General Manager's Message

“It is with great pleasure that I fill in for Ulla Greenwood as she is currently overseas.

As we enter the last month of the year, we still have a number major events to enjoy. Last weekend we had the Ipswich Kennel Club Shows, followed by the DQ Fundraising Show on 17 December 2022 and finishing the year with the Festive Fiesta from 29 December 2022 to 1st January 2023.

Membership Renewals are also now in full swing with approximately a quarter of the Membership having renewed already. Just a reminder that the discounted 2023 Membership Rate will be available to Members until midnight on 12 December 2022, after which the prices will revert to the normal rate.

The Board met on Monday evening, 28 November, for the final time in 2022. It is sometimes very easy to forget that the 12 Directors are volunteers. Having worked with them all collectively and individually for the last 12-15 months (some for a considerably longer length of time), they all work extremely hard for the Dog World.

One of the major items that the Board approved was the Budget for 2023. As Members would be aware Memberships, Prefix Renewals and Judges Licence Fees remained unchanged once again. At this latest Meeting the Board also agreed that Club Affiliation Fees would remain at the current level – all Clubs will be invoiced shortly.

The Board looked at the fees charged by the other Member Bodies and also the current Consumer Price Index (CPI) for Brisbane until the end of the September, the previous 12 months saw a rise of 7.9%.

It is important for the ongoing viability of the business that the Board budgets realistically but with an awareness to keep increases to a minimum where possible.

Bearing both these factors in mind, it was agreed that the following fees would be increased by 5%, rounded up or down as per below. It was agreed however that Titles would be increased by the CPI Rate of around 8%.

	2022 Fee	2023 Fee
Prefix Application (This includes the yearly maintenance fee that remains at the current level)	$150	$155

Under 4 months	$51	$54

Over 6 and under 12 months	$102	$107

Donation For Ukrainian Dog Breeders And Their Dogs

Aussie dog breeders pull together to raise much-needed funds for their war-impacted peers in Ukraine

Five of Australia's peak dog breeding organisations have banded together to provide $40,000 for Ukrainian dog breeders and their dogs, who have been massively impacted by the war and are in serious need of help.

The money has been donated to the Federation Cynologique Internationale (FCI) – the World Canine Organisation – which has opened a special bank account to help the Ukrainian Kennel Union and breeders badly affected by the war.

“This horrific war has placed breeders and their dogs at great risk, directly threatening their welfare and their lives. We wanted to help our Ukrainian friends who have been affected,” says Hugh Gent OAM, President of Dogs Australia. “There are many wonderful dog people in Ukraine, and we wanted to show our solidarity. Ukraine is well known as a professional organiser of dog shows and was due to hold the FCI World Dog Show in 2023.”

In a thank you letter to Dogs Australia, Mr Yves De Clercq, Executive Director of FCI, said the money “will be used professionally, transparently and efficiently to help Ukrainian breeders and their dogs, either in their home country or in their rehoming country. They and their dogs all badly need the international help, and your attitude shows your solidarity, empathy and concern for our Ukrainian friends.”

Donations were made by Dogs Australia's member bodies: Dogs NSW, Dogs Queensland, Dogs Victoria, Dogs West and Dogs Tasmania, and Dogs Australia matched the contribution dollar for dollar.

“The international dog breeding community is very close-knit, and we have all been devastated to hear that many breeders and their dogs are living in terrible conditions, many of them in hiding, or they've had to flee to other countries to save their own lives and those of their beloved dogs,” says Hugh. “But they have not abandoned their dogs, and they need as much help as possible.”

For anyone wanting to donate to help Ukrainian breeders and their dogs, head to: <https://www.fci.be/en/Solidarity-with-Ukraine-3666.html>. Any amount or donation is welcome and will be used entirely and solely to help breeders and their dogs.

JACK RUSSELL TERRIER

Edwina Bevk

The Jack Russell is generally happy and an outgoing little dog, willing to please, but sometimes with a naughty streak!

– Simon Mills

HISTORY

The history of the Jack Russell Terrier in England is fairly well documented from its origins as a white bodied terrier bred to bolt the fox without damaging it, from its den during the hunt, by Parson John Russell – the curate of several parishes in Devon and an avid follower of Foxhounds.

In Australia, dogs were brought in from the UK by immigrants, and during the 1960s by the well-known Roycroft show jumping family. Many of today's Jacks have those Roycroft dogs in their pedigrees.

The Jack Russell Terrier Club of Australia was formed in those 1960s, and a registration system was started. The club held breed shows, and had several discussions with the ANKC regarding accepting the Jack Russell as a pure breed. This eventually happened, and from 1 January 1991 dogs who were registered with the JRTCA could be transferred onto the ANKC Registers.

The Breed standard calls for a marginally longer than tall dog standing between 25 and 30cms at the withers, and comes in three coat types – smooth, rough and broken, which is in between. It is said that the broken coat was John Russell's favourite “The best breed are wire haired. The peculiar texture does not interfere with the profile of the body, though there is a shaggy eyebrow and a pronounced moustache. The eyebrow is the great mark, giving the dog the look of a Bristol merchant.....” and “White is the useful as well as the fashionable colour but a coloured ear or head is not objectionable...” (Thomas Henry Pearce “Idstone” who owned the Parson's Terriers). Hence the requirement in the Breed Standard is for a predominantly white dog.

TEMPERAMENT

The Jack Russell is generally happy and an outgoing little dog, willing to please, but sometimes with a naughty streak! Remembering that they were bred to bolt the fox from its den by barking, they can be noisy when excited, or greeting someone at the gate.

