President's Message

“The month of May has certainly been a month of engagement.

On 8 - 10 May 2026 we saw a collaboration between Caboolture Kennel Club and the Conformation Judges Committee to hold mentored shows for our open show judges. These shows were very well supported and play an integral part of our judges training. There was also educational seminars conducted to provide further education to our judges. I'd like to acknowledge the judges and mentors who gave their time and shared knowledge with our trainees. Thank you to all those who contributed to the events success.

Dog Lover's Festival was held on 16 and 17 May 2026 at the Ekka Showgrounds. This was a fantastic opportunity to showcase our dog world to the dog loving general public. Our breed clubs and breeders had wonderful breed stands providing information on their breeds to attendees. The Dogs Queensland stand proved very popular with staff and volunteers providing information and friendly loveable dogs for the public. There was no shortage of hugs and pats for the dogs on display. Fantastic demonstrations included Dances with Dogs, Scent Work and Obedience. Our gratitude to everyone who contributed to the weekend.

On Saturday 16 May 2026 we held a Member's Forum for Zone One. This forum provides an opportunity for members to discuss various issues and concerns directly with members of Board of Directors. Thank you to the members and Directors who attended on the night.

One of the highlights of the show calendar is Brookfield Show Society double championship shows. This year was no exception. The shows were held on 23 and 24 May 2026 in perfect weather. Andrew and Ulla Greenwood ensure the day includes commentary of events to make the public part of the day. Members were encouraged to interact with the showgoers in what is a prelude of the upcoming Queensland Ekka.”

Carolyn Ryan,

Dogs Queensland President

Please include the following information in your submission:

Subject: Subject to include dog registration number and registered name and title applied for.

4.3. Height Card

Prior to a dog competing in a trial for the first time, an Official Height Card, signed by TWO (Dogs Australia) Agility Judges or other persons approved by the Canine Control specifying the height or the height category of the dog must be obtained. The height of the dog is to be measured at the highest point of the withers at no earlier than 16 months old. - The dog is over 2 years old
- The dog is measured into the 600 Height category
- The dog is at least 20mm below the height cutoff for the next height category above.

A permanent Height Card would then be issued. Any pass cards issued to the dog during the period of the temporary height card will remain valid.

NORWEGIAN ELKHOUND

Although bred as hunting dogs, Norwegian Elkhounds are essentially friendly, loyal, and devoted. With the right upbringing, they make ideal additions to the family.

– Gabor Markotany

The Norwegian Elkhound is a powerfully built, medium-sized dog. Males stand between 20.5 and 22 inches, and females between 19.5 and 21 inches. The breed has a broad skull with mobile, pricked ears, dark eyes, and a high-set tail. The body is square and well-proportioned, covered by a harsh, weatherproof double coat in shades of grey, which typically sheds once a year.

They should be brushed regularly – about twice a week, and daily when shedding. With consistent grooming, you should be able to strip out the dead coat fairly quickly. It may be worthwhile to have them professionally groomed during heavy shedding periods, as a groomer can achieve more in a single session than you might manage in several hours at home. With proper grooming you will find they have no doggy odour.

The Elkhound is naturally independent and extremely intelligent, performing well in activities that require mental engagement, such as Obedience, Tracking, showing, and Scent Work.

Here in Australia we have been very successful in breeding healthy Norwegian Elkhounds. Most breeders only need to visit the vet for annual vaccinations. Historically, the most common health issues have been hip dysplasia, Progressive Retinal Atrophy (PRA), and sebaceous cysts, but no cases have been reported since the 1980s. As with all animals your dog will occasionally suffer from coughs, colds, bronchitis and pneumonia which is easily treated by your vet. Elkhounds need to be wormed regularly to treat internal parasites such as roundworms, hookworms, whipworms and tapeworm – your vet can supply you with correct worming treatment. External parasites such as fleas, ticks, lice also need to be treated.

If your dog has a discharge from his eyes treat him by wiping his eyes and if it continues a visit to the vet for treatment is needed. Hard chewing toys will serve as a tooth brush and prevent accumulation of tartar on their teeth. Clip your dogs nails with specially designed nail clippers taking care not to cut the quick as this will cause bleeding.

