Night with your Dachie' on 6 November 2021.

The Fun Day was just that – a lot of fun! It kicked off with a group walk, then stalls, raffles, food, great coffee, dachie races and a fancy-dress parade.

The Date Night saw eight different stall holders come along and sell their Dachshund/Dog related crafts, plus two wonderful photographers, Camille Scott and Steph from The Furtography Studio, taking some amazing shots of our special breed.

Again, amazing coffee and food and such a friendly vibe – a great day was had by all.

The monies raised from these joint events help D2DR with the rehoming costs involved with the many Dachshunds we accept as well as the 14 permanent foster dogs and the seniors and disabled dogs we care for.

It's looking like by the end of 2021 we will have rehomed nearly 100 dogs into their forever homes.

The President,
Directors and Staff of Dogs Queensland would like to wish you a very Merry
Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous
New Year.

QUEENSLAND

Dogs Queensland and the ANKC would like to thank all our members who gave up their time to help with the production of the videos Queensland is doing for the national body.

They focus on the huge number of breeds in our dog world including their characteristics, abilities and dog's sports. The videos are part of the re-branding of the national organisation and are designed to attract the interest of the public and canine consumers.

They will be placed on all state member bodies and national websites with links to the relevant breeders in each state and they will be there for all to see for years.

Hopefully they will drive potential customers to the professionalism and excellence of our breeders.

The videos have involved the filming of over 160 people and a similar number of dogs.

That takes an enormous amount of pre-production work and intense filming on shoot days.

None of this would have been possible without the enthusiastic engagement of our breeders and their families.

They were simply terrific, positive, patient and engaging. The love affair between them and their dogs shone brightly.

They never faltered even when one got bowled over by a sheep in a herding practice run and ended up in hospital or the one who hit a tree reversing their car. One breeder even turned up to help three days after having a heart attack. Amazing!

I would especially like to thank the following people:

- Tara King: who directed the project from her home outside of Dungong in NSW – a fabulous job of organisation.
- Ian Rasmussen: our indefatigable breed wrangler – a mighty effort getting our breed volunteers together in such a short lead time. His knowledge and advice was invaluable.
- Rob Harrison – for making things happen.
- Groundsman Rion and his team – for the magnificent condition of the grounds and getting everything needed up and on time.
- The Wagz Café team – who looked after us.
- Finally to our film crew: director of photography, Eliza Allard – who had the hardest job of all and Kate Slavos – our production assistant, who was tireless in organising talent and using an incredible range of noises and devices to get those dogs looking at the camera. They both love dogs and wanted to kidnap a number of our canine stars.

Well done, everyone!

Border Collie Early History

Following on from the Border Collie Breed Feature in the November 2021 Dog World magazine, Gaille Perry has kindly offered up additional information, filling in some of the early history not mentioned in 'Border Collies in Queensland... The early years'.

– Gaille Perry

As far as I know the first champion Border Collie in Queensland was CCC Ch Battle.

Iris Heale explained to me that there was a division in the show dog scene in the 1950's and many of the Cattle, Kelpie and Border Collie breeders joined the opposing group, the Board of Control, which also held shows but later disbanded. There were therefore not many Border Collie breeders left in the CCC at that time.

I started showing my Border Collie in 1963 and knew Les and Iris Heale well – I often showed their Australian Cattle Dogs. Iris showed Ch Glen Iris Patsy in the 1950s with great success. Although Patsy had Iris's prefix Iris did not breed her – I gather rules were less stringent then. In the 1960s she obtained Ch Bordervale Coral from the Mollers, very successful breeders at that time. Coral was a striking bitch and was the first Border Collie to win group specials here. These were the only two Border Collies she owned -she never owned a male Border Collie and never bred a litter.

The other very successful show dogs at that time were Ch Bordervale Rob Roy and his son Ch Rockviw Robs Son owned by Jack Harris. My Ch Bordervale Gaylene was a daughter of Rob's Son and together they won both challenges at the RNA one year.