Natural hunters, they will go for lizards, snakes and anything else that moves quickly, and will be totally focussed on that job.

They are trainable, as witnessed by the number that can be seen on TV commercials, and are successful in dog sports such as Agility, Lure Coursing and Earthdog.

HEALTH

The breed is generally healthy and has a long life span of 14-15 years. Occasionally an eye condition PLL (Primary Lens Luxation) may occur, and also Canine Hyperuricosuria (elevated levels of uric acid in the urine, which may form stones in the urinary tract.) DNA tests are available for these conditions, and many breeders are now having these tests done on their breeding stock.

There also were a very few cases of Legge Calve Perthes several years ago but nothing recently. Perthes is a lameness in, usually one hip caused by an inadequate blood supply to the femoral head, resulting in an improper fit of the hip ball and socket, causing arthritis if not surgically fixed.

SUITABILITY

Jack Russell Terriers are great family dogs, but because they can be enthusiastic, children over three are best suited. Training should begin early, so that your dog becomes well-mannered and easy to live with.

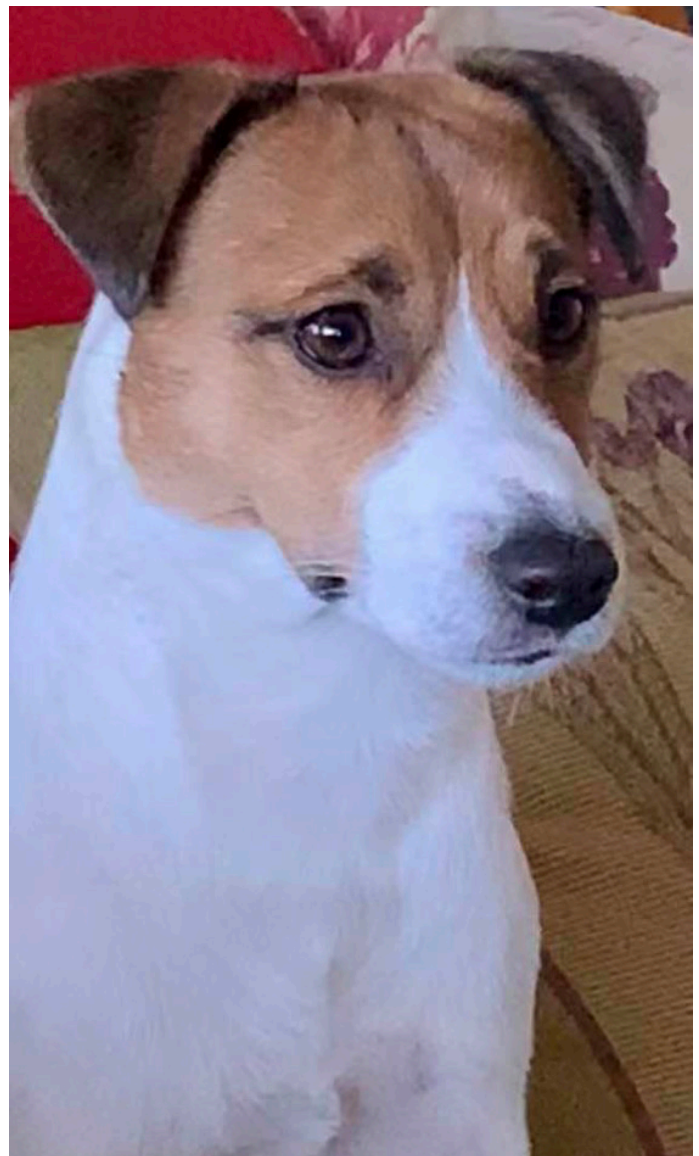

Jacks do not like to be left alone, so having someone at home most of the time is recommended. Being left on their own in the yard could cause boredom, and being Terriers could also cause them to dig holes!! An absolute MUST is a well-fenced secure yard, and they do like to be a part of the family, living with you.

For their size, they are very active, so consideration should be given as to your lifestyle. They do like to travel with you, and there are plenty of caravan parks that will allow a well-behaved dog on their grounds.

Regular grooming is essential for all types of coat, as they do moult! For those owners who enjoy some activity, the Jack Russell Terrier Club of NSW conducts regular Race Days, including a Members' Point Score, an ideal opportunity for owners and their families to get together and swap Jack Russell stories!

So for an all-round good fun dog, who can go past a Jack Russell Terrier? It might be small, (maximum 6kgs in weight) but it really is a big personality in a little package.

The President,
Directors and Staff of Dogs Queensland would like to wish you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous
New Year.

Animal Welfare Legislation Amendments

Pixabay

– David Margan

The Animal Care and Protection Act 2001 (ACPA) has been the principal legislative framework for animal welfare in Queensland for the past 21 years. Despite significant advances over that time in the science of animal welfare and increased community awareness of, and concerns about, animal welfare no review of the Act had been undertaken.

A discussion paper, Review of the Animal Care and Protection Act 2001 Discussion Paper (the Discussion Paper) was released in April 2021 and submissions for responses to the paper closed in May 2021. Dogs Queensland not only made written submissions but also, led by Ulla Greenwood and Elisa McCutcheon, appeared before the Parliamentary Committee.

Now finally a series of amendments to that Act have passed through the Queensland Parliament.