Temperament is one of the main reasons people choose Elkhounds. Many owners say that once they've had an Elkhound, they never want to be without one. It's common for families to own three or four Elkhounds over the years. They usually live peacefully with other dogs, cats, and household pets and are unlikely to attack without serious provocation. An Elkhound should not display nervousness or aggression.

Travelling with an Elkhound: Elkhounds generally love travelling and quickly become excited about going in the car. For long trips, it is advisable to use a crate. A crate also makes an excellent sleeping space, especially when visiting friends or camping. Because they become so accustomed to it as their “den,” they rarely bark when crated for sleep.

HISTORY OF THE BREED

Often referred to as the dog of the Vikings the Norwegian Elkhound is one of the ancient northern spitz type breed of dog and is the National dog of Norway. They have served as a hunter, guardian, herder and defender. In the land of sub – zero temperatures, deep snow, thick forests and rugged mountains only the hardiest of breed could evolve to perform the variety of jobs the Elkhound excels at. It is known for its courage in tracking and hunting moose and other large game such as bear or wolf. During the Viking era, Norsemen sailed the seas with their favourite dog at their side. The Elkhound was a steady companion and a working member of the crew, both on land and at sea.

When a commander or king was wounded or killed in battle, he was carried aboard his Viking ship along with his dog and sent out to sea toward Valhalla – the home of brave and courageous Vikings in the realm of Odin and Thor. Kings were buried with their ships, weapons, tools, and of course their dogs. At Vistehulen, Professor Brinchmann discovered relics including four dog skeletons similar in bone structure to the modern Elkhound. Archaeologists date these remains to around 4000–5000 BC.

In Norse history, the years 1825 to 1845 are known as the “Wolf Period.” Wolves poured into Norway from Finland and northern Sweden, hunting in large packs and killing livestock, horses, and even people. In central Norway, on 14 February, 1842, a major fight involving nine of the toughest Elkhounds and local farmers resulted in most of the wolves in that valley being killed.

THE HUNTING ELKHOUND

The Elkhound is primarily used for hunting big game such as moose, bear, mountain lion, wolf, fox, rabbit, and even large upland birds. Hunting moose in the dense Norwegian forests without a dog would be nearly impossible.

The moose hunting season starts in late September and lasts five to ten days, or until the quota is filled. Every kill must be reported, and the season ends once the quota is reached. Each hunting party must have a dog to track any wounded moose so that the animal does not suffer a long, painful death.

There are two main methods of hunting with an Elkhound: Loshund and Bandhund.

- The Loshund works on a long lead, keeping constant contact with the hunter.
- The Bandhund is released into the forest to follow the scent of the moose. Once he finds the animal, he follows silently until the moose makes a stand. At that point, the dog begins to bark, allowing the hunter to follow the sound and locate the moose.

If the moose is only wounded, hunters usually wait about two hours before trailing it, to ensure a clean and humane end. Moose hunting is demanding and requires special qualities in a dog:

1. An excellent nose
2. Steady nerves
3. A deep, far-carrying voice
4. Intelligence and good judgement

OWNING AN ELKHOUND

The Norwegian Elkhound is adaptable to various climates and living situations, but does require adequate exercise and mental stimulation. He is happiest when included in family activities. A secure, fenced yard or other safe means of confinement is important, especially in urban areas, to protect him from traffic and other hazards.

Without enough activity and engagement, an Elkhound can become frustrated and may develop nuisance behaviours such as excessive barking, which can upset neighbours. You need to decide whether you want a dog or a bitch. There is not a lot of difference between the sexes but you know bitches come into season usually twice a year and will drive a male dog crazy if there is one around. Perhaps you might want to desex a bitch but not necessarily a male. Desexing should be done at about a year when the dog or bitch has stopped growing – doing it before this time may interfere with its development and cause physical damage to normal growth.

If you decide to get an Elkhound, it is best to obtain a list of breeders from your state controlling body (e.g., Dogs Queensland). A reputable breeder often becomes a long-term family friend and should be your first point of contact if any issues arise.

Your puppy should come with registration papers and a health certificate. We always advise buyers to take their new puppy to the family vet for a thorough health check shortly after purchase, to confirm he is in good health and to get advice on worming, vaccinations, diet, and general care.

Elkhounds make wonderful family dogs: loving, protective, intelligent, and playful. They enjoy attention and treats, and the time and care you invest in them is well rewarded.