My Border Collie Ch Lindoo Rab CDX was the only Border Collie in Queensland in the mid-sixties competing in Obedience and the first to obtain his CDX. He was a grandson of CCC Ch Battle and his dam was bred by Mrs Green of Kenkoff Kennels, another early breeder.

A very successful breeder in the sixties was Neil Lobley of Neloby Kennels. Neil bred several champions and was also a judge.

Another early breeder was Horrie Wilkes from the Glasshouse Mountains – Pat Atkins Kismet Kennels was founded with two bitches from his kennels. Myrtle Layton bought her first dog from Pat.

I hope this helps to flesh out the early history as I suspect I'm the only one around who remembers it!

BUSHFIRE SAFETY

Joanne Bibby – Fursafe®

One year ago, the Australian Bushfire Season was catastrophic – now known as the Black Summer where thousands and thousands of homes were destroyed, millions of vertebrate animals died, millions of hectares burn't and dozens of people lost their lives. It was a season we do not wish to see again, but sadly there is every likelihood we will.

This article is directed at the safety of our dogs when faced with bushfires. The very idea that our dogs could become victims of a bushfire is a devastating thought. So, I ask you, if you live in a bush environment or holiday in one, do you prepare for their safety and early evacuation?

FURSAFE® supports the decision to, where able, evacuate early and therefore does not include 'Stay and Defend' information in this article.

Know your risk!

- Is your home located in or near a bush setting, near a parkland, near paddocks or acreages? If so, your dogs are at risk.

- Know your local bushfire/wildfire alert levels, for example: Advice, Watch and Act Warning. If you do not, your dogs are at risk.
- Know your Fire Danger Rating, for example: Low/Moderate, High, Very High, Severe, Extreme, Catastrophic (Code Red) – the higher the rating, the more dangerous the conditions. When you see or hear the rating for the day you will know if your dogs are at risk.
- If you hear reports of local fires, your dogs are at risk.

Consider this!

- How will your dog/s cope during such a stressful time?
- Will they run off if they sense or smell danger?
- Will they be on their own without the ability to protect themselves?
- Relieve themselves from the extreme temperatures? or
- Reduce the risk of smoke inhalation?

If your dog is alone during a bushfire event the impact could be devastating to their health and safety.

So, the question for all pet owners is,

- How will we evacuate safely with our dogs?
- Who will be there to look after my pup/s if a bushfire turns in the direction of my home and I'm not home?
- Where will he/she stay until the danger passes?
- What if my dog runs off?
- What will I do if my dog is injured or ill during the event?

You cannot guarantee that your local Emergency Services will be able to pick up and evacuate your dog/s for you. Also you cannot be sure your community evacuation centre will allow dogs in their facility.

We recommend that you:

- Communicate with your local Emergency Services Department to learn everything you can;
- Develop a bushfire survival plan;
- Prepare your home to reduce the risk of embers entering in, under or around your home;
- Study up on dog first aid; and
- Research past events/disasters in your community – this will give you an idea of what you could expect.

If at any time you are worried about vulnerable family members or them not being able to cope, please call Emergency Services for additional guidance!

The best form of defence is BEING PREPARED and PRACTICING EVACUATION with your pets.

Follow:

- Emergency Services on their Social Media platform;
- Bureau of Meteorology;
- Rural Fire Service; and
- other local disaster management services in your area.

Register for alerts through your local Emergency Services Command and monitor the systems regularly. Make sure you have bushfire notification alerts sent to all family members' mobile phones.

SAFETY PRECAUTIONS

Think about the following and incorporate into your

Bushfire Survival Plan:

- What will you take?
- When will you go?
- Where will you go?
- Do you know how to get there and know alternative directions to take?
- Who can you contact if you become separated or are away from the home leaving your family members and dog/s alone?