There are a few changes that either affect our members or are, at least, of interest to them and they are:

- Banning of prong collars.
- Tightening the provisions around tail docking.
- Greater powers for RSPCA inspectors to intervene where there is an immediate threat to an animal's welfare.
- Greater potential for scrutiny of the performance of RSPCA inspectors via increased disclosure obligations.

- Removing exercise mandates for confined dogs.

PRONG COLLARS

The legislation provides that;

- (1) a person must not possess any of the following devices (each a prohibited device) – unless the person has a reasonable excuse):
 - a. a prong collar
 - b. another restraint device prescribed by regulation.
- (2) A person must not use a prohibited device on an animal unless the person has a reasonable excuse.

The maximum penalty for this is 100 penalty units.

Dogs Queensland has banned the use of such devices by its members way back in 2008 so the prohibition with respect to prong collars should not have any impact on members.

There was concern about the nature of the restraint devices to be prohibited under the proposed legislation as this was unclear, particularly as the examples provided refer to collars, leads, harnesses, muzzles, halters (being restraint devices in common use). In relation to “another restraint device prescribed by regulation”, Dogs Queensland did argue for a tightening of the wording that originally stated, “and other devices” to “similar devices”. Theoretically under the legislation even a conventional collar or harness may have fallen within the scope of the prohibition. Despite representations by Dogs Queensland that the nature of the prohibited restraint devices should be clearly specified, this has been left to be prescribed in the regulations.

The new amendments also now prohibit the supply (or on-supply) of a dog which has been debarked or other regulated procedure performed on it such as ear cropping and tail docking.

TAIL DOCKING

The story of tail docking is much the same with its prohibition and related fines tightened and toughened as the legislation explanatory notes states: "Section 24 no longer allows a lay person to dock a dog's tail in a prescribed way. A dog's tail is only permitted to be docked in the interests of the dog's welfare, and only by a veterinary surgeon. This aligns with community expectations, and similar restrictions have been introduced on tail docking in other Australian jurisdictions." In addition, the legislation now also prohibits cropping a dog's ear.

ANIMAL WELFARE

In addition to existing offences with respect to animal cruelty, the government has toughened the punishment for serious breaches of duty of care with respect to animal welfare that cause death, serious deformity, serious disability or prolonged suffering of an animal by creating a new offence of 'aggravated' breach of duty of care; "This new offence is a reflection of the community's expectation that offences that subject animals to gross neglect should be subject to higher penalties." Consequently, the penalty for this is now a maximum 2,000 penalty units or 3 years imprisonment which is comparable with prison sentences for aggravated cruelty in other Australian jurisdictions and in New Zealand, which range from 2 years to 5 years.

RSPCA INSPECTORATE

In July 2020, the then Natural Resources, Agricultural Industry Development and Environment Committee requested the Queensland Auditor-General to undertake an audit of the effectiveness of the department's oversight of the RSPCA to perform animal welfare investigations on behalf of the State. Consequently, the Animal Welfare legislation has been amended clarifying some of the responsibilities of the RSPCA and strengthening the department's role in overseeing the RSPCA's regulatory functions and

DOG TRANSPORTATION AND CONFINEMENT

One of the new amendments has removed the specific obligation to exercise closely confined dogs which had particular application with respect to the transport of dogs over distances. As well as this being very difficult to enforce the government has decided that the issue is adequately covered under Section 18 (Animal cruelty prohibited) of the ACPA. Section 18 provides that a person is cruel to an animal if they confine it in such a way that is inappropriate for the animal's welfare.

Further, in relation to canine transport new amendments have increased the fines for the inadequate transport of dogs. RSPCA statistics have reported that nationwide 5,000 dogs each year are either injured or killed as a result of jumping, falling, or protruding from a moving vehicle. Dogs must be secured to prevent them falling from escaping from or protruding from a vehicle.

Finally, dog knowledge and expertise is getting a nod with an amendment relating to the making of codes of practice that sees after the use of the word 'welfare' the addition of the phrase, "based on good practice and scientific knowledge."

THE BREEDER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER SYSTEM

Despite representations by Dogs Queensland, the amended welfare legislation may be more notable for what it doesn't include, namely provisions to either outlaw 'puppy farms' or at least seriously constrain their activities and no change to the Queensland government's failed Breeder Identification Number (BIN) system.

In fact, it would seem that the government and its departmental officers still have a completely misguided view of the efficacy of the BIN system.

This may be explained by the government's concern that an acknowledgement of the failure of the BIN system would necessarily involve a properly run system requiring proof of competency and strict enforcement, all of which would require an adequate budget.

The Queensland government has already saved itself millions by largely farming out the management of animal welfare in the state to the RSPCA at the bargain price of $640,000 a year.

Animal welfare should be a moral and ethical issue not an accounting squib.

Goldens On The Grass

– Carolyn Ryan

On Sunday 13 November 2022, the Dogs Queensland Showgrounds at Durack turned into a sea of gold and cream.

The Golden Retriever Club of Queensland Inc held its 'Goldens on the Grass' funday.

Hundreds of Golden Retrievers of every age and colour were brought along by their doting owners.

The club spent months in the planning and preparation to ensure everyone had a fantastic day out.

Displays included dog Obedience, Dances With Dogs, scurry, best dressed dog and much more.

Stalls, competitions, displays and raffles added to the enjoyment. So many dogs enjoyed a dip in the wading pools!!!

Our MC, Murray Shoring, himself a Golden Retriever enthusiast, kept everyone updated with the timetable of events and announced the winners of the progressive raffle draws throughout the day.