Temperament: The Norwegian Elkhound is both friendly and fiercely loyal – one of the breed's most endearing traits. Proper socialisation and plenty of exercise are essential. Regular exposure to new people and situations helps produce a confident, well-mannered dog. Trips to parks, shopping areas, and having visitors at home all contribute to building ease around strangers.

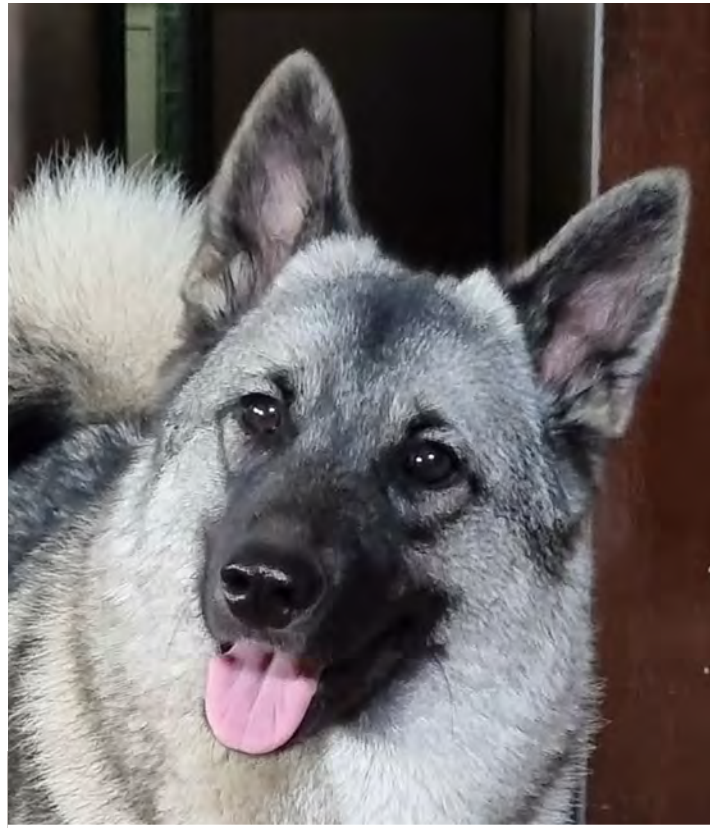

Highly intelligent and resourceful, Elkhounds make excellent family companions. They can sometimes be challenging in formal training because of their independence, so you must be firm but never harsh. They respond very well to praise and rewards but are sensitive and may become aloof if treated unfairly or punished too severely.

The key is consistent, kind leadership:

- Be firm and clear about what you expect.
- Reward the behaviours you want with plenty of praise, affection, and treats.

Although bred as hunting dogs, Norwegian Elkhounds are essentially friendly, loyal, and devoted. With the right upbringing, they make ideal additions to the family.

NexGard SPECTRA® Next Level Glow-Up – New Farm, Brisbane

In April 2026, NexGard SPECTRA® brought the Next Level Glow-Up experience to Brisbane, transforming a section New Farm markets into a vibrant celebration of dogs and the people who love them. Part of a national campaign, the event was all about celebrating pet owners who go above and beyond – while raising awareness of the importance of parasite protection.

Dog owners who joined us on the day were treated to a fun, interactive experience designed with both pets and their humans in mind. At the centre of the event was the Glow-Up station, where dogs received a light groom – brush, spray and a little “zhoosh” – to get them looking their best.

Freshly styled, pups then took to the blue carpet for their very own “puparazzi” moment, posing for photos in front of a branded backdrop. Owners received a shareable digital keepsake, making it easy to capture and celebrate their dog’s “next level” moment.

Beyond the fun, the event created a relaxed and welcoming space for pet owners to connect, learn and enjoy time with their dogs. It also provided an opportunity for one-on-one conversations about parasite protection, helping owners better understand how to protect their pets year-round.

Attendees also received goodie bags, packed with treats and surprises to take home as well as a free sample of NexGard SPECTRA. A special thanks goes to local pet store Mooeys, who contributed additional items and were a valued local partner in bringing the event to life for the New Farm community.

The Brisbane event was further supported by local influencer activity, helping spread the word and share the experience with even more dog lovers across the region.