PREPARE

- Complete a Bushfire Survival Plan.
- Keep a list of emergency phone numbers on display.
- Prepare your Fursafe 'In case of Emergency' (ICE) pet window poster for inner glass of front door or window for emergency services, just in case you can't get home before mandatory evacuation.
- Stock up on non-perishable food, water, batteries, pet foods, hygiene products, plastic bags (consider your power may go out, so you will need products that don't require electricity).
- Do you have a personal and a Fursafe Emergency 'Grab & Go Kit' planned, packed and ready near exit?
- Do you have a personal and a Fursafe Emergency Dog First Aid Kit planned, packed and ready near exit?
  -  Include dog's travel documents: completed pet details form, vaccination passport/records, medications, ownership documents (including photo of dog and photo of you with dog) in the Fursafe Emergency Grab & Go Kit.
- Get yourself a local map of your area if you don't already have one. Consider the safest routes, listen to news broadcasts, or speak with emergency services about road closures. Always leave early. Leaving late may put you in danger.
- Are you prepared to evacuate if your local emergency services instruct you to leave your home?
- Make sure that if you must leave your dog at home during a High or Severe Bush Fire Warning Day that you keep the pet secured in the safest part of the house:
  -  Provide water, food, carrier/crate, leash and his Grab & Go kit. Then, if the dog is collected by emergency services, a family member or neighbour, everything including your pet is in one safe area.

FURSAFE EMERGENCY DOG FIRST AID

Dog's can die within 4 minutes if emergency first aid is not immediately given!

Are you Prepared?

To make a purchase
call 3252 2661 or email
barbara@dogsqueensland.org.au

- Record your emergency contact for your dog/s on your Fursafe ICE Poster.
- DO NOT tie your dog up – doing so may cause your pet to hurt itself.

- Make sure that if you take your pet with you when you evacuate that you REMOVE your Fursafe ICE pet window poster so you do not waste the emergency services time looking for your pet(s). Post an EVACUATED poster in its place.
- Dog may be stressed even after the fire has passed. Leave in crate till calm. If the room is smoky, move crate to a more suitable place in the home but still near the family.
- Never let a pet go outside after a fire has passed until everything has cooled down from spraying the area with water:

- the ground will burn your dog's paws! The smoke will cause difficulty for pet to breathe;
- monitor dog's breathing;
- monitor your dog's heart rate;
- make sure there is fresh water for drinking;
- treat all burns and other injuries as they arise.

If you receive notice that the days ahead will have a severe fire warning, take your dog with you when you leave the home and drop them off to doggy day care or to family and friends out of the area until danger pasts.

- Ensure your dog is microchipped.
- Consider investing in a GPS to help you track them down if they separate from you.
- Make sure you carry a photo of you and your dog/s together to assist in retrieval of them if they are picked up by emergency services or rescue volunteers.
- Your dog may become aggressive if frightened so do not place your face up close to theirs and never sit on the ground close to them whilst they are experiencing anxiety.

Yuggera Endurance Trial

Congratulations go to the Yuggera Canine Club for their successful inaugural Night Endurance Trial held at Durack on the 9 October 2021.

The Durack grounds were favourable for the mandatory requirements of the Endurance rules and being a safe environment with no traffic concerns proved to be ideal for the time of year making use of the low temperature of the evening. A temperature of under 24 degrees is of utmost importance for the welfare of our dogs.

There were a total of 6 dogs competing with the officiating judge Mr Bruce Nobbs.

Congratulations also go to Matthew O'Reilly for gaining his ANKC Endurance Judges Licence at the event.

Thank you to all concerned who helped with the event. Dogs Queensland invite clubs to utilize the grounds in the future with more dog sports.

Melbourne Cup 2021

Maree Kennel Club Inc at Durack

Words and Images – David Margan

The crowd may have been a little smaller than previous years but a lot of fun was still had.

From Daschunds in bowler hats to Chihuahuas in tutus and bobbing fascinators, people got into the swing of things.

Two of our judges won male and female best dressed (they're apparently married) and the cutest young St Bernhard lover on the grounds also won an award. Then there was lunch and the race.