An absolute favourite was our Santa photos. Life Member Shayne Careless did a great job as Santa. A huge thank you to Patrik Berger for his time and patience with the photos. Patrik also kindly supplied a lovely photo of our club volunteers who were present on the day.

Thank you to all who attended and contributed in making the day a success. Hopefully these Golden Retriever owners will have a greater insight into the abilities of this beautiful breed and the activities they can enjoy together.

It is always heartwarming when so many members come together to promote pedigree dogs and our spectacular Durack grounds and super cafe.

Golden Retriever Club Of Queensland Inc

The Club was established in 1974 to promote the general improvement of the quality, breeding, exhibiting and working of Golden Retrievers in Queensland.

We hold the highest standards, ethics and practices and together with a number of resources on hand our aim is to help 'Golden' owners enjoy the best life possible with their dog.

Dachshund Club of Queensland Christmas Fun Event

– Words and Images: Lisa Marsh-Furness

The Dachshund Club of Queensland has hosted a number of fun events this past year in conjunction with Devoted 2 Dachshunds Rescue – a charity group that the club supports. D2DR raise funds to assist with the fostering, care and rehoming of older dachshunds.

The latest fund-raising event was a Christmas Twilight event, held on Saturday 19 November 2022 at the Dogs Queensland Sports Grounds.

Various stall holders were invited to attend, all selling a wonderful array of Dachshund related items, ideal for Christmas gifts.

The biggest drawcard on the day was the ‘Dachie Dash’ with the fancy dress competition coming a close second. Santa made an appearance too!

It’s wonderful to see families enjoying timeout with their dogs and to be able to offer pet owners some fun activities to do with their Dachshunds, all whilst supporting our club and hopefully attracting new members. A great afternoon was had by all who attended.

DIRECTOR PROFILE

Ulla Greenwood

– David Margan

Ulla Greenwood spent much of her young life in inner city Brisbane in the early 70's roaming George Street, the Botanic Gardens and the front verandah and long corridors of the Kingsley Hotel where she lived with her German father, Alfred Zeller, sole parent, and restaurateur.

Next door was the Queensland Club and across the road, the legendary Bellevue Hotel, demolished in the dead of night in 1979 by the Bjelke Peterson government.

At age 12, and a student at All Hallows, her father asked her, would she like to have a dog and if so, what breed?

Ulla would have preferred a horse so she chose the one closest to a horse, a Great Dane.

Alfred's response was, "What's your second choice?"

And so, Ulla ended up with a black masked gold Afghan she called 'Tullo' fittingly named after an Australian designer that a family friend suggested. (Tullo's official title was Ch. Hanrovia Kusan Columbia.)

I asked why her dad selected an outstanding pure-bred Afghan?

"My father was very discerning."

'Tullo' would bound up and down the hotel

Alfred Zeller – Ulla's father verandah, chase the ducks in the Botanic Gardens and escape.

"That end of Brisbane was like a small country town at the time, and everyone knew him so we might get a call from Parliament House, or the Park Royal especially in Spring saying Tullo was out on manoeuvres again. I got to know a lot of people in the neighborhood because of that hound. He was a great companion and won many hearts."

She did her first conformation show at the Rocklea Agricultural Show that same year but was not immediately smitten. And a few years later they moved into an apartment in St Lucia and Tullo had to go back to the breeder where he went on to be an Australian championship winner, sired a number of litters and lived to a grand old age.

It would be ten more years after her University studies before she returned to the dog world.

Given her previous experience it wasn't surprising that when Ulla finally decided to get some more dogs into her life she chose Afghans, two brothers.

Ulla went on to have a number of top winning Afghans.

"In time I realized that to keep these doyens of the dog world in show condition took lots of time and this applied just as much to "B" grade Afghans as "A" grade Afghans."

In the late 1980's and looking for a second breed that was low maintenance she found what she was looking for at the Brisbane Ekka, Whippets!

"They just tick so many boxes. They're fabulous to live with, they very clean, don't shed much, don't smell doggy, very chilled, very quiet and they have this amazing facility to sense your mood. They are probably the most cat like of all canines and pound for pound they're the fastest dogs on earth."

Funny, I saw no sign of speed when I saw them, lying around languid on their dog beds, smiling.

Ulla now has more than a few, many of them winners in both the breeding and conformation stakes and has imported top Swedish and American lines.

In the past eleven years Ulla has had an effect on the fortunes of Dogs Queensland. For nine of those years, she has been a Director, and for five of them, President.

Those years have been full of enormous challenges and battles but two in particular spring to mind.

Firstly, Dogs Queensland was the last state body to sever connections with its local RNA and that process involved an exhaustive statewide consultation process and the arduous task of preparing a new constitution.

With Ulla's input and guidance, Dogs Queensland decided that the new constitution should go down the path of incorporation as a company limited by guarantee and not incorporation as an association with lesser powers. Corporations Law provides a company with wider commercial flexibility and important checks and balances.

All that was done in less than a year and Dogs Queensland hasn't looked back.

Secondly, it was revealed there was a proposal to sell the Durack Showgrounds. Of this Ulla said;

"Any such sale of Durack and purchase of the former Masters site at Parkinson needed to be supported by a watertight business case and a vote of members both for the sale of Durack and for the purchase of the Parkinson property."

So, committed to the cause of saving Durack Ulla and husband instructed their own lawyers and drove the signing by members of a petition to bring on a Special General Meeting where motions to the effect that any sale of Durack and the purchase of the Masters property could only proceed with a majority vote of members.

These were passed by an absolute majority.