Whether you joined us on the day or missed out, the Next Level Glow-Up was all about celebrating the joy of being a devoted dog owner – and showing how small moments of care, including parasite protection, can make a big difference for your pet.

Honouring Service, Celebrating Breed

ANZAC Day Fundraising Dog Show in Support of the Forest Lakes RSL Sub Branch Assistance Dogs Program

Dogs Queensland Sports Grounds, Durack – Saturday, 25 April 2026

– Katrina Santas, Chair, Dogs Queensland Events Committee & Event Manager

ANZAC Day 2026 brought together two of Australia's most enduring traditions – the solemn commemoration of those who have served and the proud celebration of the purebred dog – in a way that few events have managed before.

Held at the Dogs Queensland Sports Grounds in Durack, the day's programme highlight was the annual ANZAC Dusk Service at 5pm, followed by the conclusion of a magnificent All Breeds Championship Show that drew 446 entries and judges from across Australia and New Zealand.

At its heart was a purpose that made the event truly meaningful: raising funds for the Forest Lake RSL Sub Branch Assistance Dogs Program, an initiative that continues the remarkable story of the bond between humans and dogs in times of need.

A Service to Remember

As the afternoon light softened over the grounds, exhibitors, judges, stewards, dignitaries, and guests gathered for the ANZAC Dusk Service – an occasion that proved to be one of the most moving moments many in attendance had experienced at a dog show.

The welcome address was delivered by myself as Chair of the Dogs Queensland Events Committee and event manager for the day – my carefully crafted words drew a thread between the courage of Australia's military working dogs and the dedication of those who breed, raise, and care for pedigree dogs today.

The address told the story of Tiber, a Labrador Retriever who served as a Combat Tracker Dog with the Australian infantry units during the Vietnam War. In the dense and unforgiving jungle, dogs like Tiber were sent forward after enemy contact, following faint scents across broken ground, guiding patrols away from ambush and toward adversaries who were often only metres away. Their work, conducted in silence and at extraordinary personal risk, saved lives.

At Fire Support Base Coral in 1968, during one of the most intense enemy attacks Australian forces faced in that conflict, Tiber became separated from his handler in the chaos. He survived – but like many of those who served, he carried the weight of what he had endured. In later years he became more withdrawn, more sensitive to loud sounds, a quiet testament to the lasting toll of war.

Retired in June 1970, quarantine laws prevented his return to Australia, and he lived out his remaining years with a couple at the Australian Embassy in Saigon. His story is one of absolute loyalty, extraordinary service, and quiet sacrifice.

It was a story that resonated deeply with the assembled crowd. As the address concluded, the gathering stood in reflection, reminded that the greatness of the working dog – and the companion dog beside us today – is born from generations of careful stewardship by people who care passionately about what these animals are and what they can become. Lest we forget.

Distinguished Guests

The significance of the occasion was reflected in the calibre of those who attended. Joining members of the Board of Directors, Life Members, fifty-year members, staff, and the broader Dogs Queensland community were several prominent dignitaries, including The Honourable Milton Dick MP, The Honourable Margie Nightingale, Councillor Steve Griffiths, and Councillor Charles Strunk. Members of the Forest Lake RSL and recipients of the Assistance Dogs Program were also present, providing the service an added layer of significance and connection to the veteran community the event aimed to support. The TS Vengeance Naval Cadets, whose commitment to the ANZAC spirit added a further layer of authenticity and reverence to the service were also in attendance.

The Honourable Milton Dick MP offered a deeply thoughtful address, speaking to the service of the many men and women who have represented Australia in conflicts throughout the nation's history, and extending that tribute to the animals who served alongside them – from tracker and patrol dogs to therapy animals and the stray pets who, in their simple presence, provided comfort to soldiers in the most difficult of circumstances. His words were warmly received and served as a fitting complement to the day's tone of remembrance and gratitude.

The Championship Show

With the solemnity of the Dusk Service providing a meaningful backdrop, the All Breeds Championship Show proved to be a celebration of the very best of the fancy. A total of 446 entries were received across the seven groups, with an exceptional panel of judges specifically appointed to reflect the spirit of ANZAC comradeship – bringing experienced eyes from across Australia and New Zealand together for a shared occasion.