CUSHING'S DISEASE IN DOGS

– Hyperadrenocorticism

– Republished with the kind permission of WestVets

Cushing's Disease is a condition in which the adrenal glands overproduce certain hormones. The medical term for this disease is hyperadrenocorticism.

The adrenal glands produce several vital substances, which regulate a variety of body functions and are necessary to sustain life. The most widely known of these substances is cortisol, commonly known as cortisone. Decreased or excessive production of these substances, especially cortisol, may be life-threatening.

How does Cushing's Disease occur?

There are three mechanisms by which this disease can occur. Regardless of the cause, the clinical signs are essentially the same. It is important to identify the type of Cushing's disease because the various forms are treated differently and each has a different prognosis.

Pituitary gland tumour

The most common cause of Cushing's Disease (85% of all cases in dogs) is a tumour of the pituitary gland. The tumour may be either benign or malignant and it causes the pituitary to overproduce a hormone that stimulates the adrenal glands to produce cortisol. The tumour may be microscopic or large. Depending on the size of the tumour, clinical signs other than Cushing's Disease may be present. Generally, if the activity of the adrenal gland can be controlled, many dogs with this form of Cushing's disease can live normal lives for many years, as long as they take their medication and stay under close medical supervision. Growth of the pituitary tumour would give the patient a less favourable prognosis.

Adrenal gland tumour

Cushing's Disease may be the result of a benign or malignant tumour of the adrenal gland. If the tumour has not spread into surrounding structures or other organs, then it may be possible to surgically remove the tumour (along with the adrenal gland) and cure the disease. If the tumour has already spread then surgery may not be possible and the prognosis is less favourable.

Iatrogenic

Iatrogenic Cushing's disease means that the excess of cortisol has resulted from excessive administration of a glucocorticoid. This may occur from oral or injectable medications. Although the injections or tablets were given for an appropriate medical reason, their use is now detrimental.

What are the clinical signs in dogs?

The most common clinical signs associated with Cushing's disease in dogs include:-

- an increase in appetite,
- an increase in water consumption,
- an increase in urination.

Some dogs may also experience:-

- lethargy, or lack of activity,
- decline in coat quality.

Many of these dogs develop a bloated or "pot-bellied" appearance to their abdomen due to an increase of fat within the abdominal organs and a stretching of the abdominal wall as the organs get heavier. The pot-bellied appearance also develops because the muscles of the abdominal wall become weaker. Panting and increased appetite are other common findings with this disease.

How is Cushing's disease diagnosed?

Hyperadrenocorticism can be a challenging disease to diagnose and confirm. However, the testing process is crucial to determine the best treatment options and prognosis for your pet.

The two most common tests to detect Cushing's disease are the ACTH Stimulation Test and the Low-Dose Dexamethasone Suppression (LDDS) test. Other tests may be needed to determine which form of the disease is present. Endogenous ACTH levels, High-dose Dexamethasone Suppression (HDDS) test, urine cortisol: creatinine ratio, and 17-hydroxyprogesterone response to ACTH administration tests may also be recommended.

An abdominal ultrasound examination may also be a valuable part of the diagnostic process. In itself an ultrasound will not be able to determine if a patient has Cushing's disease, but it will permit the visualisation of the adrenal glands. This can then help determine their size, the presence of any unusual tissue and enable an ultrasound guided biopsy to be performed to determine if the tissue is cancerous.

What are the treatment options?

Treatment options depend greatly on the form or the cause of the Cushing's disease:

Iatrogenic

Treatment of this form requires a discontinuation of the corticosteroid that is being given. This must be done in a controlled manner so that complications associated with the discontinuation of the medication do not occur. Unfortunately, it usually results in a recurrence of the disease that was being treated by the corticosteroid. Because there may have been adverse effects on the adrenal glands, treatment in the form of medication may also be needed.

Adrenal Tumour

Treatment of an adrenal tumour requires major abdominal surgery. Although this is a high risk surgery, if successful and the tumor is not malignant, there is a good chance that the dog will regain normal health. If surgery is not an option, some of these patients can be managed with medication, as discussed below.