"The job of President is pretty demanding, it's really a full-time unpaid job that is often thankless but on balance the rewards have outweighed the difficulties and I really enjoyed engaging with our membership and getting our message out there. And even if progress and improvement appear to at times to move forward at snail's pace we are in a good place and there is much more to do."

It's worth noting that each year, for the past two, the accounts of Dogs Queensland have recorded surpluses of around half a million dollars.

Regardless, there's always divisive and negative distractions that interfere with progress of initiatives for our dog world.

But looking at the positive what would Ulla Greenwood like to achieve if she is re-elected?

"Well, there are several things. Given our climate and the increasing frequency of rain events establishing a fund-raising committee to build a new undercover structure holding seven show rings, formalizing a relationship with Brisbane City Council and the State government to provide dog education programs, put in place a memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the RSPCA and establishing a position of Education and Welfare officer within our administration."

Ulla has just been re-appointed to the executive of Dogs Australia and she would also like to see them, in co-operation with our state bodies, develop a benevolent fund like, 'Take the Lead' an initiative of the American Kennel Club, where our dog world can help members who have fallen on hard times or are suffering a serious illness.

"I hope to continue growing our brand as the go to organisation on all canine matters, do my best to strengthen our governance protocols, transparency and member communication in the hope Dogs Queensland can be the country's best and a happier, more positive place."

The Earl Of Dogs

Picture Perfect Pooches

– David Margan

A close friend of mine, Ben Hawke, is an inveterate traveller who was recently in London and while there he went along to the UK Kennel Club's headquarters in the plush environment of Mayfair and to their Art Gallery and Library.

The UK Kennel Club was founded in 1873 and it's art gallery contains canine related artefacts that date from the first century up to the present day with special focus on works from the 19th and 20th centuries.

Their oldest item is a Celtic coin dating from AD 8 – AD 41, which is decorated with the image of a Hound while one painting dated 1855, shows the very early beginnings of dog showing.

Ben's reasons for his Mayfair excursion were simple. While there is a family mixed breed dog somewhere whose name is 'Essie', Ben is not part of the pure bred dog world but comes from a long line of his family who were – George Earl being one of the very first members of the UK Kennel Club.

Hanging on the walls of the Club's Art Gallery and Library are paintings by six artists from four generations of the Earl family. I asked Ben why almost all these generations of the Earls painted dogs, his reply was simple, "Because they just loved them!"

The gallery's current exhibition, 'The Art of the Earl Family' features the work of George Earl and Maud Earl, together with Thomas William Earl, Thomas Percy Earl, Jack Earl and Maris Earl Tomaszewski.

It's a celebration of dogs, art and history. This exhibition is the largest compilation of works from the family displayed together in history and provides an immersive glimpse into this world-renowned dynasty of canine artists.

As described in the exhibition catalogue: “Throughout art history dogs were depicted mainly in hunting scenes, as illustrating the social status of members of the aristocracy, as a lap dog, or sometimes as a personal friend. However, George blazed a trail by making an important contribution to the dog in art at a time when there was increasing interest in developing breeds and breeding pedigree dogs. His rise to artistic prominence paralleled the increasing popularity of dog shows and organised field trials.”

The UK Kennel Club Exhibition includes works loaned by the Royal family and the exhibition catalogue describes the Earls thus,

“The Earls were the first family of the dog in art during the 19th and early 20th Century. Considerably talented, they were synonymous with portraits of dogs during the sentimental age of the Victorian and Edwardian eras.”

George Earl is probably the most significant, in that he not only painted wonderful dog portraits but was engaged in the burgeoning world of pure breeds.

His paintings were regularly hung in the Royal Academy and one painting sold for 75,000 pounds. That would be over $19.5 million Australia dollars in today’s money!

And, as is what appears to be another family tradition, George loved travel and adventure. He joined the yacht, ‘Pandora’, for a four month Arctic voyage during which George made many paintings and watercolour sketches, recording seascapes at various locations along the route.

Below: The Field Trial Meeting – George Earl

George had a daughter Alice Maud Earl who defied the tenants of a male dominated Victorian society that considered women as no more than adornments and went on to become a talented and famous artist.

Her Dad was her first teacher and insisted that Maud not waste the oil paint till she'd mastered drawing and animal anatomy, "It is for this reason that I have been able to hold my own place among the best of dog painters—no one has ever touched me in my knowledge of anatomy." *

The exhibition catalogue notes; "This early training stood Maud in good stead, for she was unsurpassed among her peers in the depiction of the canine anatomy and quickly gained a reputation as a Lady Landseer or Rosa Bonheur of the canine world. She rapidly developed a select clientele of very important dog fanciers both in the United Kingdom and overseas."

George had a disciplined work ethic painting daily from 10 till 4 that he also passed on to Maud.

It's no coincidence that Earl's rise in popularity corresponded with Queen Victoria's patronage of canine companionship. Victoria kept 70 to 100 mostly purebred but not always perfect pet dogs and also commissioned Maud to produce a number of paintings of her brood.

As the exhibition catalogue states, "Keeping purebred dogs became an obligatory social distinction of the upper crust. Dog fancying gave rise to competitive show trials, such as, "Best looking and best matched brace of Pointers and Setters," and conformance shows such as Crufts, started in 1886 by Charles Cruft, a former dog biscuit salesman and the son of a London jeweller."

In Maud's first one woman show, in 1897 at London's Graves Galleries, her 70 dog portraits represented an astounding 48 varieties of canines. Asked if she'd painted every kind of dog, she confessed, "I have never painted a Mexican hairless *dog or an African dog."