Officiating across the groups were: Ms Roni Oma (WA) in Group 1 Toys; Ms Karen McIntyre (NZ) in Group 2 Terriers; Mrs Danielle Dryburgh (NSW) in Group 3 Gundogs; Mrs Pauline Hartwell (NSW) in Group 4 Hounds; Mrs Heather Morrison (TAS) in Group 5 Working Dogs; Mr Steve Warry (WA) in Group 6 Utility; Mr Richard Watson (TAS) in Group 7 Non Sporting; and Mrs Heather Morrison (TAS) officiating at Best in Show.

Judges' Reflections

The judges were generous in their praise of both the quality of exhibits and the spirit of the event.

Richard Watson – Tasmania

Richards' career in judging spans more than 55 years since obtaining his first Championship Licence, noted that it was only his second time judging in Brisbane – his previous appearance dating to 2015.

He was particularly moved by the ANZAC service, describing it as conducted “with genuine reverence and atmosphere,” and shared that two distant cousins had died at Gallipoli, making the occasion personally resonant.

He commended the efficiency of his stewards, the quality of the organisation, and the warmth of the hospitality extended throughout the event.

Among the exhibits that caught his eye was a Minor Puppy Labrador Retriever, Bonnsway A Few Best Men, whom he awarded Runner-Up in the Gundog Group – a rare honour for a dog so young, but one he felt entirely warranted given the puppy's outstanding quality and future promise and one whose future career he intends to follow with keen interest.

Steve Warry - Western Australia

Steve spoke warmly of the ANZAC service, describing it as “beautifully done and a wonderful reflection of the service that dogs performed during war times and beyond.”

Judging the first Best in Show of the weekend, he found himself with a stellar line-up of high-quality exhibits to assess. His BIS winner, a Dobermann, impressed with his strength, masculinity, excellent structure and majestic movement. The Reserve BIS, a Bedlington Terrier, was commended for coat, presentation, overall shape, and true terrier character.

He also took particular note of the sportsmanlike conduct of exhibitors throughout the event – a reflection of the quality of the Dogs Queensland membership.

Karen McIntyre – New Zealand

Karen described the ANZAC service as “particularly moving” and noted it would remain a lasting memory.

She found the overall standard of exhibits very high, with several reserve exhibits of a calibre equal to the eventual group winners. The Working Dog Group impressed her with its exceptional depth, while the Utility Group was led by the same Dobermann she described as displaying the balance of strength and elegance she most admires.

Her Reserve in Show at the final show, a Hungarian Vizsla, demonstrated correct hunting character paired with effortless, graceful movement. Her Best in Show was awarded to the Bedlington Terrier, selected for embodying true breed character – a natural showman with terrier spirit evident yet well controlled, correct in balance and sound in movement.

Her “find of the weekend” was a French Bulldog bitch whose beautifully proportioned and balanced head, combined with an exquisite expression, she selected as her pick of the future - in a breed under health scrutiny, a dog displaying essential characteristics for a sound and sustainable future.

Karen extended particular appreciation to her stewards and to the staff and directors of Dogs Queensland for an exceptionally well-conducted show weekend.

Roni Oma – Western Australia

Roni extended warm thanks for the invitation to what she described as a special show weekend, noting that while she has judged in Queensland many times, this was her first time in Brisbane.

She was delighted by the overall quality and standard of presentation and handling, describing the judging task as a genuinely happy challenge.

The ANZAC service gave her pause to reflect not only on the devastation of war but specifically on the sacrifice of “our special furry friends”, and she was moved to see service dogs and their owners present at the service.

She noted the clear and special relationship between Dogs Queensland and the Forest Lake RSL and broader service community in support of Paws Aid. A highlight she will carry with her: the experience of judging and cuddling the six wriggling baby Dogue de Bordeauxs.

Pauline Hartwell
– New South Wales

Pauline thanked Dogs Queensland and Committee for the invitation, and praised the show as exceptionally well organised across the entire weekend.

She judged across four groups, finding quality throughout. Across the Utility Group, she selected the Dobermann Sup Ch Ebondobe Eternal Fire (AI) as her Group winner, praising his balance, correct structure and strong movement, with the Bernese Mountain Dog as Reserve.