Pituitary Tumour

Treatment of the pituitary-induced form of Cushing's disease is the most complicated. There are two drugs used in Australia: Lysodren and Trilostane.

Lysodren is the primary drug used to destroy the abnormal adrenal gland tissue. Lysodren is also known as mitotane or o,p'-DDD. If too little of the drug is used, the abnormal adrenal tissue persists and the disease continues. If too much is used, most or all of the adrenal cortex will be destroyed, which can be life-threatening and result in reduced hormone production by the adrenal glands. This condition is known as Addison's disease or hypoadrenocorticism. Therefore, careful monitoring of the dog is necessary in order to achieve good results. Because the pituitary is not being affected by the treatment, it continues to stimulate the adrenal gland. This means that lifelong treatment is necessary.

Trilostane is a synthetic steroid analogue that works by reducing the production of cortisol levels. It currently needs to be imported from the UK and requires daily or twice daily dosing for life. It can therefore be cost prohibitive.

Although a cure is not achieved with either treatment, control is possible for many years if the tumour is small. If the tumour is large, local effects of the tumour invading surrounding tissues in the brain can be the limiting factor in quality of life.

Vale Francis Ruth Forbes

19 October 1959 – 21 October 2021

– Carolyn Shaw

Fran was born in NSW on 19 October 1959. Fran and her parents moved to Toowong in Queensland where she started school at St. Ignatius Catholic School and then went to All Hallows for her High School years. She then studied Occupational Therapy at the University of Queensland where she passed with Honours.

Fran worked in the Health Sector and then later for Children's Services with the Government.

She had both a love for horses (having had two horses when she was growing up) and of dogs. Fran later became involved in starting up the Greyhound Adoption Programme here in Brisbane and was very knowledgeable about a lot of breeds - having had many herself. When I first met Fran about 8.5 years ago she had a beautiful white greyhound called Bowie who won many accolades at dog shows but her true love lay with Italian Greyhounds.

I met Fran at an Italian Greyhound meet-up at a dog park at the Powerhouse on the Brisbane River. She came along with 3 Italian Greyhounds in tow and we became firm friends from that day.

Fran and I started an Italian Greyhound page on Facebook welcoming all newcomers who had a love or interest in the breed.

Fran was showing Gracie in the Neuter class and encouraged me to show our second Italian Greyhound Ignatiusbel Constance (Maxine). We would go to shows and have so much fun, meeting new people and then encouraging them into the show ring if they showed any interest.

Fran loved to cook and spent many hours cooking up Jams, Lemon Curd, Pickled Onions and more for the Toy Dog Club shows twice a year. For those of you who purchased her items you know these were made with love.

Fran also showed dogs for her friends with other breeds in the Toy Dog class and could often be seen trotting around the ring with a Pug or English Toy Terrier. She had a lot of fun at dog shows and was always happy to lend a hand to anyone who needed it.

She was happy to chat to lots of people and gain more knowledge about other breeds as well.

Fran will be missed by all those who knew her - she was quick with a laugh and will be missed at Durack.

Fran passed away on 21 October 2021 and is survived by her parents, her son Andrew and two brothers.

Eukanuba™

THAT'S A EUKANUBA™ DOG

Nutrition that helps fuel your dog's performance

Dogs that show and perform need high quality nutrition to help fuel and sustain their performance throughout the day. A diet with high quality protein is important to help maintain and rebuild muscle integrity, in-fact around about 30% of this protein is used to help maintain a healthy skin and coat.

The diet also needs to be enriched with omega 3 and omega 6 fatty acids to help with the structural and barrier properties of skin and provide a shiny coat. Show and performance dogs also need a diet to help minimise oxidative stress and add support to the digestive system to help them perform at their best.

Eukanuba's™ NEW Premium Performance Sport and Exercise are designed to meet the needs of show and performance dogs, and is now made in Australia. With added levels of omega oils, digestive support and joint support*, Eukanuba™ is providing tailored nutrition to help to show and performance dogs achieve their best.