Her collection, 'Terriers and Toys' included a portrait of 'Jack' the late Irish Terrier of King Edward VII, five hundred people turned up for the private viewing.

Sadly 'Jack' came to an untimely end; reputedly by choking to death on some food, it was the second royal pooch to die suddenly after being painted by Maud. But if it was good enough for a Queen, *"soon, every breeder and owner of a champion dog wanted to immortalize their winner with an Earl portrait." Her fame grew and in 1908, Earl moved her studio to Paris, where she had further success painting portraits of packs of French hunting hounds.

Maud also stepped into the world of advertising producing illustrations for James Buchanan's Black & White whisky advertisements, using a Retriever carrying a white ptarmigan, a medium-sized game bird in the grouse family. Her work also helped sell Messrs Noble's Explosive cartridges and Talbot car Radiators.

Above: Maud painting 'Nissa' the Leopard in 1937.

"BLACK & WHITE"
WHISKY

Maud, herself, was described as "a slim gentlewoman of determination who wore a monocle and who worked for and signed the 1899 Declaration in favour of Women's Suffrage."

Then Maud went off to America where she lived out her days. She rapidly set to work painting a number of the American canine aristocracy, became a member of high society and very successfully tried her hand at interior design and painting all sorts of animals.

In 1937 Maud was photographed in Los Angeles sketching, 'Nissa', the leopard which appeared with Katharine Hepburn in the film 'Bringing Up Baby.'

Her career spanned sixty years and she left behind what many would believe to be an unsurpassed contribution to the world of canine art. Her work also hangs in the American Kennel Club Museum in New York and the David Roche Foundation in Adelaide also have paintings by both George and Maud.

Maud Earl died in New York in 1943.

Ben's most immediate connection to this legendary generations of artists was his grandfather, Jack Earl, who had the most extraordinary life.

In the early 1900's a contingent of the Earls emigrated to Australia looking for adventure, on the way Jack Earl was born in South Africa. They ended up in the Torres Strait where Jack's dad, Frank, became the administrator of the tiny Strait's island, Darnley Island.

There, Jack spent time on the pearl luggers of the waters of the Torres and discovered a passion for sailing that in 1947 saw him set off in his 44 foot wooden yacht, 'Kathleen Gillett' to become only the second Australian to circumnavigate the globe.

In the family tradition Jack had gone to art school in Sydney, became a commercial artist and went on to be one of the 20th Century's most distinguished marine artists.

In 1994 Jack was awarded the Order of Australia Medal for his services to sailing and art.

The logbook of his global passage, now held in Sydney's Mitchell Library, is an extraordinarily beautiful manuscript both in its calligraphy and illustration. Though he never painted dogs, some of his maritime paintings are also part of the 'The Art of the Earl Family' exhibition.

It's a heritage Ben Hawke is extremely proud of even if the family's artistic genes skipped Ben's hands, "I'd have trouble drawing a stick figure!", he told me.

Marianne Walker Art Collection Curator Kennel Club Art Gallery said; "I was fortunate to meet Ben Hawke when he visited the exhibition with his family and friends and it was a great pleasure to share it with a descendant of this illustrious artistic family."

Describing six generations of achievement would take pages but there's one more Earl to mention.

Maris Earl was Jack Earl's daughter who also studied art and became both a painter and sculptor. In the 1960's Maris became Head of Design at Festival Records, designing covers for world-wide hits such as Johnny O'Keefe's 'Shout', and many of her original cover designs are now in collection of the Powerhouse Museum in Sydney.

What a world.

Breeder Alert – Puppy Scam Websites

Dogs Queensland has become increasingly aware of Puppy Scam Websites using legitimate Dogs Queensland Registration and Queensland Breeder Identification (BIN) Numbers to sell puppies. Dogs Queensland Registration Numbers are obtained from legitimate websites such as Dogs Queensland or DogzOnline, where they are displayed as required by the Queensland Government.

Please see the Queensland Dog Breeder Fact Sheets for regulations and guidelines for Queensland Dog Breeders.

An example of a typical scam is:

- A Dogs Queensland Membership number is lifted from current advertising on the internet.
- The scammer researches and obtains personal details of the breeder including name, suburb, prefix.
- A domain name similar to the Kennel prefix is registered on an offshore registry.
- Once the breeder has ceased advertising the litter of puppies a new website is published.
- No physical address or phone numbers are advertised on the website.
- The seller avoids permitting you to physically see the cyber puppy and only sends non genuine pictures.
- The seller insists on only accepting payment by a crypto currency or a funds transfer.

As a breeder what can you do to avoid being an unknowing victim of a Puppy Scam:

- Regularly Google search the internet for websites using a similar Domain Name as your Prefix.
- Put a warning notification in your online advertising to alert buyers to check any website they are looking at is legitimate.
- Encourage puppy buyers to verify breeder information with Dogs Queensland and make direct in-person contact with you.
- Ensure puppy buyers check communications are made with verified contact details.
- Encourage puppy buyers to meet the puppy and breeder before handing over payments.

– David Margan

Our dog world needs the fresh blood of youth. We need to pass on our love, our passion of pure-bred competition, the thrill of the ring, of achievement and the fellowship of like-minded people.

But there are distractions and fashions galore that can attract and distract our young from following in certain family footsteps.

Our advantage is that kids love pets which is a leg up to the task of participation and competition.

