– NETTA BAINBRIDGE (ZONE 1)

I have been a CCCQ member since 1979 and have been involved in club, show administration since 1982. I have been honored with life membership for both the Staffordshire Bull Terrier Club of Qld and the Nanango Kennel Club. I have been active member with a number of different conformation and obedience clubs and am currently President of the Nanango Kennel Club which conducts Conformation, Obedience, Rally, Trick, Track and Search Trials and Endurance Tests. Currently I am working as a Veterinary Clinic assistant in Kingaroy. I started in to dog world a very long time ago. I began showing when I was 7 and sports and trialling in my early 20s.

I have really enjoyed representing members and will continue to strive that all members are consulted, particularly ensuring that there is a parity with country and city.

I will continue to ensure that members views are heard and respected. I have seen many many changes in the dog world, we need to meet our challenges head on and ensure that conformation shows and dog sports continue to grow well into the future.

– AINSLIE CARIUS (ZONE 1)

My dad has often told me that if you want to effect positive change, then you need to be involved.

Being elected to the board and working for the membership for the betterment of our organisation is one way I believe I can contribute to positive change.

I am not sure I have all the answers, but I can honestly say that I am willing to listen and am prepared to be the voice that will raise concerns of the membership to try and find solutions.

I firmly believe that for the future of our organisation it is essential in all mediums, be it social media or at dog events, we treat each other with kindness and respect and engage in a culture of positivity and inclusivity.

My involvement in the dog world began as a child handler and has continued through my involvement in clubs either as a working member or part of the executive.

I am currently training to be an all-breeds judge and whilst I do not show dogs as often now, I keep involved by working as a show manager.

Professionally I am the HR Manager at QEII Hospital with qualifications in Law.

Thank you,
Ainslie

– TONI DENNIS

My career with Queensland Health has given me expertise in PR, finance, and business operations, along with the experience to handle sensitive matters with discretion and professionalism.

These skills will serve me well in my role on the Board of Directors. I'm passionate about the future of our hobby and committed to finding new ways to support its longevity.

I'm always open to feedback and ideas from others, because I believe collaboration is key to making positive change. Above all, I'm here to listen, learn, and work together to build a stronger community.

– MICHAEL ESLICK

(ZONE 1)

Running for the Board is a responsibility that comes with the opportunity to shape the future of the organisation. I am standing for election because I believe in the core values of transparency and financial efficiency, two crucial aspects that can enhance the club's success and benefit all members. Transparency is essential to building trust and ensuring that every member is well-informed about DQs decisions, financial status, and overall direction. If elected, I will advocate for clear communication, regular updates, and an open-door policy where members can voice their concerns or provide input on key decisions.

Additionally, I understand that many members are concerned about the rising costs of fees. I believe we can make smarter, more strategic financial decisions that reduce expenses without sacrificing the quality of our services. Cutting unnecessary costs, exploring alternative revenue streams, and negotiating better deals are just a few ways we can lower fees and pass the savings directly to members. I am committed to fostering an environment of trust, financial responsibility, and inclusivity. With your support, I will work hard to ensure that DQ remains a thriving, affordable community for all members. Thank you for considering me for this important role!

– ULLA GREENWOOD (ZONE 1)

Dogs have been a great passion and joy in my life and have been a wonderful interest outside of my professional career. I am a lawyer and worked in senior policy and legal roles in a number of Queensland Government Departments over 25 years including the Commissioner of Fair Trading and Official Solicitor role. During this period, I was also the Chair of the Queensland College of Art Advisory Council for some years.

I have shown and bred whippets for decades and as an ABJ appreciate all our wonderful breeds.

From 2012 I have been in governance roles as Chair of the CCCQ in its incorporation, eight years as a Director and President for 4 years. A priority is engagement with members. I would like to see our Strategic Plan updated from 2019. More community and government engagement would be priorities as well as fundraising, grants and sponsorships for initiatives that include a well overdue Durack Undercover Arena.

Dogs Queensland should be the “go to” resource for any dog related matters. We have so much untapped expertise in our membership ranks. I would also like to see initiatives to attract and retain new memberships in all our disciplines throughout Queensland.

– DR PAUL HEWITT (ZONE 1)

55 years as a member of Dogs Qld and Dogs NSW.

Doctorate in Physics and Associate Australian Institute of Management.

Entrepreneur and small business owner of Boarding Kennels and CEO Laser Lites International Hair Care Products.

Australia’s #1 Specialty winning Afghan Hound kennel of all time. Group 4 Judge/Assessor/Lure Coursing Judge.

Why am I standing?

The sport of pure bred dogs in Australia is in serious decline (some would say terminally so). CCCQ and Dogs Queensland are little different from when I joined in 1970. Since then the membership has declined to such an extent that fees for puppy registrations and transfers have risen far above indexation, and DQ has been forced to fund its activities by running over 20 championship conformation shows in 2023 alone.

So, the number of entries at shows are down, litters born are down, DQ memberships are down, transaction fees are up, and entry fees are up.

But more broadly there is a demonstrated need to appoint independent consultants to review all aspects of DQ (Terms of Reference available). It is do or die time for DQ with its $5 million in assets.

– ALAN-JOHN KNIGHT (ZONE 1)

My name is Alan-John Knight and with Karen have been Exhibitors/Members of CCCQ (28yrs).

I am President/Life Member of Lockyer Valley Kennel Club, past President of Brisbane Valley and Beenleigh Kennel Club, Chief Steward – Esk Show Society (24yrs) and Toogoolawah Ag (7yrs).

My area of expertise includes working with Members, Council/State Government on dog issues, organizing/running dog shows, pet expo's and a Mediator for various clubs having problems within.

Volunteered my time at the following -

- The Ekka DQ stand,
- Qld Dogs Spectacular stand,
- Gold Coast Pet Expo,
- Run show training classes (Glenore Grove),
- Liaised with Local Councils/State Government for better outcomes with Dog Laws and Regulations,
- Adjudicated on Breach's hearings.

Its time to Action Covered Rings at Durack as it has for many years been discussed but as always not actioned, I will change that, I've worked hard for the members and always try to make sure DQ members are fully informed of what's happening in the Dog World and believe we need more transparency and member forums to have a greater input for decision's that effect all Members. It's your dog world let's make it better for all. And be your loud Voice.

I have focused on delivering education for members, clinics and vet training, and a number of research projects. We have made significant progress towards the betterment of our breeds together with the health and wellbeing of all dogs.