In Non Sporting, a Japanese Spitz, Ch Teikora Venus Goddess of Love, claimed the Group on the strength of her correct nimble movement and pure coat, with a Toy Poodle, Ch Farefire Black Diamond, pushing her closely. Pauline noted she had never encountered such a beautiful example of the breed.

In the Hound Group, a Whippet, Ch Shawthing Prudy with Jacuzzi, impressed with graceful, powerful movement, ahead of a Beagle, Ch Lunars Lend a Paw.

In the Working Dog Group for the Paws Aid Show, she awarded Group to an outstanding American-bred Australian Shepherd, Am Gr Ch Br Ch Bailiwick Audacious Coca (Imp USA), with the Reserve going to a beautifully presented Old English Sheepdog, Am Ch Sup Ch Wynsilot Rhythm's Gonna Get You (Imp USA) – a breed close to her heart and one she herself has been breeding for many years.

An event of this nature does not come together without the efforts of many, and it is with sincere gratitude that we acknowledge all those whose involvement made the ANZAC Day Fundraising Dog Show the truly special occasion it proved to be.

To our distinguished dignitaries – The Honourable Milton Dick MP, The Honourable Margie Nightingale, Councillor Emily Kim, Councillor Steve Griffiths, and Councillor Charles Strunk – as well as the Members of the Forrest Lake RSL, the Board of Directors, Life Members, and fifty-year members of Dogs Queensland, your presence signified the day and gave weight and meaning that will not be forgotten.

To the TS Vengeance Naval Cadets - thank you for going above and beyond every year to ensure our Dusk Service is a thorough and genuine reflection of the ANZAC spirit; your dedication is deeply appreciated and does not go unnoticed.

To our wonderful panel of judges - Richard Watson, Steve Warry, Karen McIntyre, Roni Oma, Pauline Hartwell, Danielle Dryburgh, and Heather Morrison – thank you for travelling from across Australia and New Zealand, for judging with such integrity and expertise, and for embracing the spirit of the occasion with warmth and grace.

To our exhibitors – the breeders, handlers, and owners who entered 446 dogs and presented them to the ring with pride and professionalism – you are the heart of our sport, and your sportsmanship and camaraderie made the weekend everything it was. Your continued dedication to the betterment of the purebred dog are what make events like this possible and worthwhile.

A very special thank you is extended to the ground and office staff of Dogs Queensland, led so capably by Rob Harrison, whose outstanding support to the event, the committee, stewards and show manager was instrumental in bringing the weekend together seamlessly.

To the Forest Lake RSL Sub Branch – thank you for your generous donation of trophies for the Best in Show awards, a gesture that beautifully underscored the partnership between our two communities.

On behalf of Dogs Queensland and the Forest Lake RSL Sub Branch Assistance Dogs Program, thank you all. It was a privilege and an honour to stand among you on such a meaningful day.

Breeder Alert – Puppy Scam Websites

Dogs Queensland has become increasingly aware of Puppy Scam Websites using legitimate Dogs Queensland Registration and Queensland Breeder Identification (BIN) Numbers to sell puppies. Dogs Queensland Registration Numbers are obtained from legitimate websites such as Dogs Queensland or DogzOnline, where they are displayed as required by the Queensland Government.

Please see the Queensland Dog Breeder Fact Sheets for regulations and guidelines for Queensland Dog Breeders.

An example of a typical scam is:

- A Dogs Queensland Membership number is lifted from current advertising on the internet.
- The scammer researches and obtains personal details of the breeder including name, suburb, prefix.
- A domain name similar to the Kennel prefix is registered on an offshore registry.
- Once the breeder has ceased advertising the litter of puppies a new website is published.
- No physical address or phone numbers are advertised on the website.
- The seller avoids permitting you to physically see the cyber puppy and only sends non genuine pictures.
- The seller insists on only accepting payment by a crypto currency or a funds transfer.

As a breeder what can you do to avoid being an unknowing victim of a Puppy Scam:

- Regularly Google search the internet for websites using a similar Domain Name as your Prefix.
- Put a warning notification in your online advertising to alert buyers to check any website they are looking at is legitimate.
- Encourage puppy buyers to verify breeder information with Dogs Queensland and make direct in-person contact with you.
- Ensure puppy buyers check communications are made with verified contact details.
- Encourage puppy buyers to meet the puppy and breeder before handing over payments.