A shining example of just such a kid, who may one day be a state or national champion, a judge of renown or tireless organiser, is Chloe Wiseman.

Chloe, at age 12, may be our youngest participant in the dog sport of Agility and she is fiercely focused on climbing the ranks and getting those qualifications.

By her side is a red and white Border Collie known around the home as Leeroy, or more properly, “Kolorko MacAsti Star Leeroy.” He was bred by a long-time family friend, Deirdree Klatt.

“He’s often naughty, like just about every day!”

“Recently he didn’t just dig his way into the vegetable garden but pushed part of the fence over wrecking plants as he went so he could dig holes in the soft black earth and then one night he made this giant racket by running around with a six-metre irrigation pipe in his mouth,” said Chloe.

But their bond is very strong.

Almost every day Chloe is in the backyard of their acreage property training Leeroy and once a week she goes to the Jimboomba Obedience Club to learn from her peers the art of Agility.

“She’s one of those children who loves to do things with animals. She tried all the usual things, swimming, gymnastics, and other sports but it was working with horses and dogs that really got her interest.”

Chloe was just 8 when she asked her parents if she could get a dog of her own but the family departed on a one-year holiday road trip around Australia so that had to wait. When she returned, she started doing Obedience as her Mum, Donna, has specialized in the field for more than 20 years.

But a problem soon arose.

Chloe got bored and wanted to do something more active, more intense so along came Agility, Donna told me, “She absolutely loves it and is absolutely determined that she and Leeroy do well and so almost every other day she is out there working with Leeroy.”

Chloe has already mastered the routines of ‘Gamblers’ which doesn’t involve teaching Leeroy how to play poker but is a set sequence of tasks pre-determined by the judge. It usually involves between 3-5 obstacles and when the buzzer sounds you have a set amount of time to handle your dog through this sequence while you stay behind a line anywhere from 15 – 40 feet away.

This is the real challenge for Chloe, “Working Leeroy at a distance while staying behind the line. Improving every time, he competes.”

She is keen to master the same challenge with the Jumpers and Agility aspects of the sport and has already finished first twice, has run second and has had multiple placings in non-qualifying events but according to Mum that is not important, “For Chloe it’s not about winning ribbons it’s about getting those qualifying scores.”

Barbara Murfet, our indefatigable promoter of the wonderful world of Dog Sports said this, “We believe it is more about the bond with our dogs and the dog community rather than looking for the ribbons.”

Of Chloe’s passion her parents have been totally supportive. Dad, Steve, takes her to every trial and keeps a keen eye on the backyard training.

Chloe has a mission and it’s not the fluttering ribbons of success but those qualifying scores that drive her.

When I rang to talk to her, she had to interrupt her household chores and hop off the ride on mower to talk to me.

And as Donna said, “The great thing about Chloe working with dogs is that it has taught her patience, concentration, and emotional resilience. She is quite amazing for her age; she rarely gets flustered but stays calm and focused. It’s just great to watch. And let’s face it, it keeps her out of trouble!”

Barbara Murfet; “The wonderful aspect of our dog world is that Chloe has the support of a village of mentors who are very caring. They not only share their experiences and knowledge with her but give emotional support and guidance, being positive and just being there.

I asked Chloe what it was about Leeroy she especially liked? “I like everything about him but especially when he gets sookie and wants some affection and he comes and puts his head in my lap.”

They are clearly a team even if the disobedient and naughty Leeroy sometimes frustrates her, as Mum, Donna, explains, “This whole process teaches Chloe discipline, patience, concentration and how to control your emotions when things don’t go according to plan. I have to take my hat off to her, to be at such a young age, so persistent and patient. We’re very proud of her.”

“Dog owners recognise that our dogs are much happier if they have a purpose and dog sports provide many ways, they can lead happy busy lives in our community,” said Barbara Murfet.

And what’s next for Chloe? “I’d like to keep having fun and get to an ‘Elite’ title in Agility and Jumpers, After that, I don’t know, I am only 12 and I don’t look that far ahead.”

But in November Chloe killed it in her Trialling and received her first Qualifier in Novice Agility.

Well done, Chloe and, of course, Leeroy!

SCENT WORK STATE TITLES 2022

– Kim Dawson

On the weekend of 22-23 October 2022, teams assembled from throughout Queensland and interstate to participate in the Inaugural Scent Work State Titles competition. Under sometimes very adverse weather including torrential downpour, Judges officiated over 340 searches across the two days of competition.

For the first time in Queensland, the Masters competition class was offered, where teams must find an unknown number of hides and target odours; ignoring food distractions in challenging search configurations including “blank” searches, where the handler must successfully indicate that the area contains nothing the dog is trained to identify. It was amazing to observe the Master class teams in action, showcasing a high level of skill and teamwork.

STATE TRIAL RESULTS

Congratulations to all those who won, placed, qualified, and competed at the State Titles. Everyone took the best dogs home at the end of the day!

margin over the small but fiercely competitive team hailing from NSW, the “Scent Troopers”. A huge thank you to everyone who participated in the Team Challenge and made the trial such an incredibly fun experience!

TEAM COMPETITION

The State Trials also hosted the light-hearted “Scent Work Subcommittee Team Challenge”, in which competitors were encouraged to form groups with themed Team names, costumes and food tables. Team scores were calculated on performance at a class and placement level, team spirit, inclusiveness, inventiveness, and good old-fashioned bribery of the moderators (food, naturally!). It was wonderful to see the community spirit and the way that seasoned competitors ensured newcomers to the sport were included. The very first Scent Work Subcommittee Team Challenge was won by the “Purple Odour Eaters” (Team Captain Natalie Kirkwood), by a narrow

ABOUT SCENT WORK

Scent Work is a sport that is based on the task of working detection dogs to locate an odour and communicate to the handler that the odour has been found. Detection is done in a variety of environments and often during changing weather or environmental conditions. Scent Work is a positive, challenging activity that allows dogs the opportunity to use their strongest natural sense in a way that is fun, engaging, and builds and strengthens a foundation of trust between the handler and dog. Dogs are trained to recognise specific odours, and to alert their handlers when the odours are detected. The dog and handler must work together as a team, using body language and verbal encouragement to ensure all sections of the search area are covered, directing the dog’s search only when necessary and indicating to the Judge when the dog has found the odour. Communication with and praise of the dog during the search are encouraged.

MEDIA UPDATE

– David Margan and Marylu Lloyd

With our President and spokesperson going overseas on a well-deserved holiday we have been on more of a watching brief.

I have though, contacted our friends in the media with some suggestions for canine stories over the forthcoming holiday period.

Finally, I have completed the article, ‘The Earl of Dogs’ which is about the famous generations of canine artists and their connection to Australia.

Sourcing correct photos of the artworks and providing correct attributions and fact checking has taken some time going backward and forward to the UK Kennel Club’s Art Gallery team.

They have been terrifically helpful and co-operative.

On 2 December 2022, the Queensland Parliament passed a series of amendments to the Animal Care and Protection Act 2001 (ACPA) Animal Welfare, some of which are of interest to our members. An article about those changes and their implications can be found in this edition of Dog World.

I have also stayed in touch with the Scenic Rim Council re the application for a ‘puppy farm’ that is before them, however, they are still to make a decision on the matter but they sure know we are watching developments.

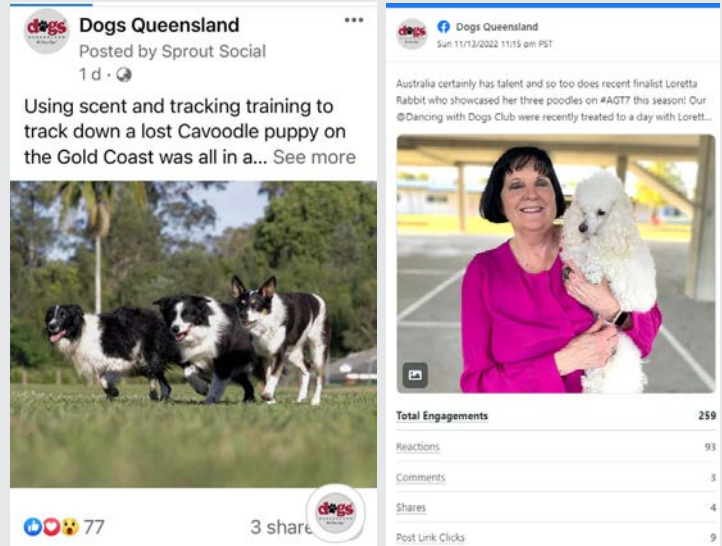

SOCIAL MEDIA

We have had some technical issues in the past month which have now been resolved.

Meanwhile our social media remained steady this month.

There were around 20 posts and stories shared on Facebook and Instagram during the month according to SPROUT.

Our two Dog World magazine tips certainly got people’s attention: Pepper the Border Collie X and Loretta Rabbit.

Plus, the stand alone post on this month’s Australian Terrier were the top posts.

Heatwave post shared 95 times reaching over 12,346 people with 575 engagements and 26 likes.

Facebook followers reached 9900 only 100 to go to meet the magic 10,000 followers which should be achieved by 31 December 2022. While our Instagram followers now number 1478.

Overall Facebook and Instagram Impressions 171,821 which, up against previous two month period, increased by 54.9%

SCHEDULE DEADLINE REMINDER

In keeping with the Dog Queensland Rules and Regulations (42.4 – page 43), clubs are advised schedules are to be submitted to the DQ office at least 3 calendar months prior to the month of publication of the Show Schedule. Please note that schedule advertising must appear in the Dog World magazine 2 months prior to the event (a total of 5 months).

Late schedules will appear in the following edition of DQ's Dog World magazine.

For example, the schedule for a show to be held on 7 October 2023 would need to be submitted to the office by 7 May 2023. This allows for the 3 months prior to the schedule being published in the August 2022 Dog World magazine, which is the required 2 months prior to the date of the show.

To submit Schedules or for more information contact Ian at ian@dogsqueensland.org.au

Eukanuba™

Multi BIS & BNIS & Best Class in Show Awards Touchofchow Team – owned by Janette Ursida-Mouroufas

‘OUR CHOWS HAVE EVERYTHING THEY NEED AND THEY LOVE THE TASTE’

Touchofchow in South Australia has been exhibiting Chow Chows for over 20 years and breeding for 10 years.

We breed to introduce worldwide stunning lines to better the breed here in Australia and we are achieving amazing success in and out of the show ring with both our smooth and rough coats.

Our puppies are given the best start to life being exclusively fed Medium Puppy and our adults are conditioned on Premium Performance Sport. We used to add supplements and vitamins to our dog food until we found Eukanuba™ which already contains biotin to help maintain glorious healthy coats for the show ring, folic acid for our reproductive mothers and glucosamine to provide cartilage nutrition and joint repair. With the addition of Eukanuba’s 3D DentaDefense, our Chows have everything they need and they love the taste.