As a buyer what can you do to avoid being a victim of a Puppy Scam:

- Verify breeder information with Dogs Queensland.
- Ensure communications are made to verified contact details.
- Meet the puppy and breeder before handing over payments.
- If paying online, use a credit card or PayPal where you have a degree of buyer protection.
- Check website is an established site with a website security certificate.
- Avoid websites without physical address or phone numbers.
- Ask for proof, including ANKC registration papers and veterinary health records for any puppy.

Importantly you should report any suspect sites or advertising to the ACCC ScamWatch website. Please let us know about any suspect websites too by contacting Dogs Queensland on 3252 2661 or by email at info@dogsqueensland.org.au.

PARALYSIS TICKS

Tick Season is coming...

– Elisa McCutcheon
Chair, DQ Canine Health Committee

Paralysis ticks are one of the most serious tick hazards for dogs in Australia, especially for those residing or visiting coastal areas along the East Coast. Ixodes holocyclus (the eastern paralysis tick) is found along the Australian Eastern seaboard throughout the coastal areas of Queensland, through New South Wales and all the way down to Northern Victoria. In Queensland and Northern New South Wales, tick cases can still occur throughout the year.

The Eastern Paralysis Tick is one of the most toxic ticks in the world. The tick injects a powerful toxin while feeding. Envenomation may lead to weakness, breathing difficulty, paralysis and, in severe cases, death. Just one tick may be enough to cause fatal paralysis.

PREVENTION

If you live in a tick-prone area, dog(s) should be checked after bush walks, time in long grass or visits to areas frequented by wildlife. When walking your dog(s), keep your dog(s) on a lead, stay on the path and avoid long grass and wildlife areas altogether.

The best protection is prevention. There are reliable tick prevention products. Use as recommended by your veterinarian and apply or administer it in accordance with the directions provided. Daily tick checks are also important, especially around the head, ears, neck, lips, under the collar, between the toes and around the tail.

Knowing the signs, checking your dog(s) and using effective prevention all year round can greatly reduce the risk. However, preventive treatment is not 100% effective. Efficacy may be reduced towards the end of the period of coverage.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS

- Voice changes
- Wobbliness or weakness, often starting in the back legs
- Vomiting, retching or regurgitation
- Drooling or trouble swallowing
- Fast or laboured breathing
- Lethargy, collapse or inability to stand

WHAT TO DO IF YOU FIND A TICK

If you find a tick on your dog(s), remove it as quickly as possible and contact a veterinarian straight away for advice. Check your dog(s) carefully. Where there is one, there may be more.

After removal of a tick, symptoms can still appear or worsen over the next 24 to 36 hours, so a veterinary assessment is important. Symptoms can worsen quickly. If your dog shows any sign of breathing difficulty, increasing weakness or collapse, seek emergency veterinary treatment immediately.

TREATMENT

Since 1945, there has been a tick antiserum (TAS) available to treat tick poisoning. The tick antiserum works by mopping up the toxins that are circulating in the bloodstream of the dog(s) thereby relieving the symptoms to a point where hopefully the dog's immune system and other physiological coping mechanisms allow the dog(s) to recover. The earlier treatment is commenced, the better the prospects of recovery. In most cases, a tick clip will be recommended. If refused, it is highly likely that you will be required to sign a waiver.

Data from veterinary hospitals and clinics on the east coast of Australia indicates that approximately 50,000 dogs are taken to a vet each year for veterinary treatment for tick paralysis (Barker et al. unpublished data). The cost of treatment is very high and there is no guarantee of success. One in 10 of these 50,000 dogs (i.e. approximately 5,000 dogs) will not recover from tick paralysis or will die by euthanasia because the dog is unable to be saved.

The above figures are despite the availability of tick preventative products. In the absence of such products, the number of dogs affected and deaths would be far higher.

For those dogs that do recover from tick paralysis, there are often long-term effects. For example, the long QT syndrome (LQTS) which often leads to sudden and unexpected death sometime well after tick paralysis hospitalisation (Atwell & Campbell, 2008), cardiovascular sequela and other long-term side effects (Campbell 2002).

RISKS – SUPPLY OF TAS

One of the greatest ongoing risks for future treatment is a reliable supply of TAS. Due to drier weather conditions in late 2022 and early 2023, there were way fewer ticks in the environment. While this seems great, this affected the supply of ticks to manufacture the Tick Antiserum.

Patient receiving treatment.

Paralysis tick full of dog's blood.

So, when conditions became wetter and more favourable to ticks, there was a critical shortage of Tick Antiserum. Veterinary practices around the country could not buy the Tick Antiserum that they needed. Following crisis-meetings, in the end just enough Tick Antiserum was available in most parts of Queensland, and so only a small number of dogs died because of the lack of supply of the Tick Antiserum. A major crisis was averted, thankfully. But this shortage highlighted the precarious nature of the Tick Antiserum supply-chain in Queensland.

It seems inevitable that soon, another shortage of female paralysis ticks in the environment, and the subsequent shortage of Tick Antiserum will threaten the clinical treatment of dogs by veterinary practices along the east coast of Australia, particularly those in Queensland, New South Wales and Northern Victoria.

RESEARCH TO ENSURE SUPPLY OF TAS FOR AUSTRALIA

Dogs Queensland is currently funding important research by Professor Barker at the University of Queensland to ensure a reliable supply of critical tick antiserum around the country. Come along to our upcoming seminar to hear from Professor Barker (tick guru) about ticks and the research currently being conducted to save the lives of our precious dogs and about how you can best reduce the risk to your dogs.

Introducing a New Dog Sport to Australia: BALE SEEK

Dogs Australia is pleased to welcome this new dog sport to Australia. The name may be new, but a similar sport has been enjoyed in a few other countries over the past 10 to 14 years.

The conditions and code of ethics in Australia dictate that the rules and sport be different from its overseas origins, in the props used, classes offered, and non-live quarry/scent tubes.

The sport derives its roots from farm dogs ridding sheds and storage areas of vermin that damaged food. This involved searching, scenting and agility to access where the vermin hid. If a dog could not reach the vermin, it would alert its master to the location, and together they could remove the vermin.

The sport has been unofficially promoted for the past 3 years in Western Australia through fun practice days, led by Brigitte Walkey, who is a past judge in the related discipline of Barn Hunt in North America. Ms Walkey also titled 3 of her own dogs in that discipline.

We are pleased to note that Dogs Australia has appointed Ms Walkey to become the Chair of the National Bale Seek Working Party. This will unify and standardise the sport of Bale Seek across Australia. Currently, there are 6 states getting involved – WA, QLD, NSW, TAS, SA, and VIC.

The sport is open to all breed of dogs and Associate Registered dogs. The sport is held in a well fenced area and involves bales of straw or hay (7-9 bales in

If you have had the chance to watch this sport or participate, you know just how much fun the dogs are having! They get to use their best attribute – their noses! The scented tubes are hidden in strong PVC tubes that are lightly covered with loose straw so that neither the dog nor the handler can see them, yet the dog can smell them. Once the dog indicates the find (through touching the tube with their nose, pawing at it, staring, and /or vocalising) then the handler must call it so the judge may confirm it, or it might be an empty tube! That’s where training helps, so the dog and handler work as a team. The sport challenges the team to work together.

the Instinct level, and up to 50 bales in the Master level) set out in specific patterns that include a tunnel made of bales and support boards.

The novice class has a short, straight tunnel, but in the highest class, Master, the tunnel will contain 3-4 turns! The amount of hidden PVC tubes varies per class, from 3 tubes in Novice to 8 tubes in Master.

The Locker Valley Dog Training Club recently hosted practice sessions over 2 days at the Laidley showgrounds. Many different breeds and sizes of dogs, tunneled, climbed and sniffed their way around the course to locate the hidden tube and indicate to their handlers where the “quarry” was hidden. Some dogs quickly tapped into their natural instinct, while other needed a little bit of help and encouragement.

There are titles to be earned in 6 regular classes and Veteran classes, plus an unofficial, fast paced class called Super Seven Snuffle.

WA is leading the way with training Foundation Judges. Other states are not far behind because last year Ms Walkey already visited TAS, NSW, and QLD to promote Bale Seek through fun practise days. There is a huge interest in participation and welcoming this new sport officially across Australia. We hope you and your dog will come join the fun at the next Bale Seek event.

For further information, follow the Facebook page, Bale Seek Queensland. The official rules can be found on the Dogs Australia website.
